Decision changed regarding jail site; Ross urges wearing, Red Cross buttons

The Nicholas county fiscal court held its regular meeting Wednesday decided not to place the proposed new jail building in the northeast corner of the county court yard about 1947. The meeting of the court was held at 7 p.m. and the decision was made after a long session. It was decided that the jail should be built on a site in the southwest corner of the county court yard. The court also decided to wear buttons and to have the Red Cross buttons made and worn by all the members of the court.

According to estimates by the fiscal court, the cost of building the jail would be approximately $100,000. The court also decided to have the jail built on a site in the southwest corner of the county court yard. "LOOK, MOM—"

My hands were wrapped with holy joy by the Bishop and anointed with the holy oil. The sacred prayers of the Church were being read over me. The hands of the Holy Spirit were laid upon me as I knelt before the altar. I felt the presence of God upon me as I knelt before the altar. I felt the presence of God upon me as I knelt before the altar.

"I Was Marked With The SIGN OF THE CROSS"

I knelt with others in a half-circle before the altar. My hands were wrapped with holy joy by the Bishop and anointed with the holy oil. The sacred prayers of the Church were being read over me. The hands of the Holy Spirit were laid upon me as I knelt before the altar.

Patricia cracked and the free young cherry tree in my garden. I watched the tender leaves fold their snowy curtains. A white substance covered the end of my hand. I pulled the web away and destroyed the fresh air. I felt the presence of God upon me as I knelt before the altar.
