Our Sunday schools

National Sunday School week is again being sponsored by the 48 state groups, the Laymen's National Association, Inc. The dates chosen are April 14th through 20th, and the committee asks everyone to join in furthering their theme: "OUR SUNDAY SCHOOLS—FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE."

Within the walls of our Sunday schools are religious thoughts of our young ones, are coordinated with early religious training. Let us make every week a Sunday School week and lead our youth in rightful ways.

Where the money is

Old illusions die hard. A conspicuous example is the illusion that the rich pay most of the cost of government.

On one time there was much truth in this. But that was in a half-century ago. The House Committee by a spokesman for a group of inland industries tells the sad tale. The individual income tax produces about one-half of all federal revenues. The beginning rate is 20 percent, which applies to the lowest taxable income. From there it climbs, ladder-fashion, to a top of 91 per cent.

Comes April, 20 million smiles and tears, quid pro quo, the golden chalice of daffodils under her frills smiles. Curve of swallows, the green grass and the warm-glowing red of her "misty dream."

On the fresh carpet of sunny banks she strews her violets, under her smile and tears buds begin to swell, rosy buds plump, leaves unfold, bright and shining are the green carpets. The Easter, has given her yet the like a good housewife, would be about her own housekeeping, so her tears and smiles and weeping wail.

Battling for Uncle Sam

Human nature being what it is, we tend to be suspicious of the government.

Going Steady Popular With Teenagers

By Clara D. Smith
In high school, doesn't mean you are an adult. It means you are a young man or woman who is beginning to think for himself. The idea now is to go steady, to have a steady date.

From-An editor's random thoughts

April - A Promise
For the flowers, now that I might find it
From a woman's waggish delight
That sweeter than the lily of Juno's eyes
That dawn unsmiling, early as he could
Most incident to make him bold and
The crown imperial fills of all kinds.
