Child safety week Sept. 8-14

September 8-14 has been proclaimed as Child Safety Week in Kentucky, urging motorist to exercise extreme caution during the critical opening of the school season.

Here the County schools opened on September 8 and for the next nine months the greater part of the school child's day will be spent under the care of the school personnel. Parents and children should be very aware of safety precautions to observe for the child to obtain the greatest benefit of educational opportunities offered.

To begin the day in a "safe way" parents should see that the child has sufficient time in the morning to eat a good breakfast and meet the school bus on time without feeling rushed. A good breakfast gives the child energy to face the day with an alert mind and healthy body. At school the child is offered a nuturious lunch at a minimum cost to give him the further energy needed to carry on his studies and recreational activities.

In regard to safety rules concerning the school bus the law demands that traffic in both directions stop when any school bus is stopped to load or unload pupils and remain at a standstill until the bus is in motion again.

Children, too, are expected to observe the rules of safety. They should walk on the left side of the highway, facing traffic; they should stay on sidewalks and not walk or run in the streets; they should cross the street only at corners and never from behind parked cars. Bicycle riders should observe traffic rules, ride single file on the right-hand side of the street, and ride only one to a bike.

On the school grounds the speed limit is 20 miles per hour. At Nicholas County high the policy is to discourage cars being driven to school. If they are driven they will be parked and remain parked during the schoolday. No one will be allowed to sit in a parked car at school. School buses will leave grounds before any cars do.

As a safety rule skipping school will not be tolerated. No student will be allowed to leave the school grounds without written permission through the school office. Order in the halls at schools is expected. A safety rule is that students walk to the right in the halls.

Teachers and other school personnel feel the responsibility of the safety of the children under his care. The school child should employ at all times all means of kindness and courtesy toward the ones responsible for his safety. As a further safety measure school insurance is offered to students.

How to budget heating bills

without service charges

Most of us are always searching for ways to reduce bills. But, it's not always easy.

That's why we offer a budget plan for your heating oil bills. Instead of paying most of your heating bills between November and March, when you're faced with holiday costs, taxes, extra food and clothing expenses—you use this plan.

It provides for 10 equal payments to stretch out the costs. Your bills are smaller during the peak heating months. And that means you'll have extra money on hand to meet the other expenses.

There's no service charge connected with our budget plan. Call us today.

We warmly recommend you try us

VOLUME 92 ESTABLISHED 1867 CARLISLE, KY., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1959 PRICE TEN CENTS NUMBER 38

Labor survey here Saturday noon to 9 p.m.

Ladies don't forget, if you are between the ages of 18 and 40, be sure you apply at the court house this Saturday, Sept. 19 noon to 9 p.m. and assist the Chamber of Commerce and yourself in the labor survey.

The purpose of the survey is to determine the number of female workers between the ages of 18 and 40 who are interested in working for a Nicholas County industry.

Be sure you're counted—it could mean $1 per hour and up a paid vacation hospitalization life insurance and paid holidays.

Attend showing of '60 Ford

Two Ford dealers from Carlisle are making a special visit to Ford Motor Company headquarters in Dearborn this week to view the 1960 cars and trucks, meet face-to-face with the engineers who designed them, and discuss with Henry Ford II and others the promise that the forthcoming decade holds for the national economy and the automobile industry.

Those attending from Carlisle are: Charles Harper and W. C. Harper of Harper's Garage.

Three new bands to be organized

With the consolidation of the Nicholas County Grade Schools a reality plans have been announced that instruction will be made available to all 6th and 7th grade students who wish to learn a band instrument.

Carroll Hall, the county band instructor is concluding a test of native musical ability in these grades. These tests given to all students, will help to determine the musical material that is to be developed. Parents of all Nicholas County children in the 6th and 7th grades will be notified concerning the procedure to follow in the enrollment of their child in this program.

Present plans call for a beginning instrumental class at each of the three grade schools Moorefield Parks and Nicholas County Grade

Football news

by Judy Hopkins

Carlisle chalked up its second win of the season with a 26-0 victory over Stanford Friday night.

In the first quarter Clark spun away from would-be tacklers at the mid-line to go all the way for Carlisle's first TD. Wilson kicked the extra point. The quarter ended with a score of 7 to 0.

Carlisle's only other scoring attempt in the first half was made when Wilson intercepted a pass and raced 85 yards down the field only to miss the goal by feet as the half ended.

Wilson made his first touchdown in the third quarter on a 35 yard run. Wilson place-kicked for the extra point. The score ends at the third quarter 14 to 0.

Wilson made his second TD of the game in the fourth to make the score 20 to 0. The final points were scored on a 10-yard pass from Wilson to Hollar in the final minutes of the game.

PARENT VISITATION IN LOCAL SCHOOL

A Parent Visitation program is being planned in the city school by Carlisle PTA for its October meeting. It is a program that will enable parents to learn from teachers the various classroom aims and procedures and the methods of teaching. The program will include both elementary and high school curriculum, and definitely will be of interest to all parents.

Similar programs have been held in other schools and have proved to be an excellent method for parents to understand the schedules and efforts of individual children during a school day. Every parent should plan to participate in this visitation program to learn firsthand the procedures in our local school.

Scholarship winner tells about trip

"It was too wonderful for words" was the comment received from Rebecca Barlow, winner of the American Youth Foundation Scholarship given through the 4-H Club Department. This scholarship is given to outstanding boys and girls in Kentucky who excell in Leadership. The scholarship consists of a $300 award which pays the recipient's fee to attend Camp Minwanca, which is a Leadership training camp located on Beautiful Lake Michigan. While at Camp Minwanca you are introduced to all different types of leadership, and personnel counseling is given by professional counselors on the subject of four-fold development. Camp Minwanca is one of the outstanding camps of its kind in the United States and is highly recommended for the outstanding Leadership Training that they offer to the boys and girls who are outstanding enough to win a scholarship to attend.

Rebecca was the second Nicholas Countian to receive this award. The first person from this county to win the Scholarship award was Mr Glenn Clay in 1939. Both Rebecca and Glenn will agree that the Camp Minwanca Trip is one of the highest honors a 4-H Club member can receive in the development of Leadership and Personnel Adjustment.

TOBACCO BARN BURN

A five-bent barn filled with tobacco was burned to the ground at 6 p.m. Tuesday night of unknown origin.

The farm belongs to Mr and Mrs Harry Henry, and is located on the rear of their farm about 2½ miles east of Carlisle on the Moorefield road.

The fire was discovered by neighbors who notified Mr Henry who had recently returned to the house after milking. A large crowd from that section helped to move farming implements from the barn, and continued until 3 a.m. Wednesday morning in saving a large corn field located near the barn. No estimate of their loss has been made today and the Henrys carried a small insurance on the building.

This farm is known as the Linville farm.

Catches fingers in windshield wiper motor

Frankie Hughes is a wiser fellow following his episode with the windshield wiper on his car Saturday morning. Seems Hughes reached up under the dash to check on the wiper motor's operation and caught several fingers—mashed of course. According to reports it took the fire department, the police department and other bystanders to effect a release.

County schools receive new Textbooks

Parents of County school children this year will be interested to learn that approximately 2,000 new books have been issued in the county in grades one through eight. All text books in grades one through eight are furnished free to the child by the State High school students are required to buy their own books.

These new books are beautiful to see and the exciting titles will stir the child's imagination. A parent who will take time to look over his child's books will have a real treat in store. At the same time all parents should cooperate with the teachers in demanding that these free text books be kept clean and free from markings. They are used from year to year by different students and the average life of a book is over four years.

New reading books in the first grade include "Tip," "Jack and Janet," "Up and Away," and "Tip Mitten and the Big Show." In the second grades new reading books are "Come Along," and "On We Go." Grade three received "Looking Ahead," and "Climbing High." Arithmetic in Grade four is "Discovering Numbers," in Grade five, "Exploring Numbers," in Grade six "Understanding Numbers," and Grade seven, "Thinking with Numbers." In grade seven "Exploring Kentucky is a Kentucky History that any parent would enjoy reading. The eighth grade has a new spelling book this year.

The Deposit Bank of Carlisle was named as executor of the estate.

Game officer is a servant of the people

Frankfort, Sept. 16—"Do you know the conservation officer in your county?" asks the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

If you're a hunter or fisherman and don't know your local officer, says the agency, you aren't getting full benefit from your license dollar.

The department adds:

Conservation officers, often incorrectly called "game wardens", are not solely law enforcement men. Their job is to help you with any problem you might have concerning hunting and fishing. They're willing and able, but they aren't mind-readers, so it's up to you to let them know what you need.

If you're confused about a fish or game law, check with your CO. He can explain the way it works and why.

If you want your pond stocked with fish—free, by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources — he'll check your pond and make proper recommendations to the central office in Frankfort. If the pond needs chemical treatment he'll see that biologists are there to do the job. the only cost to you will be the small price of the chemicals.

If you're interested in planting food and cover plots, he'll take applications for those, too, and work with the wildlife biologist in making sure that they're properly planted.

Be sure to call on Harry Duncan, your local conservation officer.

Annual Nicholas County Fair will be held September 24-25-26

The 22nd annual Nicholas County Fair will be held at the Carlisle Armory September 24, 25, and 26, G. L. Curtsinger, president, has announced.

Due to the success of the pony show it has again been scheduled for Friday afternoon and is one of the popular attractions of the fair. The square dance was a popular event last year and this year's dance will be held on Friday night, following the Carlisle Lancaster football game on Cudney's Parking Lot. Admission will be 75¢ couple; 50¢ stag. The Dairy Show, featuring FFA, 4-H Club and Adult Division will be staged on Saturday morning.

Through the courtesy of Nicholas County Health Department, a Baby Show has been arranged and will be held Saturday afternoon. The Pet Show which has been held for several years has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon. The Tractor Pulling Contest has been growing in popularity and this year's event will be held on Saturday night at 8:00 p.m. at Mattox's Lot.

The general premium list will be very similar to that of last year for the general exhibits to be housed in the Armory. This included such items as: the flower show, 4-H Home Economics, FHA Home Economics, Adult Home Economics, Garden Crops, Tobacco, FFA Exhibits, The General School Exhibit, and the Industrial Art Exhibit.

The Fair catalog has just been released from the Printer and is now available to the public. Copies have been distributed to each school. Anyone wishing a copy of the Catalog, who does not have a child in school, may get one through the County Extension Office, Mr. Curtsinger said. Everyone is cordially invited to participate in the 1959 Nicholas County Fair, which is endeavoring to expand the fair to provide an exhibit that justifies the quality of products produced in Good Ole Nicholas County. All events are scheduled on Central Daylight Time.
