Muskie five loses first game

by Sterling (Butch) Saunders

The Carlisle Musketeers open their 57-58 basketball campaign with a loss to the North Middletown Kings by a score of 31 to 58. The Muskies had only four days of practice before the game while the North Middletown five have had a few weeks of official practice. The small amount of practice was evident in the fact that Carlisle couldn't seem to find the range of the basket, but this disadvantage should disappear as the season wears on.

Due to a change of the rules watch says, the Muskies had one number on the players uniform should exceed five, there was a jumping jump to start the game. The Kings used an ideal number and as a result the Muskees captain "Chuck" Vice made a foul shot and Carlisle took the ball out to start the game. The Kings used a zone defense which was very effective on the small floor. Carlisle used a man to man defense which is effective on a small floor but not quite as good as the zone in some cases. North Middletown grabed an early lead and continued to increase it through out the game. The Muskies scores at the end of each quarter were: Muskies 9, Kings 18, second quarter Muskies 20, Kings 31, third quarter Muskies 29, Kings 44, and the final score, Muskies 31, Kings 45.

The starting line-up for Carlisle was Chuck Vice and Bill Straw at forwards, Asburry McGuffy and Oliver Smart at guards, and Leroy Hawkins at center. High point man for Carlisle was Vice with 12 points. Straw was next with 8 points, then came Wilson with 5, McGuffy bit for 4, and Smart tallied 2. Hawkins and Kennett faded to break into the scoring column.

Read and Clark both hit for 18 points to share high point honors for North Middletown. Crump was next with 11 points, Garlison got 4 Elam, Steele and Galloway all made 2 points and Westfall got 1. Baron and Martin failed to score.

Some people get flu phobia

B. F. Reynolds, M.D., Health officer of the Nicholas County Health Department urges citizens not to become overly alarmed about Asian influenza. "Some people seem to have what might be called 'Asian Flu Phobia'. They have lost sight of the facts about Asian flu and have allowed themselves to become terrified by it," Dr. Reynolds said.

Even though influenza has reached epidemic proportions in some parts of Kentucky, the death rate throughout the nation has been very low. Most deaths have been caused by other diseases such as pneumonia, which may follow the influenza attack.

With medical attention and good home care such complications usually can be avoided and the disease ordinarily will last only from three to five days," Dr. Reynolds added.

Asian influenza is little different from other forms of influenza. Like other forms of influenza it is characterized by rapid onset, drowsiness, aching muscles and fever. But because it is a slightly different strain from ones we have all been exposed to in past years, we do not have a natural immunity to it.

"Much of the public alarm over this particular strain of influenza may be the result of its name, Asian, which perhaps implies something mysterious and dangerous to some folks," Dr. Reynolds observed. "But it has been in this country since about the first of June, and we should all realize that it is no worse than other home-grown varieties of influenza." As in the case of many other diseases the name is derived from the place it was first detected. The current epidemic was first reported in Hong Kong and Singapore in April, 1957 and soon spread to Taiwan, the Philippines, the Malayan States, Japan, India and other areas.
