A LITTLE YAPPIN'

Just a Little Nosey.

Barely mentioned the fact last week that it would be interesting to know how many would attend the revival services at Germantown Sunday who were there 50 years ago. The Rev. E. R. Overley was the speaker at both these services. Well, Rev. and Mrs. Gwinn Hierley of Carlisle Methodist Church went after Sunday School—got there in time for dinner—and he tells me that question was asked and 25 people raised their hands.

Rev. Overley has been booked to conduct the 1958 fall revival of the Carlisle Methodist Church.

Two people have told me there was a little bit of "very fine soft snow" mingled with the rain Thursday. "Very fine," huh!

Push, but Don't Shove!

There must have been a first-class whamdoodle of a crowd Monday at Mt. Sterling's October "Court Day." Have understood "there is always room for one more" but I saw a bunch at noon that had gotten as far as Carlisle on their way home before getting any lunch! "Everybody and his dog was there," one person said.

A "Poke" of Papers.

Last week this column asked who put the package of old Mercurys and Democrats on my desk. In a few hours Mrs. O. C. Clay called to say she was guilty one. Thank you Mrs. Clay for some copies as far back as 1901 and, believe it or not, that was a few years before my head-long plunge into the newspaper business. And that wasn't all—there was a copy of the Nicholas County Courier of April 27, 1901, "published every Friday at Carlisle" by Wyatt M. Insko, editor and proprietor.

Many of the papers are too fragile to bear even the slightest handling. Some of The Mercurys are all in one large sheet; such serial stories as "The Thirteenth Commandment" by Rupert Hughes, and "The Valley of the Giants" by Peter B. Kyne were

The HUNGRY SPORTSMAN By Eddie Meier

ROAST GOOSE BACON STUFFING

You're a prize, indeed, in a Canadian honker and there is no better way of preparing this regal bird than by roasting. Stuff it with bacon dressing and you'll serve a dish that will be truly memorable!

Cook the liver in water with 1 bay leaf for 20 minutes, then chop. Meanwhile fry ½ lb. bacon to a light brown and crumble. Soften 10 slices of stale bread with ½ cup milk, add liver and bacon, ½ cup chopped celery, ¼ cup chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning and ¼ teaspoon thyme.

Stuff goose and roast 25 minutes per pound, the first 30 minutes in a hot oven (425 degrees) and the remainder of the time in a moderate oven (350 degrees).

RABBIT CURRY

Two wild rabbits (or about 3½ lbs. of domestic rabbit meat) are needed for this rabbit curry, which calls for a minimum of seasoning to impart the curry flavoring but not dominate the dish. You can, of course, double or even triple the amount of curry powder used, if you so desire.

Soak rabbits in salt water for an hour, then cut into serving pieces and stew until tender in water to cover along with 1½ teaspoons salt, 5 carrots sliced, 3 ribs celery (including tops) and ½ lemon sliced.

Melt 4 tablespoons butter in skillet and saute 1-3 cup chopped onions until transparent. Remove onions and in remaining butter make a roux with 3 tablespoons flour, ¾ teaspoon curry powder and ½ teaspoon dry mustard. Gradually add 2 cups of the liquid in which rabbits were cooked, stirring until smooth, then 1 cup sour cream and finally the sauteed onions. Heat thoroughly.

Spread 3 cups cooked rice on deep platter, cover with cooked

It was there I also had the privilege of seeing Irene Castle and a few others whose names I can't recall to save my life, but I did "get around" in those days.

C.H.S. News

by Judy Galbraith

Well here I am again this week to tell you of all the happenings of last week. As you may know I'm still very excited over being the Football Queen. I really was pleased, as were Harriet and Diane, the attendents.

The School Patrol did a very fine job again this week of praking the cars and getting them out of the field. They really know their business.

The students, teachers and the line, the dividing mark between the North and South. Thought you might be interested in this gem for the day.

GOVERNORS' SALARY:

Question comes to us on the salary of various state governors. Ours is paid $15,000, plus a few benefits.

But the legislative research people here in Washington come up with a $50,000 top salary paid the governor of New York and $30,000 paid the chief of New Jersey. Others in the upper bracket include—at $25,000 a year, the governors of California, Maryland, Missouri, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.

Paul says that we are fellow workmen for God. God works through us when we dedicate ourselves completely to Him.

The early church started in homes. One of the ways we may work with God is to be ready to transform our homes into "preaching tents". Some years ago I met a certain lady in a church. She was complaining that it took her four hours to go to and from church. She had moved to another Village where no church was established.

I suggested to her that her home could be the nucleus of a new church in the village where she lived. A few weeks later I led the first service in the living room of her home. A few months later the garage was made into a sanctuary. Within one year property was secured. Today in that village there is a lively congregation, a sanctuary, and a parsonage. All started in that home.

PRAYER

Our heavenly Father, we want to be Thy fellow workmen. Teach us to be faithful servants of Thine. Help us to use our homes as instruments of Thy grace in the building of Thy kingdom. In the Saviour's name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Are we ready to work with God through our homes, for the spreading of the kingdom of God?"

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

SHE'S GONE:

The Queen of England and Prince Philip have come and gone and the social side of Washington is descending from Cloud Nine.

The State Department dismissed 6 Kentucky lawmakers, as well as others, a list of do's and do not's in the presence of their royal majesties.

You may smoke in their presence, you must have gloves on when shaking hands, you need not curtsy, and the Queen does not like black dresses on women! You are now ready in case Liz and Phil drop in for a cup of coffee.

CURSES:

You may look into the sky and shake your fist and curse at the Russian satellite. It's the opinion of Kentucky lawmakers who help write the tax bills that Sputnik will prevent a tax decrease next year. People—including congressmen—are emotional about it.

We are inclined to agree with the conclusion—unless we get a satellite moon into the sky by the time our law givers take up tax matters.

MASON-DIXON LINE:

We Kentuckians often think of the Ohio River as the Mason-Dixon line.

We uncovered some facts and figures on that matter the other day. Actually, the Mason-Dixon line runs westward only to the Ohio River, and not along its borders.

Tradition, however, accepts the river as the continuation of Security benefits passed up by Kentuckians

Eligible farmers in Kentucky are passing up a good thing in the U. S. Social Security system by not checking into benefits of the program, says Jack Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service.

For instance, an eligible farmer or partner retiring from landlord who does NOT make Social Security tax returns is: Failing to provide payments of up to $200 a month for his family in case of his death at any age; not guaranteeing for himself payments of up to $108-.50 per month in event of his total disability between 50 and 65 years of age; and payments of up to $162.80 a month for worker and wife in case of retirement or old age; and not guaranteeing payments of up to $200 a month for himself and dependents upon reaching his retirement age.

This lack of understanding, say Extension specialists, applies to about 44 percent of the farmers in Kentucky of retirement age. Participation by all eligible farmers in the state would bring in about 29 million dollars annually here.

Under the Social Security law, too, farmers who earn $400 or more per year are Required by law to make Social Security tax payments that provide them the benefits of social security.

Look of the future on newest highways calls for concrete.

The highway ride of 1975 is here!

New-type, sound-conditioned concrete for your new Interstate System of super-roads

There's not a "thump" to be heard when you drive this continuous-laid concrete. Almost like riding along the pavement, instead of on it. You'll say this new-type concrete gives you the smoothest, most quiet ride ever.

It's laid without interrupting joints. Then only the tiniest cushion spaces are sawed into the surface. You never feel or hear them. Freezing, thawing and de-icers can't hurt new-type concrete. What's more, it's laid flat . . . stays flat . . . serves 50 years and more.

Sound reasons why new-type concrete is the preferred pavement for the new Interstate System.

Built to cost Kentucky taxpayers less

Only concrete can be engineered to match expected traffic loads, serve 50 years and more, the first cost is moderate. New-type concrete needs no maintenance . . . which will be up to 60% less than for asphalt.
