Say you saw it in The Mercury

The proportion of working women, ages 45 to 54 years, doubled between 1940 and 1956. There were increases also in the 10-year age-groups preceding and following those years. However, in the 20-24-age group, the reverse was true, possibly the result of high marriage rates, early marriages, high birth rates and increased college enrollments.

Say You Saw It In The Mercury

NOTICE IS hereby given that a meeting of the members of Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association of Lexington, Kentucky, residing in Nicholas County, Kentucky, will be held at the Court House at Carlisle, Kentucky at 2 o'clock P.M. Do you know it takes 625 steps to take out and bring in an average load of clothes . . . including stair-climbing, the hardest steps of all? But with an electric clothes dryer, you need only three: pop in the clothes, set the dial—and take them out soft and fluffy. And you do it right in your own utility room or basement . . . right through rain, sleet, hot or cold weather.

Electric clothes drying is the quick, modern way. It's safe and clean, too . . . and so much gentler for your clothes.

Take the first step now by stopping in at your dealer.

Plan adequate counter space with built-ins

Lexington, Ky.—Unless the kitchen with built-in wall equipment is very well planned, the new home owner may find that she is short of counter space and storage cabinets, or that they are too small for efficient use.

The warning comes from Mrs. Gladys M. Lickert, Extension housing specialist at the University of Kentucky, who explained that wall units, such as a built-in oven or horizontal refrigerator-freezer, will take much of the space that might have been used for cabinets and work surfaces. To provide for these needs adequately, a larger kitchen may be required than when free-standing pieces are used.

A free-standing range, for example, varies from 30 to 40 inches of wall space, while the built-in oven and surface units individually used, will total more than twice those amounts.

The recommended area required for wall cabinets will vary from 24 to 42 square feet, depending on the size of the family. Base cabinets, topped with work counters, will require a total of from 8 to 10 running feet, the latter being advisable if there are six or more persons in the family.

Planning for work surfaces of useable size should be considered at the same time the arrangement of equipment is planned, Mrs. Lickert recommends placing the built-in oven at the end of the assembly line of work surfaces, rather than in the center, thus avoiding broken-up counter space.

She recommends also that there should be a work surface at least 3 feet long next to the refrigerator for food preparation, and a 2-foot space near the range. On either side of the sink, a space of at least 1½ to 2 feet should be provided.

Mrs. Lickert pointed out that a built-in refrigerator-freezer may take up space above a counter that is needed for cabinet space. A vertical free-standing refrigerator freezer will take less wall space, she said, and many models are equally convenient.

Recipe of the Week

Beef chuck is not only one of the best buys in meat, but it is also one of the most flavorful when it is well prepared. Being a tough cut, it must be tenderized with long slow moist cooking, as in a pot roast, or put through the grinder.

Food specialists at the University of Kentucky have made use of the latter method in this recipe.

Beef Quickie

1 1/3 c uncooked rice
1 lb chuck beef, ground
1 T shortening
1 t salt
1/2 c chopped onion
1/2 c chopped green pepper
31/2 c tomatoes
1/8 t pepper

While the rice is cooking (will make 1 cup), brown the ground beef in the fat, stirring it occasionally over medium heat. When well browned, add onion and green pepper for light browning. Add tomatoes, cooked rice and seasonings. Cover and cook slowly for 30 to 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. The larger cooking period will develop flavor. Serves 4 to 6.

Fall Soils-Testing Is Indicated Now

Lexington, Ky.—Test soils in the fall when moisture conditions are favorable for sampling, says Harold Miller, Kentucky Extension Service soils specialist.

Research shows recommendations based on fall soil-samples are no different than those obtained the following spring," he says.

Fall testing helps the farmer make arrangements with dealers to supply fertilizer most nearly meeting the needs of the soil, and gives him plenty of time to make these arrangements.

The small fee for soil testing will return big dividents, Miller points out.

In 1956, 85 percent of carrots sold were prepackaged, resulting in lower transportation costs and less spoilage.

Telephone Talk

BACK TO SCHOOL! If you have youngsters attending college this fall, I'd like to remind you of a nice way to keep in touch with them. Keeping up home ties is mighty important especially for first-year students. So let me suggest you arrange for your son or daughter to call you station-to-station at a regular time each week. It's fast, and saves you up to ½ the cost of a person-to-person call between points in Kentucky. For instance, you can call station-to-station from Carlisle to Lexington for just 35¢—half the person-to-person rate. Late nights and Sundays you
