THE STARS

LYN CONNELLY

FOR some time we have written about Tommy Sands we had known as a child performer . . . We have lamented that Capitol has made him another Presley when he had been such a good country and western singer . . . Now Capitol has given him a chance to was a country and western ballad and ritlie are surprised at the expert way he handles himself . . . Tommy is absolutely great in his latest disc, "I Love You Because" . . . We were out the waxing just reviewing it as it played again and again and again . . . something we never did with any of his rock'n roll numbers.

This is the Tommy Sands he should be and whether the side sells or not we hope Capitol will continue to give him music as . . . In fact, it might not be a bad idea for them to dig out some old Eddy Arnold hits such as "Bouquet of Roses" . . . Tommy always wanted to be another Eddy Arnold and the music world is ready for one . . . but it's loaded with kids who can sing rock 'n roll . . . Try "I Love You Because," compare it with the flip side, Tommy Sands "Baby" and you'll see what we mean.

PLATTER CHATTER

MERCURY, — The Diamonds are setting the charts and a good disk is their latest effort, "Kathy-O," a haunting, folk-song type of thing . . . Wonderful change for the boys and for music in general . . . It probably won't do much because "it doesn't have a beat" but it's worth buying just to soothe frayed nerves after a rock session . . . Real smooth and personally, we think its the best the group has ever done . . . Flip side has a light effort "Happy Years."

CAPITOL:—Dean Martin's latest makes three hits in a row for the lonesome singer . . . "Volare" and a whole of a number it is . . . Should go big . . . "Outta My Mind" is on the reverse.

CANNING TOMATO JUICE

With a large tomato crop this year, UK food specialists recommend that housewives can some of the excess supply as tomato juice. It will be an excellent source of vitamin C during the winter months, and it will save considerably on food costs. The directions are simple:

Select firm ripe tomatoes and wash thoroughly. Peeling is not necessary, but remove all the core and cut fruit into quarters or less. Heat to simmering in covered kettle, until juice flows freely, stirring often. Strain quickly and add 1 teaspoon of salt to a quart of juice.

Reheat juice to boiling and pour into clean, hot jars to within ¼-inch of the top. Adjust jar lids and process in boiling water bath 10 minutes for both pints and quarts.

As soon as jars are removed from hot water bath, complete the seal.
