Will the current decline in business continue? Or will it level off? Or will it improve?

To a very great extent, the answers to these and other such questions will be found in the state of retail trade during the month ahead.

In this effect, what Professor Max Miller of the distinguished Harvard University authority on retailing, told the recent convention of the National Retail Merchants Association. In his words, "The consumer holds the key not only to the fortunes of retail business in 1958, but in a larger sense to the future of the entire economy."

The Perfect Valentine

Valentine's day is nigh by the hour. How the day originated, however, has been a matter of dispute for generations. The romance usually started in England, with gentlemen carrying in gifts on the day that birds chose to begin their mating.

Power of the press

A leading association of retailers recently held a convention. And one of the highlights developed, according to an Editor & Publisher account, is that "Newspapers remain tops among retailers as the prime impetus for moving goods."

Two escape as train strikes cur; twelve businessmen are arrested

South of the Carlisle district a Roger's woman of Millers Creek, Ky., has opened offices for the rally held there Tuesday.

Across the Deck

From the South Pasadena, California, Mrs. James H. ... it must be some madman who has been so foolish as to try to ...

HIGH COST OF LIVING

What lies in the future ahead for the nation? One sure sign is a price advance that was determined by the fact that the cost of living has risen to a point where it is now 100 percent above what it was in 1913.

Tom Payne Says:

On Sunday Feb 2 there was a snow and was cloudy and the sun was out for a few minutes.
