Why So Many Decide To BECOME CATHOLICS

Every week all over the world thousands of people are received into the Catholic Church as converts.

In some cases, they are prominent, even famous people and newspapers and magazines will insist on them telling why they are adopting the Catholic Faith. Usually, however, these converts are just average people and nobody bothers to ask them the "Why?"

Yet the reasons which prompt the average person to become a Catholic are tremendously important. They are worth the most careful study of all who seek the salvation of their immortal souls, and who search for spiritual truth in a world of confusion.

It isn't easy to become a Catholic. It involves more than a mere declaration of faith and regular attendance at a nearby church. Thorough instruction in Catholic beliefs and obligations comes first, and a firm and fervent conviction must be demonstrated. The Sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation, Penance and Holy Communion must follow. And these are only the beginnings of Catholic life and Catholic obligations.

Nobody would undertake to meet such requirements out of mere curiosity, or as a passing fancy. It may be assumed, therefore, that the average person who is thinking of becoming a Catholic has been moved by some strong reasons to feel that way. Is it merely because he has friends and neighbors who are Catholic, because the Catholic Church spans the earth and dates back to the Apostles . . . because in the Catholic Church there is unity of creed and worship, authority and a distinctive form of ritual?

Any one of a hundred reasons may be responsible for the mental interest of a Catholic convert. But what is it that prompts so many of them to investigate Catholic beliefs and teachings, and then say to themselves, "This is it"?

The answer comes from the lips of numerous average people who were not originally Catholics but are today. They tell in a clear and understandable way what they found when they looked into the teaching, worship and history of the Catholic Church with an open mind and into the life and teaching of Jesus Christ. They answer questions which may linger in your mind in a way which any non-Catholic can easily understand, for they once stood on the outside and, in some cases, were even antagonistic to everything Catholic.

An interesting pamphlet which you cannot obtain elsewhere . . . describes the experiences of average people who were originally non-Catholics but are now devoted members of the age-old, world-wide Catholic Church . . . explaining how and why they became Catholics . . . how and why the Catholic Faith can aid and enrich your own personal and family life.

. . . will come to you in a plain wrapper on your request . . . and nobody will call on you. Write for Pamphlet No. KC-27.

Carlisle West Homemakers

by Mrs. Mac Berry

Friday, June 20, was Work Day at the Carlisle West Club meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. J. R. Hamilton. Work was done on hand bags and baskets, and a pot-luck was served at noon.

There were eight members present, and at the business session, officers for the coming year were elected. Miss Ernestine Eads will succeed Mrs. A. T. Gardner, who has served very faithfully as president for the past two years.

Special guests for the day were our Home Demonstration agent, Mrs. Margie Wilson, and Mrs. William Dollins, our County president.

Our next meeting will be a picnic at Blue Licks State Park July 11.

"Where your Dollar Goes Farther"

THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

SYLVAN FERRERO says last month he "we will have become TV . . . When the picture gets blurry, you just trim the wicks" . . . Recession? ABC-TV, NBC-TV and CBS-TV grossed $60,504,312 in January time sales, 16 per cent better than January 1957 . . . "Matinee" has received the best news—it's through . . . The daytime drama was costing the network a million dollars a year and the ratings were sagging.

NBC-TV is pitching Milton Berle for two formats, a half-hour, live comedy show and a half-hour drama series in which Berle would narrate and occasionally act . . . This boy was really in the groove for the Emmy telecast . . . He hadn't been on camera for so long that he got carried away and went over eight minutes, much to the irritation of others (including Jack Benny) whose lines were cut to make up for lost time . . . "Death Valley Days," TV and radio, has had the same sponsor for 27 years and this should surely be some kind of record.

PLATTER CHATTER

"The Great Gildersleeves" finally fades from radio after 17 years . . . Hal Peary and Willard Waterman starred in the series . . . Hal March is going to star in a TV situation comedy series with the pilot already making the rounds of prospective sponsors . . . Nat Hiken, who created the Phileas "Bilko", has another series going for him, "The Magnificent Montague," starring Sir Cedric Hardwick . . . It is reported the two sponsors of "64,000 Challenge" will drop that one in favor of Hilton's show.

Maxie Rosen is attempting a comeback with a series called "Ernestine" . . . TV film commercial business will hit $25,000,000 this year and three-fourths of the total will be spent with Hollywood firms.
