Along the way home when we entered the United States, the girls would yell and sing. When we entered Kentucky, they sang, "My Old Kentucky Home" and in Nicholas County they started singing again. The biggest cheers came when we entered Carlisle. Everyone gave cheers to get home.

Everyone had a good time while they were gone. We might not have had such a good trip if it hadn't been for Mr. Davis helping in getting our reservations at the hotels and for our two guides, Mr. Charles Wilson and Miss Nancy Talbert, who showed us a good time.

Early in the morning when everyone was dull and sleepy, Mr. Wilson was the same "Cheerful" for always being in a bright and sparkling mood

My junior trip

By Charles Vice

We started making money for the trip the first of school. We had a school store and food sales, chili suppers and an ice cream supper to get the money.

Now, it was time to go. On Wednesday morning at 7:30 May 1, we started out. We went to Canton, Ohio the first night. There we were in town and there were two theaters on the same block. I went to one. I went to bed about two o'clock but didn't leave the room after we were taped in.

The next morning we had breakfast and were on our way again at eight o'clock. We went to Niagara that day. We had to stop for a couple of rest periods. We ate supper, then sat around and talked and shot firecrackers until about 11:30. Then we were taped in again. That night we were good boys and stayed right there.

The third day we went on a tour. We took an elevator down behind the Falls. We saw a lot more interesting things. We took a ride in the cable car across the Niagara River. We saw the pictures of five men and one woman who tried to go over the Falls in barrels. The first was a woman who lived. There were two men who made it and then there were three men who didn't make it. One of the men that went over had nothing found but an arm.

That night we saw the falls and they were all lit up. The third day we went to Windsor, Canada. We had a good hotel room with television, telephone, and all the other necessities. We went to bed that night about 1:30, but we never broke the tape which Mr. Wilson put on our doors.

The next morning we had to get up about ten till seven which was a little unusual. We came all the way home that night and arrived in Carlisle about 6:30 that night.

'Renewal' plan recommended for pruning

All flowering shrubs should be pruned soon after they have finished blooming.

That is a general rule which every home owner would do well to follow, says N. R. Elliott, professor of landscape horticulture at the University of Kentucky. Such a plan encourages new growth. foliage is fuller, there is more and better bloom, and the natural shape of the plant is never destroyed, says Elliott.

He recommends the following renewal plan by which a shrub will have an entirely new top every four to five years.

Within two inches of the ground or the crown of the plant, cut, out about one-fourth to one-third of the old, dark brown or black canes. Carefully work the canes through the top of the plant without injuring other branches.

By following this simple plan, the canes are not too large for easy removal, and there will never be an unattractive period when the shrub looks "butchered," with stubby stem-ends.

All varieties of spirea and forsythia, mock orange, weigela, beauty-bush and beauty-berry are some of the flowering shrubs popular in Kentucky, and all may be successfully pruned in this way, Elliott said.

"Shrubs pruned correctly will last from 15 to 25 years, the older they get the better looking they become," said Mr. Elliott.

New Castle in Henry county is the third oldest incorporated town in the State. Many old houses border the quiet streets radiating from the public square.

Hospital week May 12-18, 1957

Doris Cloyd, Administrator of the Nicholas County hospital, said today that the total hospital personnel in the nation increased 57% in the past ten years while the number of hospital beds rose only 12%. Nicholas County hospital has joined with others throughout the United States and Canada in observing National Hospital Week by attempting to interest others in the community in hospital careers. The theme of the week, sponsored annually by the American Hospital Association, is "Careers That Count."

Although nursing is one area in which many personnel are needed, a wide variety of positions in addition to nursing are open to young people today, Miss Cloyd said. She pointed out that about 200 job classifications exist in the largest hospitals, and added that Nicholas County hospital has employees in 15 classifications. Information programs about hospital careers will be held throughout the community during National Hospital Week.

The medical staff at Nicholas County hospital also urge local attention to efforts to arouse interest in hospital careers. Modern science has made great advances in the prevention, control and cure of diseases and disabilities. Medical progress means hospital progress, and this progress requires new tests, new treatments, new equipment, and, of course, additional personnel with new skills to make these services available.

There are about 7,000 hospitals in the U. S., which last

Former resident's mother in Arkansas tornado Monday

Donald Pair of Louisville, formerly of Carlisle, was called to Conway, Ark. Tuesday morning to be with his invalid mother, Mrs. E. H. Fair, whose home was de-roofed early Monday evening during a tornado. Mrs. Fair was not injured, but suffered severe shock.

It was also reported that her son-in-law, who went to the garage during the storm was critically injured when the garage roof fell in on him.

Mrs. Fair of Louisville, the former Helen Keen Veach, called her sister, Mrs. Keller Hughes, informing her of the incident Tuesday morning.

Carlisle P.T.A. evaluates program

The Carlisle P.T.A. held its last meeting of the year on May 8 with Mrs. Thomas Johnson presiding and Mrs. Jim Clink enbeard giving the devotional.

The program, "Evaluation of the Year's Activities," was a recounting of achievements and the following list of activities carried out by the organization during the 1956-57 school year was read and evaluated:

1 Year books were published for the first time.

2 Membership was increased 116% with 43% of the families of school children having membership in the PTA.

3 Support of the lunch program was encouraged through church organizations.

4 Served as Charter organization for Cub Scouts in Carlisle and sponsored one Brownie troop of Girl Scouts.

5 Supported efforts of the juniors and seniors to finance their spring trip through the annual Halloween Carnival.

6 Assisted the school administration with the school-insurance program as a safety measure.

7 Sponsored an audio-testing program throughout the grade school.

8 Furnished workbooks, supplies and shoes for indigent grade children.

Local churches benefit from Eldredge estate

Cleary Fightmaster, administrator of the estate of the late Samuel J. Eldredge, who died in October 1955, announced today that the following bequests have been delivered.

Cemetery Gets $1,000
After all just debts and a $1000 check given to the Carlisle cemetery for up-keep of his lot, four churches received the remainder of the benefits.

Valued At $12,000
The estate was valued at some $12,000. The Myers Christian church of which he was a member, received $5,562.31 one-half of the residue, and the other half—checks of $1,854.10. each were presented to the Carlisle Christian church, the Carlisle Baptist church, and the Jackson Christian church.

Was An Orphan
Mr. Eldredge was an orphan, with no survivors. He came to Carlisle from an Orphan's Home when a small lad, and made his home with the Brierly family in the county, until he was 18 years of age. He lived in Paris and returned to Carlisle after his wife died, and purchased a home in Liberty Heights, where he was living when he died from a heart attack. He was a carpenter by trade.

Dr. Couey guest speaker Sunday at Baptist church

Dr. Ralph Couey, former pastor of the Carlisle Baptist church, will be the guest speaker Sunday morning as the Baptist Church observes a "Church Membership Loyalty Day." Special recognition will be given to all who have been members 20 years and longer.

Mr. Couey is now pastor of the First Baptist Church, Carrollton. He was pastor in Carlisle from 1933 to 1940.
