But Do You Really UNDERSTAND The Bible?

Many people maintain that the Bible is so simple and clear that anyone can understand it.

Yet today the Christian world is divided into conflicting opinions as to what the Bible means. Sincere and equally learned Bible scholars take different meanings from the same words, and there are many Christian sects which disagree on basic Bible questions.

The prevailed Christian who wants to understand the Bible, finds all this confusing ... wondering which interpretation to accept, whom to believe. The result is that the Bible often gathers dust on the family bookshelf, when it should be bringing joy to the hearts of men.

Catholics, of course, join with Christians everywhere in recognizing the complete Bible as the inspired Word of God. It could not be otherwise, for it was the Catholic Church which assembled the books of the Bible nearly 1600 years ago, and which preserved its precious message on parchment for a thousand years before the invention of the printing press.

It is unfortunate, however, that some of the most devoted Bible readers do not understand it. As a matter of fact, Holy Scripture is seldom correctly understood unless we have certain preliminary knowledge concerning God's revealed truth.

In writing the New Testament, its authors took into account that a knowledge of God's revelation already prevailed. The books they wrote were intended to instruct and confirm teachings already known — not to announce something entirely unknown. When you have this preliminary knowledge the Bible is neither contradictory nor confusing.

The books of the Bible were given by God through writers who addressed themselves to people who already possessed faith in God and to whom the divinely revealed message was, to some extent, already known. These books seek to explain and confirm this message and to induce readers to conform their lives to it. They were certainly not intended to teach all of God's revealed truth to those who were learning it for the first time.

The Bible, properly understood, can exert a tremendous power for good in your personal and family life. But to understand it, you should know something about those who wrote the Bible ... the way they thought, spoke and the characteristics of the language they used. By whom was the Bible translated ... how can we know these translations are correct? What are the common sense rules to be followed in understanding the Bible? These and other important questions concerning the intelligent use of the Bible are answered in a pamphlet which we will send you in a plain wrapper — free on request. And nobody will call on you. Write TODAY for Pamphlet No. KC-22.

THE STARS

EFFERVESCENT Patrice Munsel, starring for the first time in a TV series, is often called "Pyrenees Pat of the Met" and for a good reason: she spectacularly emerged to the spotlight at the age of 17 when, dressed as a bobby-soxer, she auditioned and won a spot on the "Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air," won the audition and $1,000, a Met contract, a scholarship fund and a three-year guarantee of $120,000 in earnings.

A few months later in December 1943, Patrice, the youngest singer ever to debut at the Met, received a seven-minute ovation for her performance of Philine in "Mignon." In her first season, she appeared in "The Tales of Hoffman" and "Rigoletto" within a year, was proclaimed one of the best female vocalist on the air by Canadian and American radio editors, received the coveted Met roles of "Lakme" and "Lucia," added three new parts to her repertoire and was signed for national concert tours.

PLATTER CHATTER

Patrice's success is the culmination of years of intensive studies of singing, languages, dancing and acting . . . lonely, tiring years when she and her mother, in a small Manhattan apartment, separated themselves from their friends and roots in Spokane, Wash., while Pat learned discipline . . . From this dedicated loneliness has come a sweeping success . . . In Sweden she was compared to the great Jenny Lind . . . she stopped the show as Adele in "Die Fledermaus" at the Met in 1951 . . . Twice she has been chosen to give command performances, before the Queen of England and as an official White House reception.

Her charm and versatility show up in her flings at operetta, supper club field, best selling recordings and TV . . . She is married to Robert Schuler, director of her TV show, and has two children, Heidi and Rhett.

Carlisle West Homemakers

by Mrs. Mae Berry

"Planning My Time" was the main lesson for May, and was well given by Mrs. Frank Henry Friday afternoon, the 9th, when the Carlisle West Club met at my home.

There were ten ladies present for this meeting. Interesting features of the program was a Book Review by Mrs. W. G. Irvin, and an essay on the subject "What My Grandma Told Me", which was given by Mrs. B. F. Reynolds. In her very fine way she took us back quite a few years with stories of things that happened around the Old Fort at Harrodsburg.

Our next meeting will be an all-day Work Session June 20, at the home of Mrs. J. R. Hamilton.

Myers 4-H News

The regular monthly meeting of the Myers 4-H club met Tuesday, May 12 at 10 a.m. at the school.

The Entomology project of the club presented the program with Billy McIntyre in charge. Do insects have bones? by Earl Jones. Is an insect very durable? by Charles Cameron. How about breathing? by Gail Ritchie. Insects that fly, by Sue Gray. Where is an insects ears? by David Hunt. See, taste, and smell, by Violet Bowles. Insects with hearts, by Jerry Watkins. How to preserve and mount butterflys correctly, by June Bretz. How can an insect manage to grow, by Jimmy Letcher. —Charles Cameron, reporter.

Pallbearers were Paul Vinson, Noble Hopkins, Calvin Letcher, Carl Hughes, Horace Kokendoffer and Eugene Clavell.

Paul A. Jones

A State Highway Department engineer suffered a heart attack and died last Wednesday while driving his automobile from work on the Newtown Pike, Lexington.

Paul Adams Jones, 51, of 203 Linwood, was pronounced dead at 4:40 p.m. on arrival at St. Joseph's hospital.

S. Sgunyogh, 110 Del Monte, a passenger in Jones' vehicle, told police that the driver slumped over the wheel of his automobile in the 500 block of the Newtown Pike. Sgunyogh notified police who took the stricken man to the hospital.

Coroner Chester Hager said death was due to a heart attack.

Jones was born in Fleming county, a son of the late William Wallace and Margaret Alice McCord Jones. He was a graduate of the Millersburg Military Institute and was a member of the Christian Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Kenney Brown Jones; a son, Dr. James Paul Jones, San Antonio, Texas; two daughters, Miss Rebecca Bassett Jones, Houston, Texas, and Miss Mary Margaret Jones, Lexington; and a grandson, John Paul Jones, San Antonio.

Mrs. Jones is a daughter of Mrs. L. B. Barton, here, and the family lived here for a number of years, prior going to Lexington.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Saturady at Whitehall funeral chapel, and burial followed in the Elizaville cemetery in Fleming county.
