CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The thought that acknowledgment of one, infinite God, and obedience to His commands, is essential for the spiritualization and salvation of mankind, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "God." The Golden Text is from Deuteronomy (10: 12, 13):

"And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, to keep the commandments of the Lord, and his statutes, which I command thee this day for thy good?"

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (225: 25-27):

"There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God."

Babson Predicts

to a city for future suburban developments should be held. I forecast such farms should some day sell for triple their present price.

37 Seashore property should be held. The government can print more bonds and corporations can split and declare stock dividends to make more stocks; but only God can make seashore property.

38. I forecast that real estate taxes will increase during 1960. Wise are property owners who make their rentals "PLUS ANNUAL TAXES."

39. As the Russians gradually move westward like a glacier, taking ownership of property, wise people in Europe will sell their present property and businesses and move to the United States.

40. I forecast that revolutions in mining will continue during 1960, and you may find that you are living on a valuable iron deposit, if not on a gold mine!

INVESTMENT OUTLOOK

41. For the first time in the 40 years that I have been preparing these Annual Outlooks, I shall not take a position on the Dow-Jones Average in 1960. I am, however, inclined to believe that the stock market in general will hold up at least until after the election. Then there may come a break, unless ever party wins the election next November.

42. I forecast 1960 will be the year to buy good bonds. United States Government Bonds yielding 5% are a great bargain. Anyone buying them is bound to make money. I also like all non-taxable bonds and also some taxable but convertible bonds.

43. I forecast some chemical stocks will still be a buy in 1960, although they yield little income and are good only as growth stocks.

44. There will be failures by the thousands among those companies now issuing worthless stocks. Electronics issues have become a popular fad. There is also unemployment ahead for many who are now working in electronics factories.

45. I forecast that the stocks of electric power companies, but not those of large cities, will be in greater demand in 1960.

46. Of all stocks, I forecast that United Fruit may be most in demand in 1960.

47. I predict that only a few railroads will be popular during 1960, such as Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, and perhaps Southern Pacific and Atchison. I am bearish on Pennsylvania Railroad, New York Central, New Haven, and all short lines except for the Norfolk & Western's pet gravity road." I also fear a short railroad strike.

48. Failures will continue to increase during 1960.

49 I forecast that the huge national roadbuilding program will give an uplift to business as it progresses.

50. There will be no marked changes in money rates during 1960. Inflation will gradually continue, but may not be serious during 1960.

The best investment policy during 1960 will continue to be a well-diversified portfolio with one-third in stocks for possible growth profits, one-third in of bonds for safety and income, and one-third in cash in order to have funds available for investment in the severe and sudden drop in the stock market which will come some day.

CONCLUSION

The three handicaps to American business in 1960 will be increasing installment purchases, the unfair demands of labor union leaders, and President Eisenhower's physical condition. The three hopes for America are our churches our schools, and our praying parents.

Wonders of Cairo

It made one wonder what must have been in the tomb of Rameses III who reigned for 67 years. It is difficult to conceive that one in the process of objects made, carved or painted two or three thousand years before Christ. When I saw in the Cairo Museum. and wonder.

We took a taxi to the ancient Citadel or old fort of Cairo and there visited the magnificent Mosque of Mohammed Ali (Mehemet Ali) Mohammed Ali was the grandfather of Farouk —the last king of Egypt. This is a Turkish family and my guide explained that that is why the Egyptians drove him out.

The mosque is very ornate. We visited the fountain of ablutions—they had to make cleanliness a part of the Mohammedan religion to get the desert tribesmen ever to wash. A man at the door of the mosque put some cloth sandals on our shoes and we walked in to the mosque and on some priceless carpets. It was easy to understand why they do not want you to walk on them with street shoes. There are two pulpits, one of gold, with a long flight of steps leading up to each of them. The lighting is outstanding and you would notice the niche in the wall that gives the direction of Mecca to the faithful.

There is a fine view of Cairo from the citidel since it is on a high hill—we were all torn need for defense. The guide pointed out the bazzar where we were going on our way back to the hotel for lunch.

In the bazzar we stopped by a perfume shop where I had the exciting experience of bargaining with the shopkeeper. He sent out for Persian mint tea while we began to haggle. When I got the price of 4 bottles of perfume down to half what he originally asked, I bought them. I still wonder if I could have halved that!

In the afternoon we went out to see the suburbs of Cairo and to visit the pyramids and the sphinx. I knew that the pyramid of Cheops was large but was amazed nonetheless. One side of it is one acre and it covers an acre of nearly 13 acres. It was 482 ft high before someone knocked the top of it off. I climbed up inside it to the kings chamber which is in the exact center. You have to come down backwards as the incline is so steep that it isn't safe to walk down forwards. (I suppose that is the reason it is cause I didn't ask the guide!)

The Sphinx is of solid limestone and is smaller than I thought it would be. We walked to it from the base of one end and then I got on a camel and had a ride into the desert to the sphinx which is to the east of the pyramids. The camel of one end the camel came out very well.

We drove back to the city by a route along the Nile which was in flood and very red with mud. I noticed a "skyscraper" and was told it was an apartment house. I wondered how it could stand since it was built on that sandy soil.

I had intended to tell you of the overnight trip by train up the Nile to Upper Egypt (which is down South) and Luxor and Karnak which are really the old Thebes, but this has become long enough The trip down through the desert and I think I breathed tons of sand and dust. When I think of it now I think of dust.

Here I visited the famous temples of Luxor and Karnak and saw most of the more than 600 statues of Rameses II. He had built of himself! Here were hieroglyphics that could have been written on the walls or carved into the walls to be sure exactly when Moses was a prince in the royal palace. We went across the Nile and visited the Valley of the Kings and went to King "Tut's" (Tutankhamun) tomb and others.
