Hanging is Too Good!

It looks like the time is now at hand when one dares not wash his undies and hang them on the line while he takes an afternoon nap, without having an armed guard standing by. Despite the fact that punishment has been dished out in liberal doses to thieves in recent weeks, stealing goes on about the same.

Due to age, illness and a recently broken hip, Mrs. Maggie Francis, who has been at the Johnson Convalescent Home since leaving the hospital, can no longer keep house, and is entering the Christian Church home for widows, so about ten days ago there was an auction of her home and belongings only a block South of where I am writing this.

After the sale, her suitcase containing the personal belongs she planned to take with her, also her best dress and coat were left in the house for the night. A thief entered Came Monday morning the suitcase and dress were found in a garden on Morgan street by a man who was after a rab-

Much could be said about the leaders who made the County Achievement Program possible for our Project Champions and also the program for all the 4-H members that was held at the Carlisle City Gym. bit. He had not heard of the robbery. Papers, including the invalid's marriage certificate of many years ago, were found blowing around here and there. This is the story as it was told to me.

Authorities were notified and investigated, but no arrests have been made as far as I know. Just good old-fashioned hanging is too good for a thieving wretch such as this.

Can't Be Wrong Every Time.

My father was an expert gardener. Also he planted everything in the moon! The "sign" had to be just so-so before he ventured any undertaking—and I took after my dad! I believe in his way of doing things no little bit, I do. Here is what I want to know. Around 6:30 a.m. every week day it happens. How comes when two slices of bacon (sundays we splurge a little and have sausage) are placed side by side they just about fill the little skillet, but as they begin to sizzle they also begin to draw up! When done they are very little larger than a postage stamp. Is the moon in any way to blame? I have heard that it is—That the "sign" is wrong! I would like a little information on how and when to set more for my money.

According to Schedule.

Preaching services are being conducted as usual by guest ministers while Rev. and Mrs. Bierley are recuperating from their recent automobile accident. Rev. James Rose has been preaching both Sunday morning and evening. This coming Sunday, known as Total Enlistment Sunday, the Rev. J. W. Worthington, District Superintendent, will conduct the dedicatory service and also preach both morning and evening. Every member is urged to attend.

Miss Beulah Hughes and Mrs. Ernest Seeby are in charge of issuing the Sunday Bulletins and a mighty fine job they are doing too!

Reward for Patience.

While raking leaves Saturday several violets and dandelions were found which are not all our flowers for Thanksgiving. The tiny Lantana I received last Mothers' Day didn't do so well all summer—not another bloom! Recently the frail thing was accidently broken and as I carried it to the trash can I noticed a very small bud so I placed that half in a vase of water and set it in a sunny window. It took off like a bomber. For Thanksgiving we will have one lovely blossom all pink, rose, orange and lavender — a beautiful thing this time of year. Is that a Lantana habit or have I made a discovery.

Letters to the Editor

Chamber of Commerce
Carlisle, Kentucky

Mr. Warren Fisher, editor
Carlisle Mercury
Carlisle, Kentucky

Dear Mr. Fisher:

Now that "Mercury Vapor" street lights have been installed on Main Street we would like to thank those people who made this possible.

1st. Our local Kentucky Utilities Manager, Morris Whiteley, for securing the necessary data and presenting it to our City Council in a clear practical manner. This will cost Kentucky utilities well over $3000.00 in equipment alone and proves their willingness to work for the betterment of our community.

2nd—Our Mayor and City Council for recognizing NEED, the comparatively low cost and taking immediate action so the lights would be in use for the busy Christmas Season.

INDEED, it reflects proof of our city government's determination to give Carlisle further opportunity to grow and prosper.

Yours truly,
Retail Division

Mr. Warren Fisher, Editor

Dear Mr. Fisher:

It is not my wish to burden the Mercury with too many Nicholas County Memories, but L. T. Pott's reaction to my suggestion that a Parks Hill Alumni Association be formed prompts me to further advance the idea by nominating Mrs. William Frey as president of the Association and Mrs. Edna Keller as secretary-treasurer, and while I have the floor I move you, the temporary chairman, that the nomination be closed and the chairman be authorized to declare the candidates elected unanimously.

Mrs. Frey, as you know, is the daughter of Mr. Moses Glenn, one of the incorporators of the Deering Camp Ground Association, and Mrs Keller's father-in-law gave unstiningly of space in the Mercury in the furtherance of the meetings held by that Association on Parks Hill.

To go a step further in the suggested organization I should also like to protect our membership from the pitfalls of Smokey Hollow by insurance of admission to the association by the payment of a membership fee of twenty five cents which was the gate admission to Parks Hill on its heyday and which I am not sure Potts and his acquaintance retained after having pooled their $1.75 on the shell game up the 'Hollow.'

Restoration of Parks Hill as we remember it is impractical, but the hill is still there, and it should be possible for the Alumni to meet there with delicious basket dinners once a year to sing, 'Happy Days are Here Again.'

Yours for nothing better to do
Lewis P. Scott

WILL YOUR COMMUNITY HELP BUILD MY COMPANY'S NEW PLANT?

More and more industries are asking local communities to help them finance the construction of new plants. The local development group that can come up with the soundest plan — revenue bonds, local stock or pledges, or whatever — has a much better chance to land a new industrial payroll.

The Kentucky Department of Economic Development and the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce stand ready to assist and advise with any community on plant financing and all other matters relating to industrial development. We're your partners in building a more prosperous Kentucky.

Our experienced staffs are at your command. Contact the Kentucky Department of Economic Development, Capitol Annex Building, Frankfort, or the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, 670 South Third Street, Louisville.

Is A Girl Of 15 Too Young?

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: "I am new in this town. Before I moved here the boy I liked went steady with another girl. A friend arranged our first date. Since then I have grown to like him more. We dated during the summer and a few times since school started. The other day he told me that he enjoyed dating me, but he thought I was too young for him. I'm fifteen, and he is seventeen. I like him very much but I think he likes the first girl again. Please have much will be true in this particular case.

If our assumption is correct the only reason the boy is now dating the other girl is because she is 16 or 17 we think that time will solve our young lady's problem for her.

The difference of a year or two in the age of a boy and girl is important in the early teens, less important in the later teen years. You boys 17 or older like to date girls who are fifteen. But a girl of 16, if she is popular, attractive, or has a pleasing personality, usually gets requests for dates from many 19-year-old boys.

So, to our young friend, we say, "Don't be too obvious in any efforts to "win" him back. Be friendly and agreeable, and don't turn down other dates while you are trying to win him back. Make yourself so popular as you can with everyone. You'll find that a bright and happy world lies before you.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or are observing a week without one, write to C. D. Smith, Teen Editor, THE CARLISLE MERCURY, P.O. BOX 211, FRANKFORT, KY.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, November 26

Read Ephesians 5: 9-20

Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. (Ephesians 5: 20.)

How good to count our blessings! We need to thank Gor for our beautiful country and for our homes and loved ones We need to say thanks for our churches with their doors open where we can go and worship.

An old, deaf lady told me once that she could not hear a word of the sermons. But she was so grateful to God that she could walk and see. So she found her place in church every Sunday.

We need to say thanks for friends, for they know much about us, but love us just the same.

For food, the beauty of the earth, the skies, the lakes, and trees, and flowers, we need to give God thanks.

We need to say thanks for chastening, for it can strengthen our faith.

Sometimes sickness is a blessing in disguise. We can thank God for His presence with us in times of illness.

Most of all, we need to thank God for Jesus Christ, for His life here on earth. His sacrificial death and glorious resurrection, and for His daily guidance of our lives.

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, forgive us for our ungrateful-ness for all Thy goodness to us. Instil in us the spirit of thanksgiving so that we may be mindful always of Thy daily, loving care, as was Jesus. In His name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Parks Homemakers

by Mrs. W. L. Marr

The November meeting of the Parks homemakers club was held at the home of Mrs. Mason Bryant near Maysville, Kentucky, with eleven members and Mrs. Margie Wilson in attendance. Mary Ruth Hollar was taken in as a new member.

Mrs. Dorsey Watkins gave the devotional, reading the 100 Psalm and giving a reading on Thanksgiving.

The roll call was answered by naming their place of birth.

The lesson on "Basic Wardrobe" was given by Mrs. Wilson.

The group enjoyed a delicious lunch at Frisch's. The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Nelson, Lexington.

Mrs. Will Luktemeier and Betty Penn, Frankfort, were here last Monday for the funeral of Mrs. A. E. Trumbo.

Mrs A. E. Trumbo, who passed away at the home of her grandson, Gene Brother in Maysville, Friday, Nov. 13, was the last surviving child of my father's family the late W. B. Haselrigg. He was the oldest of a family of nine children and she was the youngest. All of her brothers and sisters families were represented at her funeral except one sister's son R. C. Gossett, who lives in Oklahoma and who had often visited her home She was a lovely Christian woman and in addition to her family leaves a host of friends to mourn her passing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Blake and children, Cincinnati, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Estle Blake.

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

SOCIAL NOTE:

The Kentucky Society of Washington, composed mostly of those far beyond their teens, turned back the clock the other night.

They had a College Night dance at the National Press Club and the Kentuckian who looked like a collegian whatever that means) won a prize. Some racoon coats were resurrected and moths flew about the room.

EGGS-ACT INFORMATION:

How many eggs do you eat each year?

If you are an average Kentuckian you'll digest eggs-actly 352. Course they won't be all fried, scrambled or boiled. Some of them will be in cakes, pies, custards, and in other disguises—including eggnog.

We are indebted for this bit of egg-citing information to the Department of Agriculture.

SOUTH VS. NORTH:

If you are passing out honors for those Kentuckians who stood by the South, give the Confederate flag to Colonel Frank Chelf, Congressman from the Fourth Kentucky District.

Someone, with nothing better to do, worked up a list of congressional votes pitting the North against the South. Mr. Chelf, it was revealed, gave the rebel yell seven times.

What all this proves, we don't rightly know.

GOLFING MAILMEN:

Don't be shocked if you, who live in the cities, see the local mail carrier pulling a golf cart. He is not out for a bit of sport.

The Postoffice Department is using such carts in several cities. It won't make for faster delivery, but the poor carrier can tote double the load.

Some Kentucky towns are using mobile units and the golf cart—hand-drawn—may come next. Seems that most mail carriers are pleased with the innovation.
