Best voice for the merchant

Reports indicate that holiday sales ran three to four per cent over the preceding year.

But this experience was not universal. New York City sales of department and specialty stores lagged in the pre-Christmas weeks. And the reason was the strike which shutdown all the metropolis' newspapers.

Merchants tried to make up for this loss of advertising media by issuing broadsides and intensifying radio and TV announcements. That helped—but it couldn't take up the slack. According to a spokesman for a leading store, when people lack the suggestions made in newspaper advertising. "They're slower to make choices. If you have a special gift item on hand, you've got to tell people about it or they don't know it's there."

In any community, big or little, the local newspaper is still the best advertising voice the merchant has.

Horn-tooting needed

High school and college students are greatly underestimating the career opportunities which exist on the reporting and editing staffs of the nation's newspapers.

That is one major conclusion in a study sponsored by Dow Jones & Company, and made by Alvin E. Austin, head of North Dakota University's journalism department. And the study blames newspapers themselves for a widespread failure to inform young people of the opportunities that exist.

As a consequence, over 67 per cent of the newspapers surveyed regard shortage of manpower as a leading problem.

Newspaper pay has been rising, the report goes on. In addition, the work offers other rewards: Excitement, prestige, a way of life.

It looks as if this country's newspapers need to do a little more horn-tooting so far as career opportunity is concerned. And there is a big question of public interest involved too. As the report says: "Newspapers always have got the best minds available to perform their vital task of keeping the public informed. Never has this been truer than now, in the scientific, social and economic breakthroughs."

New Jersey has adopted the country's toughest highway-speed laws. License revocation for exceeding the posted limits will be mandatory. On the first offense, revocation will be for 30 days; on the second for 60 days; on the third, for an indefinite period.

Heaviest snow of winter falls; 500 people suffering influenza

Thursday, January 19, 1939

With 126 consumers already under contract, the Harrison County Rural Electrification Project plans to serve a large section of Nicholas County, extending from the Harrison county line on the west to the Hinkston bridge on the eastern boundary of the county. Electric service is promised by April 1.

Judge Samuel Holmes, 78, City Attorney of Carlisle and dean of the Nicholas County bar, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon at his home on Locust street, after suffering a heart attack.

The February term of the Nicholas circuit court will open here Monday, Feb. 9.

The price of eggs has gradually declined since Christmas and the lowest price in months was reached Wednesday when local dealers were offering 14 cents per dozen.

The heaviest snow of the winter fell throughout this section last week, bringing the first winter weather of the season.

Through the efforts of County Attorney Bruce Morford, a WPA project has been undertaken to compile a map showing the boundaries of all farms in the county.

MARRIED — Miss Catherine Norton and Herndon Nixon, both of Carlisle, at Paris Jan. 14—Miss Marie Belle Coleman and Walter B. Sams, both of the Myers section, Jan. 13.

DIED — Curtis Green, 65, Sunday night at his home near Bartersville.—Mrs. Ida Roberts, Harney Valley, 64, of the Rose Hill section, last Thursday morning.—Thomas H. Dallas, 60, Tuesday afternoon at his home.—Mrs. Louella Endicott, 93, of the Oakland Mills section Friday morning at the Johnson Memorial hospital.

Thursday, January 23, 1919

Legislatures of 37 states have ratified the prohibition amendment.

More than five hundred people in Nicholas County suffering with influenza.

Robert Harper sells 600-acre farm near Cowan to W. F. Clark, L. B. Barton and Henry Reed for $84,000.

Mrs. Fletcher Morris fatally burned when her clothing ignites as she was standing before an open fire at her home near Oakland Mills.

B. T. Wright of Bath county, sells crop of more than 5,000 pounds of tobacco on local market for $77.93 per hundred, highest average reported in the state.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGinley notified by War Department that their son, Eddie Roy McGinley, reported missing several weeks ago, was killed in action in France.

BORN — To Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holland on Jan. 21, a son.—To Mr. and Mrs. John Watkins on the 18th, a son.

DIED—Mrs. Jeff Crayerft, 52, at her home in Carlisle on the 22nd.—Charlie Murray, 18, and Walker Murray, 14, sons of W. T. Murray of near Headquarters, died within three days of each other.—Mrs. McClanahan, 72, native of Nicholas, at Hattiesburg, Miss.—Infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Shannon at their home near Mt. Zion.—Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Crowe Shea of the Ellisville section, the youngest less than a week, victims of influenza.

Only a Scrap of Paper

Mr. and Mrs. William c. Campbell have a great liking for auction sales where they buy a lot of interesting things for their new home on Dorsey avenue. That's how come they bought a bunch of old books recently. Browsing through the lot the other night a small piece of paper fluttered to the floor from the pages of "2010 Popular Quotations" by Elmo, (whoever he was—and don't fail to notice that period). O yes, the little scrap of paper! It was a receipt for two dollars for a Carlisle Mercury subscription given on January 4, 1889, by the late Green R. Keller to one G. D. Knox. I never heard of Mr. Knox—did you know him? Mr. Keller was editor of The Mercury from July 1882 until his death in September 1912. Take note of the very small advance in subscription price during the past sixty years. Just "smoke that in your pipe!"

A Red-Hot Tip.

From Bert Vincent, columnist of Knoxville, Tenn., comes the "tall tale" of a lady down that way who bought a big goose for Christmas, not so much for the meat, he declares she claims, but for the goose grease to grease her aching joints. That's the best news I've heard so far this year, if it works. Who has a goose?

Buttons and Bows.

It seems strange, but interesting, that so many things common to the older people lar books to be found at your clude "Doctor Zhivago" and Ugly American", "Exodus" and "The Twelve and Twenty" by Pat Boone, "I Married the Veep" and "Out of my Heart" by Agnes Turnbull.

Dear Mr. Fisher:

I recently had occasion to read your editorial entitled, "Wanted Fewer Accidents, Needed More Police" that appeared in the November 27 issue of your paper.

I would like to take this means to compliment you on your interest in such a worthwhile service. We of the Division of State Police are of course very concerned with the accident and fatality rate in our state. I feel that we have been most fortunate in securing two increases of 105 officers each in the last two sessions of the legislature. This was personally recommended by the Governor and we feel that we are most fortunate in having received such an increase in personnel.

We realize of course, that the addition of police officers is an expensive proposition; however, when it is prorated in such a manner as you present it in your editorial, the cost seems relatively small. Again, let me compliment you on your interest and fine presentation of a subject that is very close to all of us in the State Police.

Very truly yours

Any Old Name Will Do

Between sneezes and a determined effort to cut an aspirin in half with scissors Little One really got disgusted. After several tries she blurted out "I can't do nuthin' my nose is full of static." Real modern, Grandpa, reported missing everybody is full of static right now too.

Brighten Your Corner.

If I've said this before it will bear repeating. We all know that new song is telling the truth when it says "It would be better "If we heard more about Jesus and less rock 'n' roll."

BOOK REVIEW

Remedies and Rackets
—James Cook

This book is sub-titled, "The Truth about Patent Medicines Today" and it documents the tragic failure of consumers and government agencies in protecting the American consumer from nostrum quackery and dangerously misleading drug advertising.

Naming names in every chapter, it tells the amusing, disturbing, outrageous story about a business that affects your pocketbook and your health; it exposes the slick, colorful technique used by drug promoters to get their products into your medicine cabinet. It gives the facts behind the advertising gimmick you see on TV and in your magazines and hear via radio, and it is a scathing indictment of consumers by many segments of this fantastic industry.

The author, James Cook is chief medical writer of The New York Post.

"Remedies and Rackets" is only one of the current popular public library. Others include "The Affluent American", "The Status Seekers", "The Hidden Persuaders", "The Waste Makers", "The Organization Man", "The Lonely Crowd", "The Power Elite", "The Exurbanites", "The Insolent Chariots", "The Last Hurrah", "The Ugly American", "Exodus" and "The Twelve and Twenty" by Pat Boone, "I Married the Veep" and "Out of my Heart" by Agnes Turnbull.

I enjoyed your father's write up on Christmas of the years long ago, and what it meant to children of those days. I think I very really appreciated the gifts they received much more than the children of today, and, I firmly believed Santa came down the chimney and filled my stocking with candy and apples and fire crackers and I was a happy little girl to think he had remembered me.

How well I remember the blowing up of the bag blatters and they were hung in the meal house for safe keeping for Christmas morning.

Some time ago in an issue of the Mercury I read an article of Mrs. Shanklin. I believe was the name and before her maiden rage her name was Sofrona Mann, daughter of Jespatha and Melissa Trisler Mann. and I want to say I was raised in the same neighborhood. Jep Mann was. He was a young man and I a little girl and Miss Lissa as she was called taught our school at the Sugar Creek school house and I loved her more than any teacher I ever had and they lived in that community when Frona was born and there was another daughter born after they left there I think her name was Ethel.

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

ALL SETTLED:

Kentuckians are all settled—the new congressmen and the old.

The two freshmen—Frank Stubblefield and Frank Burke —have moved into their offices in the Old House Office Building, on the second floor. Burke has a smaller office on the second floor of the Old House Office Building.

Congressman Burke wants a committee assignment on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, while Congressman Stubblefield would like Agriculture.

CONTINUITY:

The appointment of Kentucky's John Watts to the all Important House Ways and Means Committee continues a long line of Kentuckians on that tax-writing body that goes back many, many years.

John Breckinridge was a member, so was John G. Carlisle, Henry Watterson, Fred Vinson and, until last session, Noble Gregory.

As a member of that committee, Congressman Watts helps assign other members to other committees. So he'll have a lot of influence.

GOT HELP:

The new Kentucky lawmakers got a lot of help from the veterans.

Brent Spence, who took the oath of office for the 10th time, introduced the freshmen from Kentucky. Other Blue Grass lawmakers donated part-time office help and Burke and Stubblefield made high as their praise of their Washington colleagues.

Both men got busy immediately answering their mail—and the mail was heavy.

ON THE SENATE SIDE:

Senator John Sherman Cooper let his bid to be the floor leader for the Republicans, although no one was surprised.

The Senate Republican fight is not as bitter as the one on the House side. After Senator Cooper had lost to Senator Dirksen both men posed with genuine smiles.

That wasn't the case on the House side where former Speaker Martin was to put it mildly, disappointed over losing to Congressman Halleck after 20 years as the GOP leader

Nicholas 4-H

The Nicholas County grade school met Jan. 9 at 9:30 in the seventh grade room with Mrs. Wilson and Mr. Whitaker. The president, Linda Ritchie, opened the meeting by having the roll call by Don Sundys the secretary. A program was given on Safety by 11 girls and two boys. The president then turned the meeting over to in school in 1950.

Mrs. Wilson, who gave out the sewing books. We were led in singing many songs by Sharon Ockerman.

Mr. Whitaker led us in playing many games. We will meet again Feb. 13.—Dorcas Allison, reporter

THURSDAY, JANUARY 15
Read John 8:14

Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works. (John 14:10)

Keen-minded, thoughtful Soon Woo Lee, from Korea, became a much-loved member of our home and family. This young man was alert to new truth and ever seeking new meanings.

In speaking of my husband, he remarked to me one day, "I know in my heart I'll always be like him. He does not say to us, 'Do these things,' or 'Must not do those.' He just shows us by the way he lives. Long time I saw that he honored and worshiped, but never before do I know God to love Now. I know and feel love."

By the way He lived daily, Jesus showed us His faith in His Father Jesus' constant companionship with God was evident in all Jesus did.

Let us do all we can to increase our faith in God so that we will share all our daily doings with Him. When our love for Him expresses itself in all we do and say, our influence points others to Him.

PRAYER: Dear Father, we thank Thee for Jesus Christ, who taught us to love and trust Thee. Continue to work in us and through us that those who know us best may see the glory of Thy face and come to know the joy of loving Thee and following Christ. In His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

I would live so close to God that I may always be conscious of His presence with me. Wilma Wintringham (Ohio)
