CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The ever-present power of the Christ, Truth, to heal sickness and to destroy discord will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality" will include the following from Luke 13:13-13): "And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (142:31): "Truth is God's remedy for error of every kind, and Truth destroys only that is untrue. Hence the fact that, to-day, as yesterday, Christ casts out evils and heals the sick."

son received a good block as he came around end and moved up to the Carlisle 44 yd. line. Then he made another long run which carried to the Lancaster 36 before he was hauled down. Three line plays gave the Muskies a first down on the Lancaster 26. On the next play a nice run by Hawkins was offset by a clipping penalty which took place backup the field. This placed the ball down on the Lancaster 26. At this point Lancaster received a big break when they recovered a Muskie fumble which probably prevented another Carlisle T.D. Lancaster took possession and marched up the field for a first down on the 23. Their drive was brought to a screeching halt, however, as the Muskies line out charged the Lancaster team, forcing them to punt. The kick bounced out of bounds on the 50 where Carlisle took over. The Muskies ran the clock out with three line plays and a kick. The game ended before Lancaster could run a play. The final score was Carlisle 13 Lancaster 0.

The Muskies meet the M.M.I. Cadets here Friday, Oct. 4, in what promises to be a good game.

Governor will dedicate plant at Cynthiana

Frankfort, Oct. 2—Kentucky will dedicate another new million-dollar factory Oct. 10

Gov. A. B. Chandler will welcome the industry, the Kentucky Screw Division of the Blake and Johnson Co., to the State at the firm's new plant site at Cynthiana.

The governor will present a top official of the Waterbury, Conn., firm an official Commonwealth flag. This is a custom initiated by Chandler to recognize firms that locate new installations in Kentucky.

Cynthiana Mayor Sterling P. Owen and the company have invited more than 200 industrialists, business men, chamber of commerce officers, civic club leaders and State officials to attend a luncheon following the public ceremonies at the plant.

Blake and Johnson, founded in 1849, has specialized since then in the manufacture of machine screws and nuts, stove bolts, wood screws, screw machine products, rivets, washers, threaded wires and a great variety of parts made from wire and rod. The Kentucky Division at Cynthiana has begun operations, manufacturing screws.

Fall vegetables compine in menus

The generous assortment of fall vegetables now available make vegetablepalate menus easy to plan and prepare. The use of eggs, milk, cheese, bacon, nuts or even a little meat will make a more satisfying and flavorful meal for lunch or supper, suggests UK food specialists.

Here are some recommended combinations:

Vegetable chowder, congealed perfection salad, toasted cheese sandwiches; potatoes in cream sauce, carrot ring with green beans, cabbage salad, gingerbread and milk, baked potatoes, creamed eggs on toast, buttered beets, celery sticks, apple sauce and cookies; scalloped cabbage with cheese, acorn squash, green beans, corn sticks and butter; vegetable-nut loaf, mashed turnips, spinach with crisp bacon, muffins, butter and milk.

UK RADIO PROGRAMS

Specialists from the Agricultural Extension Service at the University of Kentucky may be heard daily on the Bob Ford radio program on timely subjects of interest to farmers and homemakers. Scheduled are:

Miss Arinne Johnson, "Washing Wool Blankets," Oct. 4, and Grady Sellards and L. A. Vernes, Feeder Pig Production and Sales in Kentucky," Oct. 5.

An ordinary 2-inch paint brush is handy for dusting book tops, carvings, window sills and the like.

COMMENT

If you have a son or daughter you might like to clip this out and save it. In fact I think everyone should read it often.—K.T.F.

Linda Westerfield on Pleasing Dear Boy.

The art of pleasing is a very necessary one to possess but a very difficult one to acquire. It can hardly be reduced to rules, and your own good sense and observation will teach you more of it than I can. Do as you would be done by, is the surest method that I know of pleasing. Observe carefully what pleases you in others and probably the same things in you will please others. If you are pleased with the complaisance and attention of others to your humours, your tastes, or your weaknesses, depend upon it, the same complaisance and attention on your part, to theirs, will equally please them. Take the tone of the company, that you are in, and do not pretend to give it, be serious, gay, or even trifling as you find the present humour of the company; this is an attention due from every individual to the majority. Do not tell stories in company; there is nothing more tedious and disagreeable, if by chance you know a very short story, and exceedingly applicable to the present subject of conversation, tell it in as few words as possible, and even then, throw out that you do not love to tell stories, but that the shortness of it tempted you. Of all things, banish the egotism out of your conversation, and never think of entertaining people with your own personal concerns, or private affairs; though they are interesting to you, they are tedious and impertinent to every body else, besides that, one cannot keep one's own private affairs too secret. Whatever you think your own excellencies may be, do not affectedly display them in company, nor labour, as many people do, to give that turn to the conversation, which may supply you with an opportunity of exhibiting them. If they are real, they will infallibly be discovered, without your pointing them out yourself, and with much more advantage. Never maintain an argument with heat and clamour, though you think or know yourself to be in the right, but give your opinion modestly and coolly, which is the only way to convince, and if that does not do, try to change the conversation, by saying, with good humour, "We shall hardly convince one another, nor is it necessary that we should, so let us talk of something else."—From "Letters to His Son," by Philip Dormer Stanhope Earl of Chesterfield 1694-1773).

Carlisle F.H.A. News

Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 25 the Carlisle F.H.A. met in the Home Economics department after school. The meeting was called to discuss the Fair. After Emma L. George, president, led the members in the opening rituals, Miss Hudnall opened the discussion on the fair.

She explained several details which were not clear to the members and answered questions. Then the members volunteered to work at the fair.

After all discussion on the fair was finished, plans were made to help the Red Cross by contributing to the clothing drive. A committee was set up to receive the clothing. The members are Judy Galbraith, Kay Conley and Mary G. Feeback.

Plans were made to attend the District F.H.A. meeting which is to be held at Minerva high school, Oct. 12.

The club then elected the chapter mothers and chapter brother. They are Mrs. Robert George and Mrs. H. C. Galbraith. The chapter brother is Kelley Kinnett. After the elections the meeting was adjourned.

Lost River Cave, near Bowling Green, got its name because of the short deep stream that starts 350 feet above the mouth of a rock chamber, tumbles in a waterfall at its entrance, then disappears entirely.
