FOREST CONSERVATION

U.S. POSTAGE 4¢

The Nation's first forest conservation postage stamp goes on sale October 27 at Tucson, Arizona during the annual meeting of the American Forestry Association. The issue was designed by the Post Office Department to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt, one of this country's earliest forest conservationists, and to salute the many private and public agencies whose cooperation has helped make possible the progress in forest conservation.

First-day mailings will be cancelled with the above die featuring the Smokey Bear and the Keep America Green forest fire prevention programs.

THE STARS

BY LYN CONNELLY

THERE is a new so-called "star" in the recording field these days who calls herself Kathy Linden. We don't know why Miss Linden feels she must step on the toes on someone else's hard work, but she certainly has availed herself of the talent and material heard a generation ago. This critic, we Bonnie Baker. Probably because she has no talent of her own, Miss Linden has proceeded to record all Miss Baker's great hits of the late thirties and early forties . . . It started innocently enough with a rehash of Miss Baker's least best seller, "Billy."

The kids of this era gobbled it up just as the teens back in the forties did . . . However, Miss Baker was the original, not just a tired carbon copy of the real McCoy . . . Once "Billy" clicked, Kathy went hog wild, grabbing off such Baker hits as "You'd Be Surprised" and now, "Oh, Johnny, Oh . . . It's bad enough that Miss Linden usurped the material, but it's outrageous that she has copied the voice and the gimmicks even to the cute little "oh-oh" Bonnie Baker did at the end of "Oh, Johnny."

It's in utter bad taste because Bonnie is still in the business and still relies on her old-timers to bring nostalgic memories to her audiences . . . If anyone were to see her on TV now, however, she would probably be accused of trying to ape Kathy Linden . . . While Jerry Lewis did some Al Jolson numbers, in the Jolson style, at least the originator was deceased and not dependent on his singing to making a living . . . Lewis would never have done it with Jolson alive and retired, let alone alive and active.

It beats us why a recording company would allow such shenanigans and if they are so greedy in making a greenback, then it's surprising that The disk jockeys go along with the gag.

As we write this, Monday morning, we are enjoying the beautiful sunshine which has been so rare this summer. Farmer's are really interested in Dog Days this year. There's an old saying if they set in wet—Well according to the calendar, we just have seven more days to go.

The writer and family, a part of the Stephenson family, attended the reunion at Carlisle Sunday. Each year we lose one or more of our older members, which reminds us of shortness of life, even when we live to be old.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ogden, Pittsburg, and Mrs. Kenneth Stephenson visited Mr. and Mrs. Tony Dotson one afternoon last week. Allie Dotson has also been a guest of the Tony Dotson family for the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Shannon and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Bernis Snapp and daughters enjoyed an old fashioned ice cream supper at the home of Bernis Snapp Saturday night.

Word has been received from our former residents, the Ritchies' and Snapps', who are attending school at Emory University, Ga., that they are well but really having hot weather.

Faye Tapp spent Wednesday afternoon with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Tapp.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Blount of Lexington, visited Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith and Mrs. Lida Smith last weekend. Mrs. Lida accompanied them home for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hilander and sons spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tincher and son of Myers.

Mrs. Ernest Alexander spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Clarence Bretz.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wills of Paris were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allie Tapp and family.

Tomatoes with a greenish cast will ripen better when held at room temperature than when placed in direct sunlight; unripe tomatoes that are refrigerated will not ripen properly, and will become watery.

Crisp bacon, hard-cooked eggs and mayonnaise make a tasty filling for sandwiches. Keep refrigerated until served.

Telephone Talk

by CHARLES A. HARRIS
Your Telephone Manager

HAD YOUR "TALKIE" BREAK this morning? It's mighty good with that second cup of coffee. A leisurely phone call, and you can catch up on the news . . . swap recipes . . . enjoy the kind of friendly, unhurried visit that makes phoning the fun-time of the morning. And anytime you need it, your telephone is there. It helps with the errands . . . keeps you in touch . . . assures you of immediate help when emergencies arise. So when it's time for a few minutes of leisure, enjoy them with a friend. Have a "talkie" break—by phone!

VACATION TIP: Be sure you have a place to stay! Camping out in the car is no way to start a vacation. Smart travelers phone ahead for reservations. Just another way that your telephone can help make your vacation a happy one. And while you're away, remember to keep in touch with the folks at home. A Long Distance call reassures them . . . add peace of mind to your trip. Costs so little, too. For bargain rates call after six and all day Sunday. Save even more by calling Station-to-Station.

GOOD NEWS AHEAD: In spite of a general economic downturn of business beginning about the middle of 1957, Southern Bell is going ahead in 1958 with a big construction program—about $250 million. The entire Bell System is spending $2 billion 200 million on new construction in '58. The modernization plans under way will continue at a normal rate . . . research and development will be stepped up . . . more engineers will be trained in new arts of communications. This is good news for all of us. For, by going ahead with "business as usual" your Telephone Company will have a share in bolstering the well-being of our nation's economy, and each of us will benefit from the progress constantly being made in the operation of Southern Bell's extensive program.

Should Children Learn About God—In School?

Some people will emphatically say "Yes," they will contend that the purpose of education is to train the mind . . . to make good citizens . . . to equip children to use their talents for useful living.

And some of them will argue that it is un-American, un-democratic, and unnecessary for Catholics to maintain their own schools. The public schools, they say, are all we need.

But are they right? It's a good question for parents, both Catholic and non-Catholic—to think about.

Religion, as Catholics see it, is not a subject to be set apart from other fields of learning. On the contrary, it is the very core and center and hub of all human knowledge. It is the governing factor on our understanding and appreciation of all other learning. It relates all of the knowledge we acquire to the divine purposes for which we were created.

Children cannot, of course, get this kind of education in public schools. There is a law against it, and a ruling of the Supreme Court has been interpreted by many states as prohibiting public schools from even excusing children for outside classes on religious instruction.

It is for these reasons that your Catholic friends and neighbors willingly pay their share of the cost of maintaining the public schools, and yet build Catholic schools for their own children. It is not due to clannishness on the part of Catholics, to any donation-
