UK IS AWARDED NUCLEAR CONTRACT

A $45,161 contract extension for a study of nuclear energy levels—considered to be one of the more advanced programs of its kind in the South—has been awarded the University of Kentucky by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The work chiefly involves attempts to learn about the properties of such lighter nuclei as carbon, nitrogen and oxygen and experiments on neutron scattering from heavier nuclei such as Samuth.

Funds for the study bring the total AEC participation to $167,975.88 over a 3½-year period.

"This type of work is not concerned with the development of weapons," the development of nuclear energy, or even finding applications for radioactive materials, but is purely an attempt to gather more basic information about the nature of matter," Dr. Lewis W. Cochran, acting head of the UK Physics Departments, said.

Redlegs defeat Cubs 9-7; Flyers buzz Athletics 13-2

The Redlegs defeated the Cubs. To gain their first victory of the year, by a score of 9-7 in the first game of Tuesday's twin bill. In the night cap the Flyers handed the Athletics their first defeat by a score of 13-2.

Pumphrey started for the Redlegs and went the route as he allowed 5 hits, struck out 14, and gave up only 8 free bases. The Cubs started Scott on the mound, but pulled him after the 1st frame. Scott didn't allow any hits, didn't get any strike-outs, however, and only gave 1 charity trip. Mattox came on in the top of the 2nd, but the Redlegs started a rally which knocked him out of the box. Mattox gave up 3 hits, 3 walks, and no strike outs. He was relieved by Hatton who had a little better luck and got out of the hole. Hatton gave up 2 hits, 3 walks, and 1 strike-out before he was relieved by Cooper at the start of the 5th. Cooper gave up 4 hits, 2 walks, and he got 1 strike-out.

The Redlegs broke the scoring ice in the top of the 2nd frame when they caught fire with a rally that scored 6 runs before the Cubs could finally put the fire out. This gave the Reds a 6 run margin to work with until the bottom of the 3rd when the Cubs caught fire to start a 3 run rally of their own. The Redlegs were not able to be held back and in the top of the fourth Crump got on base through an error. He decided that he liked to run and proceeded to steal second, third and home to chalk up another run for the Reds. The Cubs were then down 7-3 until the bottom of the fifth when Hatton and Rawlings both stole home to tack on 2 runs for their cause which was the Cubs. Both teams scored 2 runs in the final frame to make the score 9-7 in favor of the Redlegs.

FLYERS 13—ATHLETICS 2

The Farm Bureau Flyers defeated the loop leading Athletics by a lopsided score of 13-2 in the night cap.

The Athletics broke the ice in the top of the second frame to score the first run as Walters got a hit and as a result of two wild pitches wound up on 3rd base but wasn't satisfied with this so he stole home too score the first run for the "A's". The Flyers came back in the bottom half of the inning to score 2 runs of their own as Price and Feeback crossed the plate. Price stole home and Feeback came in on a wild pitch. This ended the scoring until the bottom of the 3rd when the Flyers' ball club wild and scored 7 big runs to put them ahead by a score of 9-1. The Athletics got their other run in the 4th when Smith stretched a double into a three bagger and went home when the third baseman couldn't handle the ball throw. The score then stood 9-2. The Flyers came back in the bottom of the last inning and added result to enjury by scoring 4 more runs to have a total of 13 while the "A's" only got 2.

Letcher did the honors for the Flyers as he went the full game. He only allowed 3 hits while he struck out 10 and walked 2. The Athletics' pitchers didn't fare as well as Brady started for them. He gave up 9 base hits and 6 walks while he got 1 strike-out. McClanahan came on in the 3rd to relive the side. He didn't give up any hits nor allowed any walks while he struck out 4 batters before he was relieved by Crouch in the fifth. Crouch didn't have too much luck as he gave up 3 hits, 4 walks, and 2 strike-outs.

Farmers here make use of A.C.P.

By H. S. Vice, Chairman Nicholas County ASC Committee

The Agricultural Conservation Program is not a subsidy, handout, rural relief or income supplement program, but it is an incentive program to get more conservation on individual farms needed in the public interest than would be possible if farmers were to depend entirely on their own resources.

It is a cost-sharing program in which farmers as participants, pay a substantial part of the cost of the practices in money, their labor, use of their own farm machinery or in materials. It is a democratic program in which county planning and operation is in the hands of farmers, administered by county and community committeemen, all farmers elected by their neighbors.

It is teamwork operation between agencies of the Department of Agriculture, State and local government, and other citizens. It is a necessary means for helping farmers to establish systems of conservation farming that put into effect better soil and water management and use.

Recognizing the need for the protection of our land and water resources for the production of sufficient food and raw materials to meet future needs of the nation, Congress appropriates funds to share with farmers the cost of carrying out needed soil and water conservation measures.

Farmers Here Participate

What are Nicholas County farmers doing about it? Responsibility in conserving our soils? Let's take a look at the records for the past year as compiled by the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office.

During the year 1957, farmers in our county earned $44,017.00 by carrying out needed conservation practices on their farms. 76 percent of the funds were earned by farmers in carrying out pasture practices which included establishing permanent vegetative cover for soil protection or as needed land-use adjustment; improvement of an established vegetative cover for soil or watershed protection and liming farmland to permit the use of legumes and grasses for soil improvement and production. Over 1,000 24 per cent was used in soil and water conserving practices such as constructing grassland ponds as a means of protecting vegetative cover, drainage practices and forestry practices.

With ASP assistance, 1291 acres of new pastures were established by the use of recommended seedings of grasses and legumes, lime and fertilizer.

About 66 acres of old pastures were improved by the use of lime and fertilizer. 571 acres of farmland were treated with lime alone.

Approximately 18 acres of wet land were drained by carrying out drainage practices so that the land could be used for agricultural purposes, 24 grassland ponds were constructed as a means of protecting vegetative cover.

These statistics do not mean that every farm in Nicholas County carried out conservation practices last year, but 232 farms did share in the county-allocation and took seriously their responsibilities for helping to conserve our soil and water resources.

17 Methodist churches unite to bring Philpot revival here

Seventeen Methodist churches of the Carlisle area of Methohave united for an evangelistic dism are sparing no efforts to crusade which will open in Car- make this one of the great times lisle Sunday night, June 29 A in the life of the church. big tent seating 1,100 will be erected on the Nicholas County high school grounds next Wednesday afternoon at 5:00 p.m. A group of 40 men will be needed as volunteers for this work. Chairman, Rev. G. H. Bierley, asks for a good group of men on both Wednesday and Thursday nights next week to work on the tent and seats.

Rev. Ford R. Philpot and his party have been engaged in area revival work for nearly four years in addition to his church, camp-greeting, and convention engagements. God has signally blessed his ministry and since he is a member of the Kentucky Conference this will be like a home meeting. His many friends in Central and Northern Kentucky will welcome the opportunity to gather under the big tent for this spiritual crusade. The laymen and ministers of the Carlisle and Nicholas County area will be especially invited for an evangelistic rally at 7:30 p.m. Monday night, June 30 has been determined as Sunday school night when the various schools will vie with one another for attendance records. Friday, July 4 will be a great men's rally. Monday, July 7, will feature a Youth Rally for all the district, and Tuesday July 8, will feature the second Sunday school night. At each of these services the talent ed and lovable Howard Whitmore, tenor soloist, will present choir musical variations and solo renditions which will bless the attending groups. Merlin Johnson will be at the console and "music that blesses" will be a part of each service.

Earnest prayer and sacrificial labors are requested that these services may be all that God would have them be to the uplift of the entire church life of Carlisle Area.

The following special nights have already been designated for the 15-day campaign. Sunday night, June 29, at 8 p.m. will be the opening service. Monday night, June 30 has been determined as Sunday school
