CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Man's God-given safety and protection will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon "God the Preserver of Man".

The Apostle Paul's healing of Eutychus, the young man who "fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead" (Acts 20), will be included in the scriptural readings.

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (424:5): "Accidents are unknown to God, or immortal Mind, and we must leave the mortal basis of belief and unite with the one Mind, in order to change the notion of chance to the proper sense of God's unerring direction and thus bring out harmony."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (121:7,8): "The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil. . . The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore."

HOWARD WHITMORE, lyric tenor soloist and music director who will be featured in Methodist rrea-wide evangelistic crusade.

months Soon over. we scattered like wild geese I went to the Dime Store You know—where each piece is a dime and by the time you get all the pieces you have paid a good price. I bought three "things" for a dollar When I got back to Carlisle there was the same article in the Jr. Variety & Dept. Store window at 33¢ each. Now I could have saved one cent by trading at home" But at least you can find what you want when you want it "Lexington Has It" was the slogan that won a contest when I worked there as a printer.

Well, I had some more dimes and bought some more pieces and had a fish sandwich (it was on Friday) especially to see the electric conveyor toddle the length of the store from Main street to the railroad. Yessir, that is some invention, (and I wished for more time and an other sandwich). One piece of fish 10 cents, tiny piece 5 cents, top piece of bread 10 cents, bottom piece 10 cents—and the coke 10 cents—45 cents, there it is! The bell-like contraption traveled around and around for all the world like the belt on a threshing machine, bringing up food, then taking the empties back

Then I stopped right in my tracks' There was that large eye-seeing dog as he carefully led a blond couple through the traffic and across the street He did a much better job than I did. I got in a jam and the driver of a car gave me the right-of-way. That happened down there where the old Market House used to be but I could not find the building for the cars. Wanting to be polite to the gentleman I simply said, "You can tell I'm from the country," and he gave me that "you're the dumbest-one-woman" smile (Lexington style).

Somehow, we all got back to the car and there was a little ticket. But we made it across Main once more and "lit out" for dear old Carlisle, finally making it before the heavy downpour of rain. No cloud in sight—I'll never know where it came from!

ston and Charles Morgan. Constables.

The Justices fixed the place for holding the quarterly sessions of the court on the lands of Henry Clay Sr. on "Main Licking, in the bend of the river below the mouth of Stony Creek and opposed Major Bedinger's Mill." A committee was appointed to lay off the tract of 90 acres into town lots and for public buildings for the creation of a County seat. It was ordered that courts be held in the home of Martin Baker Jr. at Lower Blue Licks, until further notice

The question of roads was probably upper most in the minds of the Justices at this initial meeting of the court, as at least six orders were issued, appointing committees to "view sites for roads."

Less than two weeks after the organization of the county, the first deed was recorded in the deed book of the county. This first transaction recorded the purchase of two negro slaves by the new Sheriff, Nathan C. Standiford, from Drury Ragsdale "in consideration of the some of 220 pounds current money." The two negroes were described as follows "One negro man slave named Isaac, about 21 years of age; the other negro man slave named Oliver, about 15 years of age."

sion troops against "aggressor" forces in an 18,000-man battle fought the past two weeks at the Yakima Firing Center. The Firing Center spreads across 267,000 acres of central Washington north of Yakima.

Sp 3 Hollar is assigned to the division's Battery B, 1st FA Bn, 20th Arty as a mechanic.

Troops in "Indian River" were involved in every phase of modern warfare—atomic, electronic, chemical-biological-radiological-psychological and even guerilla fighting. The pentomic organization enables fast movement and wide dispersion to cope with such weapons.

Simulated atomic blasts and devices which harmlessly simulate radioactive fallout and detection added realism to the training.

During the early stages of the maneuver, an entire infantry battle group was airlifted from Fort Lewis to the Firing Center. The men boarded Air Force planes at nearby McChord AFB for the trans-Cascades flight.

Nicholas County schools to have survey

The Nicholas County Board of Education has been advised by Don C. Bale, Head of Bureau of Instruction, of the Department of Education, that a survey team composed of staff members from the Division of Instructional Services and the Division of Buildings and Grounds will come to Nicholas County on June 17 to conduct a facilities survey for Nicholas County. The survey will include all buildings and their facilities for the purpose of determining what rooms are usable and how they may best be used in the future.

At a regular meeting of the Nicholas County Board of Education Saturday, June 7, the Superintendent of Schools gave a report on the possible enrollments for the school year of 1958-59, which included the first grade as registered on May 31. The enrollments for the schools were as follows:

East Union 68; Ellisville 83, Moorefield 151; Myers 92; Nicholas Co. Grade 171; Parks 89; Nicholas County High School 318.

It was pointed out that the enrollment in the elementary schools, a total of 654, distributed in 6 schools constituted a problem since four of the schools are attempting to teach less than 100 pupils enrolled in seven grades. Any school with less than 100 pupils is rated under the Foundation Program as an isolated school. The enrollment of four of the schools will justify the assignment of only three teachers and the East Union School is for below the number to justify three teachers.

Since the funds alloted to Nicholas County are based largely on average daily attendance and an average of 30 pupils per teacher is required to meet the allotment of a classroom unit, Nicholas County faces a serious problem of maintaining an adequate staff of teachers.

The last survey of Nicholas County Schools was made in 1954 as a part of a nation-wide survey of schools. The present survey was requested since some changes in law and a great improvement in roads have taken place. Since the Department of Education has to approve any changes in a school program, a survey by the Department of Education should determine what can be done towards the improvement of the school program and at the same time undue delay in submitting of proposals for approval by the Department of Education.

The Board, at its regular meeting also appointed the Deposit Bank as its depository for a term of two years and adopted as its General Budget The Budget for 1958-59 was for a total of $209,775.00 which was less than the budget adopted for the past year of $210,586.95. The tax levy request remained the same.

COMMENT

Kay T. Fisher

We Americans. Think we know everything about publicity and advertising. We pride ourselves on having some 1,500 daily newspapers and close to 10,000 community newspapers and all with the largest number of readers in history

Newspapers are a mighty important part of American life So you might naturally think publishing a newspaper—even a little one—would be an important part of our United States exhibit at the Brussels World's Fair in Belgium

Well nobody thought of it None of our 11,500 newspaper editors none of the thousands of people including former newspaper people in our Federal government

But somebody else thought about it Can't guess? The Russians! Yes, the Russians at the Brussels Fair have a lively three-times weekly newspaper published in several languages including English

The Sputnik they call it So once more how many times it it now we are caught napping

DIAMONDS ARE A girl's best friend, they say. Oddly enough they're also good friends of the telephone company. Industrial diamonds—black and greasy—are used as dies to reduce copper wires all to exactly the same size. Last year more than $200,000 worth of diamonds were used to streamline 48,000,000 miles of copper wire to uniform size. You don't ordinarily think of diamonds when you think of everyday telephone service, but it takes many products and many people to keep the calls going through.
