Christmas concert Monday evening at CHS auditorium

The Carlisle High School Band and Chorus will present the annual Christmas Concert on Monday night, Dec. 15 at 8:00 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Part on the program will be the chorus singing "Good Christian Men Rejoice". A triple-trio of Susan Talbert, Linda Rye, Maudie Fisher, Emma Lou George, Becky Barlaw, Mary Glenn Feeback, Charles Vice, Oliver Smart and Kelly Kinnett will sing "As Lately We Watched" The highlight of the choral program will be the musical version of the favorite Christmas poem, "Twas the Night Before Christmas."

The band will then take over playing "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town", "Gloria Angelicus" (Oh Lord Most Holy), "America Fola Rhapsody", "Adoramus Te", "Beneath the Holly" "Two Moods", "Green Sleeves", and "Winter Wonderland".

It sounds like an entertaining program, doesn't it? You may get your ticket from any band or chorus member, or at the door that night. Admission Adults 50¢, grade children, 25¢ There is no better way to follow the grand tradition of Christmas and get in the Christmas spirit than to spend an evening listening to beautiful music Come—you will enjoy it.

Don't forget marketing card

Farmers who produced Burley, Air-cured and Fire-cured tobacco should not fail to return their marketing cards to the Nicholas County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office at the close of the marketing season. S. Vice of the county office said today He pointed out that return of the cards is necessary for program operations and warned that failure to do so may result in reduction in 1959 acreage allotments.

The law provides, Mr. Vice said, that tobacco farm acreage allotments be reduced for failure to show disposition of the crops produced. The return of the marketing card is necessary for a complete record of such disposition

Last year some producers in this area had their 1958 allotments reduced for failure to return marketing cards and other violations. While the number of growers penalize is a small percentage of the total, the loss can be severe for farmers affected. Mr. Vice said

Mr. Vice says the regulations provide that the producer must return his marketing card to the county office within 30 days after the close of the markets in the general locality ceased, will call upon the undersigned at once and settle same; and those having claims against said estate will present same properly proven to the undersigned or attorney for payment. Nicholas County Memories . . .

by Lewis P. Scott

A return to Carlisle which I shall always call "home", brings back memories of my childhood and early manhood which now seem to have been in an entirely different era than that in which we now live.

These memories belong to the horse and buggy days and are recounted for the benefit of those who have had the privilege of having lived in those good old days when a nickel bought a good cigar and milk was twenty cents a gallon.

Some things don't change much, the weather for example. There is still snow and ice cold weather and the kids still take advantage of it to slide down the Chestnut street hill by the Christian Church. It is very gratifying to note that the City closes the street to vehicular traffic to permit the coasting. Some may remember the winter years ago when Hiram Ewing and other sport loving individuals built a very large sled seating about ten or twelve people who rode sidewise on both sides of the sled while the "driver" rode in front to steer the sled. After trying it out on the Chestnut street hill it was taken out to Dan (?) Hutchings steep hill where it developed that the big problem was how to get the sled back up the hill after the ride down. I believe they finally used a horse.

Skating was also popular with the kids in those old days. The Carlisle Milling Company pond afforded the most room for fancy skating and a sample of what could be provided by a modern skating rink. The pond was opened on September 8 with a census of 1,054. The enrollment in the schools for the first two months of the term was approximately 900. The principals' reports showed an average daily attendance of 903.16.

Up to the time of the enactment of the Minimum Foundation Law the per capita of the local district was based on the

Nicholas County Board of Education pays off Moorefield School Bonds

The Nicholas County Board of Education approved and made payment of the last $10.000 in bonds on the Moorefield School. The Moorefield school was constructed in 1948 on the old building was destroyed by fire. The cost of construction was $104,718.50. The bonded indebtedness was $94,000 with the balance of cost of construction being paid from the $19,710 of insurance received for the loss of the old building. The rest of the insurance was applied on the architects fees of $8,253.11 and fur-

Since 1946, the Board has also cleared the debt on Parks school of $18,500 and $29,000 on the Nicholas County Grade building at Headquarters. All buildings are now debt free except the Nicholas County high school which will have $238,000 of bonds outstanding after this fiscal year. About half of the enrollment of the Nicholas County Schools are now housed in modern buildings constructed during the past ten years.

Thirty Carlisle business people pooled their resources Tuesday and hurried of a wire to pay the expenses for a visit Saturday by good old Saint Nicholas—Santa to you.

The old boy is scheduled to arrive in Carlisle Saturday afternoon, sometime between the hours of 2:30 and 5:00 o'clock and will visit the stores and offices of the persons sponsoring his visit, according to T. L. Insko, president of the Carlisle-Nicholas County Chamber of Commerce.

These 30 Carlisle merchants have assembled the greatest selection of grand gifts ever arrayed in this city. You're sure to find what you are shopping for . . . for everyone on your Christmas list, from baby to Grandpa . . . old and new favorites to suit every taste.

You are assured of greater savings . . . greater values . . . and greater satisfaction when you shop at them in Carlisle. There are many sound "reasons why"—You'll want to start this pleasant and profitable shop this weekend—so bring the kids, let them enjoy Santa, and you, save while you shop at home.

Most stores open nightly from now, 12 thru 23 and closing at 6 p.m. Christmas Eve.

Health unit expresses appreciation to local VFW

The joyous season of Christmas is approaching and Dr. B. F. Reynolds, Health Officer and the Personnel of the Nicholas County Health Department wish to extend their appreciation to the local V.F.W. Lloyd George Post 8666 for the year round joy it has brought to so many of the school children of Nicholas County

In the school year from September 1957 to May 1958 the local post has spent the sum of $354.17 for eye examinations and eyeglasses for school children who otherwise might not have received the care and correction of their eyes, if it were not for the generousity of this organization.

This project has been sponsored by the local post for the past eight years and is now going into the ninth year of its sponsorship as of September 1958, the current school year. We know that the children who have received care and correction of their eyes and their parents, join us in sincere gratitude for this great work being done in our county.

Census and attendance

by Otta R. Fryman

When the present school code was passed in 1934, it provided that each school district was to employ an attendance Officer to have charge of the Census and Attendance Program. In 1947 a few minor changes were made, but as a whole the wisdom prevailed about the same. When the Minimum Foundation Program was inaugurated it provided that the Director of Pupil Personnel, working under the Superintendent of the school district, would be responsible for the census and attendance program of that district.

The Nicholas County schools opened on September 8 with a census of 1,054. The enrollment in the schools for the first two months of the term was approximately 900. The principals' reports showed an average daily attendance of 903.16.

Up to the time of the enactment of the Minimum Foundation Law the per capita of the local district was based on the
