MT. ZION CHURCH

Guy H. Neal, Elder

Bro. Tom Gemenhart will fill his regular appointment with us next Lord's Day, Nov 16.

Bible School at 10 a.m.

Lord's supper at 11:00 a.m., followed by sermon by the minister.

We would like for each member to be present at the Lord's Supper for the Bible says in the first Cor. 11 and the 26 verse "For as often as ye eat this bread and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he comes."

Again, Jesus says in Luke 22:19 "This is my body given for you This do in remembrance of me."

So Jesus invites us, who are Christians, to come often around his table, for we know by the account given in Act 20: 7, that they came together on the first day of the week to break bread. We think that all Christians should do just that, don't you? If so, you will be present this and every Lord's day. Think it over and come.

Inside the walls of C.H.S.

by Harriett Clark

Hello, Hello!

I'm back again with more news after another exciting week of events at C.H.S.

I made a very, very bad mistake last week. I didn't tell you the Jrs. were having a car wash. But no hard feelings, please? I didn't know it either.

The individual pictures came last Monday. Some of our pictures were hilarious. The Seniors were thankful we are seniors and didn't have to take best laugh we've had in ages. These Freshman, Sophomore and Junior pictures will appear in the annual.

That reminds me, at last report there was only six more annuals to be sold. So if you've been putting it off, you better reach in those pockets for those extra dollars and make up for lost time. You'll be sorry if you don't.

Thursday, the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y met. The program was centered around Thanksgiving.

Mr. Elliott James will demonstrate liquid air to us Friday. The temperature experiments should interest every student from grades to high school. Mr. James demonstrated liquid air at the Chicago World Fair two years.

Last Friday Mrs. Wilson and Mr. Whitaker presented the ribbons and money won at the Fair to the writers and how quilt low has been placed on the "I Dare You" Honor Roll. Mrs. Wilson presented us a book from the Wm. Danforth Foundation.

The Jrs. and Srs. are having a chili supper Friday night in the school cafeteria. So if you want a delicious bowl of chili, pie and a Coke for only 50¢ just come and get it.

On Monday, Becky Barlow and Gordon White will journey to Louisville to take part in debates to be presented on WHAS Radio. This radio station is a broadcast representative from various schools to take part in these debates. Becky and Gordon were chosen by the class to be Carlisle's delegates They're to debate against Clarkston on Contented Countries are less likely to exercise the privilege of voting. So let's with them luck and hope they win.

Our basketball schedules have been printed. If you want one, just go to the druggists and ask for it. Besides giving information about the game, our schedules are very attractive. But how could they be anything else? They're green and white. Are there any prettier colors?

You may know this and you may not. We have a dramatics club this year composed of Seniors. The purpose is to prepare us for our Senior play. We have quite a bit of fun and at times learning to talk and act like an actor should so if our Senior play isn't any good, you can't say we didn't try. What am I saying? Of course it'll be good.

That's about all that's taking place in or around C.H.S. this week. Come again next week same time, same place for more of the latest happenings of the Muskies.

TODAY'S MEDITATION FROM THE UPPER ROOM
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13
Read Romans 11:10

The peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus. (Philippians 4:7.)

Walter just could not go to sleep if there had been trouble between him and his father. One particular evening, while we were visiting in the home, little Walter had disobeyed and received a light reprimand from his father. His mother had then put him to bed for the night.

Shortly afterward I heard his mother say, "Daddy, may Walter see you for a minute?" His father stepped to Walter's bedside and took him up in his arms. Walter threw his arms about his father's neck, and his father hugged and kissed him and tucked him back in his bed. Neither one spoke a word. The little fellow was soon asleep.

So it is with every true child of God. We are not happy and peaceful if there is any shadow of uncertainty between us and our Father. The most important thing is right relationship between God and ourselves. His children.

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, how wonderful is the peace Thou givest! Help us so to live this day that we may keep that peace, through Christ our Lord, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who are in heaven . . . Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The peace that God gives every repentant soul is a priceless possession. Lillian A. Ward (Illinois)

Editor of Carlisle Mercury
Dear Sir:

Along with the regular monthly Homemaker notes of the Ellisville Club, I am enclosing a write up of an interview by the Nicholas County Homemakers Reading and Publicity Chairman. This idea is new with us and we hope if and when you have room in the Mercury you will please publish this article for us.

The Homemakers of the various clubs are grateful for your cooperation in publishing these articles and should you have any advice for better results, it will be appreciated.

We thank you sincerely.

Mrs. J. A. Standiford
County Publicity Chairman.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

Too Much 'Paint' Hides Natural Beauty

By C. D. Smith

Answers for an intelligent young lady of fourteen years

Do not let it worry you one bit that your friends "make fun" of you because they wear lipstick and you do not. Lipstick is a much-used and misunderstood beauty aid, but there are thousands and thousands of beautiful women who have never used it, or have used it sparingly because their natural beauty is such that they do not need it at all.

Just as they do their party dresses—for special occasions. And they do not choose the brightest shade of red they can find; they select the shade that beauty specialists recommend for their type of complexion and hair coloring. It is a wise teenage who seeks the advice of an older woman—mother, perhaps, or a friend who is a beauty specialist, or merely a person of good taste—before using any lipstick at all.

Many teenage girls, because they do not use the right shade of lipstick—or because they use too much of whatever shade they choose—manage to make themselves look distracting rather than attractive. Many of them start using it when they are much too young, at a time when the natural beauty of youth needs no artificial aids.

There is nothing wrong with the use of lipstick, powder or rouge. They have a place and a purpose. Yet, like all useful things in this world of ours, they "backfire" when they are overworked or used excessively. Properly used, lipstick adds color and contour to the shape of the lips; wrongly used, it gives the appearance that the wearer is "all mouth." Paint-ed lips attract attention. People take notice—but the majority of them are globally wishing they could tell the young lady a thing or two about proper beauty care.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or a question to ask, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, Box 1, Station B, FRANKFORT, KY.

COMMENT

Kay T. Fisher

Americans are apparently the world's most prolific letter-writers. At least they have the biggest mail service. The United States occupies only one-fiftieth of the land surface, and has one-fifteenth of its population. But Americans send and receive nearly two-thirds of the world's mail. The post office handle more than 60 billion pieces of mail a year, plus a billion pieces of parcel post. We are fast approaching the season when the majority of that mail goes thru the nations post offices.

Kentuckians asked to be alert to insurance fraud

Commissioner C. P. Thurman, Department of Insurance, Frankfort, has called upon Kentuckians to be alert for representatives of insurance companies doing unauthorized business in Kentucky.

Thurman said the companies are:

The Adair County Home Benevolent Society, Adair, Iowa. This society is not even authorized to do business in the State Iowa, Thurman said. Their plan of operation is to assess each living member of the society when death occurs to some member of the organization, he said.

The Locomotive Engineers & Conductors Mutual Protective Association, Detroit, Mich. Hospitalization and accidental death are included in this company's policy which provides for suspension affag a penalty or discipline from the railroad company, Thurman said.

The C.P.A. Company, Detroit, Mich. This company is writing insurance in Kentucky without being admitted and is using non-licensed agents, the Commissioner concluded.

More fabric blends of wool and Dacron are available this year than ever before for both men's and women's wear. They are light in weight and easy to care for.

The per capita consumption of dry milk has been rising, but of evaporated and condensed milk, declining. One cup of dry milk combined with 4 cups of water makes a quart of milk.

Kentucky is second in net farm income among southeastern states.
