Deaths

Mrs. Clifton Fryman

Mrs. Rhoda Adamson Fryman, 41, wife of Clifton Fryman of the Scrub Grass road, died at the entrance of the Nicholas County hospital at 4 a.m. Monday, after being taken seriously ill earlier in the night at the home. She had been in failing health and submitted to a serious operation this spring. She was a native of Robertson county, the daughter of the late John Adamson and Mrs. Myrtle Dotson Adamson of Mt. Olivet, and a member of the Oakland Mills Methodist Church.

Besides her husband and mother, she is survived by a son, Myron Charles Fryman, of the home, and three daughters, Mrs. Lester Clark of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Thomas McCarty, Paris, and Caroline Faye Fryman, of the home, and one brother, Derb Adamson, Mt. Olivet.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Mathers-Shearer chapel by Rev. Tommy Fryman, and burial was in the Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Casket bearers were Clay Linville, Hugh Linville, Forrest Linville Nelson Fryman, Thomas McCarty and Leonard Clark.

James Irvin Perkins

Word has been received here of the death of James Irvin Perkins, 44, of Chicago, who died Tuesday afternoon, having been ill since January.

He was a native of Nicholas County, son of Will Perkins and Katherine Irvin Perkins.

Several years ago the family moved to Lebanon, Ind., where Mr. Perkins married the former Miss Sybil Burgess.

Besides his wife, he is survived by his mother and one son, Charles.

The funeral will be in Lebanon, probably Thursday.

Mr. Perkins was vice-president of the Amalgated Insurance Company and a nephew of Dr. W. G. Irvin and Howard Irvin of Carlisle and Mrs. Lucy Blount of Lexington.

The following local relatives will attend the funeral: Dr. W. G. Irvin, Howard Irvin, Carlisle, and John Irvin, Mrs. Lucy Blount and Mrs. Raymond Lawrence, of Lexington.

Mrs. Ed Lee Cooper

Mrs. Etna Frances Jolly Cooper, 59, wife of Ed Lee Cooper, died at the home on the East Union road at 4 a.m. Thursday, following a three weeks illness. She was a native of Fleming county, but spent most of her life in this county, and was a member of the Jacktown Christian Church.

Besides her husband she is survived by six daughters, Mrs. George Smart, Mrs. William Glass and Mrs. Earl Prather of Carlisle; Mrs. James Howard, Bourboi county, Miss Edwin Cooper, Carlisle and Miss Mildred Cooper, Lexington; three sons, Robert and Calvin Cooper, Carlisle, and A. C. Cooper, Lagrange; one step-son, Malcolm Cooper, Lafayette, Ind.; five brothers, George, Estill and Elmer Jolly, Nicholas County; Ernest Jolly, Fleming county, Herman Jolly, Harrison county; two sisters, Mrs. Marion Hillard, Lexington, and Mrs. Tony Mitchell, Carlisle, and 18 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday, at the Mathers-Shearer chapel, conducted by Rev. Curtis Jones, and burial was in the Carlisle cemetery. Pallbearers were Julian Lee, Junis Jolly, Ollie Mitchell, Walter Mitchell, Herman Junior Jolly, and Raymond Jolly.

Floyd H. Dixon

Floyd H. Dixon, 66, Carlisle, a retired grocer died at 4:40 p.m. last Wednesday at the Central Baptist hospital, Lexington, after a four months' illness. A native of Bath, he was a son of the late Charles and Mary Reed Dixon, and was a member of the Christian Church. He was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Nicholas County Post of the American Legion.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alma Waugh Dixon; one son, Charles Dixon, Lawrenceburg; two daughters, Mrs. Jack Simmons, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Mrs. M. Brisbane, Bristol, Tenn.; one brother, Jack Dixon, Paris; two sisters, Mrs. George Arnold, Paris, and Miss Emma Dixon, Portsmouth, Ohio, and one granddaughter, Leanna Dixon.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Friday, at the Mathers-Shearer chapel, conducted by Rev. L. E. Kineman. Burial in Carlisle cemetery. Pallbearers were Powell and Eugene Neal, Allen Smith, Clyde, Marvin and Charles Sexton.

Henry Shields

Henry Shields, 81, retired farmer of the Moorefield section, died at 7:30 o'clock Friday night at the Nicholas County hospital after a month's illness. He was a member of the Mt. Zion Christian Church. His wife Rosa Ann Johnson Shields died in January, 1956.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. W. O. Reid, Moorefield; a brother, John Shields, Nicholas County, and five grandchildren.

The body was removed to the Mathers-Shearer funeral chapel where services were held at 1 p.m. Monday by Rev. Burl Wagoner of Sharpsburg. Burial was in the Carlile's cemetery. Pallbearers were James E. Reid, Frank Weaver, Herman Vice, Joe Allen Stone, Earl Finch, and W. J. Clark.

Wesley-Bacon Vows Said

The First Methodist Church, Somerset, presented a setting of reverent dignity and beauty when the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Anne Wesley and Mr. Barry Winston Bacon, of Bardstown, Ky., was solemnized at half past four Sunday afternoon. The double ring service was read by the bride's father, Rev. Ralph Wesley, with her brother, the Rev. Rue Wesley, participating.

The vows were exchanged before the elevated communion table, which was covered with a formal maroon and gold altar cover and furnished with cross and altar candle holders of Sudbury brass; a sterling silver communion goblet and plate were in place on the table, and the ceremony was climaxed by the serving of The Holy Communion to the bride and groom. As they knelt before the altar, the organist played softly "Master, Let Me Walk With Thee," and the hymn of dedication, "I'll Walk With God," was sung by the Rev. Rue Wesley.

The background decorations were composed of palms and huckleberry greens with large baskets of white gladioli and baby chrysanthemums. The chancel and choir rail were covered with white, draped with garlands of English ivy. Cathedral tapers in wrought iron candelabra and the altar candles were the only lights used. The family pews were marked with clusters of baby chrysanthemums tied with white satin bows.

A program of nuptial music preceded the ceremony, presented by Misses Margie Salmon, Chebeygan, Mich., organist; Jane Squires, Greensburg, Ky., violinist; and Jane Robbins, Pennington Gap, Va., pianist. The Rev. Rue Wesley sang "The Lord's Prayer." The numbers used were personally selected by the bride from a repertoire of religious bridal music. The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in candlelight antique taffeta with a princess line bodice and bouffant skirt tapering in folds and extending to a chapel train. The off-shoulder neckline with encircling scallops was embroidered in silk with inserts of imported French illusion. Long sleeves ended in cuffs points at the wrist. Her finger-tip veil of French illusion fell from a bonnet of matching taffeta embroidered with seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and tuberoses centered with a white orchid and tied with candlelight satin streamers.

Miss Margaret Wesley, sister of the bride, was the maid-of-honor; Mrs. Rue Wesley, Hillsboro, N. C., sister-in-law of the bride, was a matron-of-honor; bridesmaids were Miss Johanna Shoopman, Somerset, cousin of the bride, and Miss Beverly Clark Corbin They were gowned in fashioned alike of coralberry crystallette. The very full ballerina-length skirts were attached to a fitted bodice designed with rows of bittersweet velvet ribbon and a scalloped neckline coming to a low V in the back. They wore bandeaux in their hair of matching bittersweet velvet and circular veils of coralberry tulle. Their cascade bouquets were fashioned of white Fuji mums, carnations and asparagus fern with satin cascade delight streamers.

Jane Wild, Nicholasville, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed in a long white organdy frock with ruffled eyelet embroidered organdy aprons and carried a small basket trimmed with bittersweet velvet streamers and filled with white rose petals.

Randy Bacon, Barbourville, was his brother's best man. Ushers were Mack Clifton and Bill Ray Baker both of Cincinnati, and Bill Ball, Don Buchanan and Bob Buchanan all of Barbourville.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wesley wore a powder-blue lace sheath over taffeta with an empire waistline and tiered back panel. A shell-pink glamelia corsage and matching powder-blue accessories completed the costume.

Mrs. Bacon, the groom's mother, wore an amethyst original design of imported hand-loomed silk. A matching feather hat, accessories and purple orchid completed her costume.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained with a reception at their home on East Mount Vernon street, Somerset. Various arrangements of garden flowers were used throughout the house. The mantel was decorated with the shaped arrangement of roses, gladioli and asters in shades of pink, magnolia and clusters of pink tapers placed before the mirror.

Miss Betty Thurman kept the bride's book arranged on a table covered with a linen cloth. Featured on the table was a tiered wedding cake.

The bride's table was covered with an imported, embroidered linen cloth. A beautifully decorated four tiered, white and silver wedding cake encircled with white roses, asters, maline, and clusters of silver and white wedding bells tied with white satin bows formed the centerpiece for the table. A background banked to enhance the wedding cake a colonial wedding bouquet arrangement of white roses, asters, gladioli and magnolia was used. One end of the table featured a crystal punch bowl with floating white blossoms at the opposite end, a tall, seven-branch antique silver candelabra with lighted white tapers. Tall wrought iron baskets of white gladioli formed a background for the entire bride's table.

Assisting in entertaining and receiving were Mrs. A. V. Mattox, Mrs. Robert Johnson, and Miss Janice Holtzclaw, Corbin; Mrs. Shannon Sloane, Birmingham, Alabama; Miss Gwen Earle, Marion of the court; Statesville, N. C.; Miss Sue Ann Shoopman, Somerset, cousin of the bride; Misses Marlene Hamm, Jane Ledford and Carolyn Hughes, and Mrs. Neylee Shoopman, Somerset, Mrs. Raymond Wesley, Carlisle, aunts of the bride. Receiving with the Rev. and Mrs. Wesley were Mrs. J. R. Bacon and the late Mr. J. R. Bacon, coach of Union College.

A bushel of peaches will be enough for about 36 to 48 pints of frozen peaches.

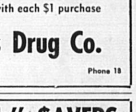
NEAL'S "Dough" $AVERS



Pa Sez:

The men who "loaf" end up in the bread line with no "dough"

And the best place to shop for the "Makings" of these home cooked meals is right here where prices are reasonable and quality is high. We know you'll agree, just as most "food shoppers" in our community do, if you make our store your " meal headquarters".

NEAL'S has a nice gift for this lady if she will come to the store by noon Saturday, Sept. 7.
