CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The ever-availability of the healing power of the Christ, Truth will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Christian Science" is the Golden Text from Isaiah (40:5): "The glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following: (146:23-26): Divine Science derives its conception from the Bible, and the divine origin of Science is demonstrated through the holy influence of Truth in healing sickness and sin."

Scriptural selections will include the following from Habakuk (2:14): "For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

Redlegs defeat Athletics as Cubs stop Flyers

The Redlegs defeat the Athletics by a score of 7-5 last Friday night while the Cubs pulled a trick or two out of the bag to trumph over the Flyers by a scure of 5-1.

Marshall did the pitching honors for the Redlegs as he held the Athletics to only 2 hits. While he was doing this he gave up 13 walks and got 7 strike-outs. McClanahan and Crouch did the work on the hill for the Athletics. McClanahan allowed 4 hits, walked 4, and struck out 8. Crouch came on in the 5th and gave up 2 hits, 2 walks, and 2 strike-outs.

The Redlegs drew first blood as they scored in the 1st frame and then came back in the top of the second for one more run to give them a 2 run lead. It was short lived however as the Athletics came back in the bottom of the second and forged ahead by scoring 3 runs. Not to be outdone the Reds scored 4 runs in the top half of the 3rd while the "A's" could only get 1 run back. Neither team scord in the fourth, but the Reds pushed across 2 more runs in the top of the fifth while the "A's" only got 1 run in during their half. The final score was Redlegs 8- Athletics 5.

Cubs 5 Flyers 1

The Cubs used Hatton and Scott as they put down a powerful Flyer club. Hatton pitched no-hit ball before he was retired in the fourth. He gave up 5 base on balls and struck out 8 batters. Scott went to the hill in the fourth and held the Flyers to 3 hits while walking 3 and putting down 4 batters on strikes. Barnett and Allison did the pitching chores for the losing side. Barnett gave up 4 hits, walked 2, and struck out 5. Allison ran into trouble as the Cubs got to him for 2 hits and 1 walk while he struck out 4 batters.

The Cubs drew first blood as they tallied in the 1st frame to go ahead 1-0. Then they came on in the fourth frame to add 4 more runs on to the score to lead by a score of 5-0. The Flyers were only able to get 1 of those runs back as their single run came in the last frame. The final score was: Cubs 5, Flyers 1.

FINED FOR HAVING ILLEGAL LIQUOR

Farm facts

JUNE—1958

Poultry—A grown-up Farm Enterprise. A few years ago the farm poultry flock provided the "pin money" for the home. It was the woman's job to care for them and to her went the income from eggs and chickens. Not so today. The small home flock is almost a thing of the past and now poultry and egg production is a full-sized man's job. Not only does it require a lot of ability and considerable money but it also gives a man-sized income.

I recently visited several egg and broiler farms in the state and was impressed by the opportunities these enterprises offer our Kentucky farmers. In Pulaski County I was told by several that a five or ten thousand capacity broiler house or a 1,000 hen laying house would return as much annual labor income, and with about the same labor, as an acre of tobacco.

There is a transition taking place in the egg production business—it is moving out of the corn belt to areas closer to the center of population. Kentucky offers many opportunities for efficient poultry men Farmers who are so anxious for an additional tobacco base might consider the addition of a poultry enterprise.

Credit For The Small Farmer. One of the problems in using borrowed money to finance small farm operations is that the net income from the business is often too small to provide a living for the family, pay taxes and keep up the interest and principal payments on the loan. Unless a loan will assist the small operator to increase the volume of his business sufficiently to save and invest more of his earnings in productive enterprises both he and the lender might be better off without it. The principle value of credit for farm people is to provide additional capital for productive purposes. Credit for consumer goods—those things that are used without returning a profit—should be used very carefully by any farmer—large or small. Credit, if used wisely by the small farmer, can be very beneficial, but extreme care must be taken not to overborrow. It has often been said that the two principal factors limiting efficient farming are ability and capital. One without the other is of little value in making a profit from the farm. Credit will not make a good farmer out of a poor one nor will it replace poverty with wealth but it will help the efficient farmer reach his goals faster.

Ky. Shorthorn Group Will meet June 28 at UK

A beef barbecue at noon will be served by Black and Gold's U.K. honorary agricultural fraternity.

The afternoon program will include a welcome by Lt. Gov. Harry L. Waterfield; a talk by Mrs. Henry Baum, Lebanon, Ind. and a four-way talk on improvement of beef Shorthorns. This latter portion will be a discussion of "In The Show Ring," by Robert Hicks, U.K. livestock team judge; "Beef-bull Performance Testing," George Pendergrass, Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service beef specialist and "Carcass Evaluation", by James D. Kemp, U.K. meats specialist.

The session opens at 9 a.m. (CST) at the Coldstream Farm on the Newtown Pike, Lexington. It is open to the public.

Spend a vacation At State parks, director says

See Kentucky first and enjoy a vacation at one of our State parks, Mrs. Ben Kilgore, director, told members at recent meetings of the Kiwanis Club of Irvine-Ravenna and the Mothers Study Club in Lexington.

Mrs. Kilgore stressed the natural beauty to be seen at Pennyrile, Carter Caves, Audubon, General Butler and Pine Mountain Parks, where good accomodations and recreational facilities are available. "Many times it is easier to get reservations at these parks than at some of the larger ones," she added.

A number of new attractions have been added to entertain our guests, the director continued, such as the new swimming pool at Levi Jackson, and the presentation of "Endless Waters," a drama at Cumberland Falls.

The show is narrated by Conrad Nagel, a former movie star. It is recorded with stereophonic sound equipment. Mrs. Kilgore explained, "and the only other place in the United States where a similar presentation can be seen is at Natural Bridge, Va."

First showing of the drama in early June at the Kentucky Press Association convention brought many favorable comments from newspaper writers, Mrs. Kilgore said, such as John L. Crawford of The Corbin Daily Tribune, who wrote "the pageant could be termed spectacular, without exaggerating in the last."

Carlisle selected County seat by court in May, 1816

Dissatisfaction soon resulted over the establishment of the first county seat of Nicholas County at a site near Bedinger's Mills, as told in last week's Mercury, and the site was removed to Ellisville, which proved equally unpopular because of it being so remote from some sections of the County.

At the May term of the Nicholas County court, held on May 27, 1816, the clerk of the court produced a report of the commissioners appointed by an Act of the General Assembly, passed at its last session, to authorize the county seat of Nicholas County.

The committee, composed of Joseph Morgan and Boland T. Parker, of Lewis county, Thompson Ward of Greenup county, Anderson Miller and William P. Blackburn of Franklin county, reported that it had reviewed the sites for the seat of justice and studied the proposals offered by John H. Kincart. William Holladay, Isham Johnson, Samuel Arnold, Jacob Jones, G. M. Bedinger and Thomas Jones, and that it had unanimously approved removal of the seat of justice from Ellisville to a permanent location on the land of John Kincart, located on the waters of Brushy Fork of the forks of Licking river, as the "most eligible situation for the seat of justice."

The court, composed of Samuel Waugh, Luke Fowler, Morris Morris, William McClanahan, Archibald Marshall, John Throckmorton, Thomas Davidson, John Baker, Thomas L. Jenkins and Hames H. Thompson, approved the report of the committee.

In his proposal, Mr. Kincart agreed to lay off fifty acres of his farm, adjoining his home, including a public square of one and three-fourths acres, in town lots, with all necessary streets and alleys and to give one-half of said lots and square as a donation to the County to be sold with his portion of the lots, and the proceeds of the sale of said donated lots to be appropriated toward the erection of the public buildings.

Pledges totaling $515.99 were presented to the court, the money to be used in helping to erect public buildings.

The court appointed Lewis H. Arnold, Andrew S. Hughes, David Bryson and James Ardery as commissioners to divide the 50-acre tract into town lots and sell the lots as directed by the act. The court also ordered that the County seat be immediately removed to the home of John Kincart and that future meetings be held at the Kincart home until the public buildings were completed.

At the July 1816, meeting of the court, an order was entered designating Carlisle" as the name for the new county seat. No mention is made in the records of the court why this name was selected.

At the October term of the court, the committee submitted a report with a plat showing how the lots had been laid off.

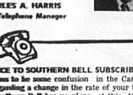
Telephone Talk

by CHARLES A. HARRIS
Your Telephone Manager



NOTICE TO SOUTHERN BELL SUBSCRIBERS

There seems to be some confusion in the Carlisle exchange regarding the change in your telephone service. Southern Bell has no plans at this time to increase the rate of your service beyond that amount which appeared on your bill last month. The small increase was due to the fact that the Carlisle exchange increased its local service telephones to more than 1-600, which makes your telephone more valuable to you because you can now call more people. The confusion seems to have developed from the recent article regarding the Lexington papers. General Telephone Company of Kentucky operates in the Lexington area, and Southern Bell serves Carlisle and Nicholas County.

DADDY ALWAYS CALLS when he's out of town! When you're home-but-a grandhopper, it's a mighty big thrill to hear daddy's big, happy voice tell his baby-lamb all the things that make her feel protected, cherished, loved. Keeping families close is just one of the nice things about Long Distance. Other nice things: it's fast, easy to use, low in cost. And remember, on all Long Distance calls: it's faster when you call by number; it's cheaper when you call station-to-station, and you get special bargain rates after 6 P.M. and all day Sunday.

MORE VOICES UNDER THE SEA. The transatlantic telephone cable completed last year between North America and Great Britain, which was designed to carry 36 voices, this fast cable has been so busy and its use increased so much, another is planned for completion in 1960. The second cable, though, will bypass England and link us directly with Europe. It will be 2,400 miles long, and after it is completed will mean 36 more people can talk to Europe at the same time. Just as easy as making a long distance call right here at home. It's this kind of planning for progress that keeps telephone service growing to meet your needs—to call across the street or across the ocean.
