

A LITTLE YAPPIN'
by Nellie Crum
When I awake that first cold morning I felt my pulse to me as I were there. A while later a shivering poison came by in short sleeves, the end of his nose and ears as red as an old flannel petticoat before the War Between the States. I had the nerve to ask how he liked the weather? Gentle as ever, he said he was used to such little things and didn't mind 'em 'n this suddenness."

...I would my church.
...you travel Chestnut street from Locust to Broadway, you will pass the Carlisle Methodist Church and Educational Building. You will see a beautiful piece of masonry, neoclassic composition in front of the structure. It is the new bulletin board, a gift to the church. The design is a lovely creation of three kinds of stone shipped here from the West especially for this piece of work and is being assembled by the Park Monument Company. The base has a place for tributory or flowers on either side of the main stone work which will be fastened with plate glass. It will be lighted and controlled by a time clock which completed a thing of rare color and beauty, it is an expression of love from Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wasson (Gladie Drexler) young members of the church.
The old bulletin board, which has been in use only a few years, has been presented to the colored Methodist congregation and will be erected at Wesley Chapel in Herrington in the next future.

...Word of Wisdom.
...a simple sentence, even one word, will stand out in one's memory for a long time. Here is a sentence in a class all by itself, I think, and it is a masterpiece, coming from the pen of a young student of the Cynthiana high school a week ago last Sunday night. This young evangelist said, "If the members of our church would build the fire the youth will keep it burning." "Can't that something coming from the pen of a good boy? The youth an evangelist in his own right with the other boys and the teens for Christ, get into the habit of holding a weekend revival at the Central Methodist Church. This group of six teenage evangelists of Christians has been conducting revivals for some time. There are four Methodists, one Baptist and one Presbyterian in the group headed by Jim Wilson and Hal Beale, evangelists.

Mr. Howe says the Howe method contracts the openings in remarkably short time on the average case and puts you back to work the same day as efficient as before you were ruptured. It is simple and difficult repairs following operations usually satisfactory.
