COMMENT

Key T. Fisher
It's later than you think, and there is no getting away from it. This is from the Deaver Post: "Come on lunch, you might just as well be lying down if you're not better." The article is headed to rescue with another crack at a "simplified" income tax credit for the average American. The new form 1040 will reach 17 million of us who have mostly from wages or salaries and who have no more than $200 additional income from interest or dividends. 1948W reg. returns (1948) and has been out from 4 pages to 2. The simplification about has been cut from 18 pages to 4. The last rate hasn't been at all. Actually, our simple tax returns are at work on a form that will be even more effective. As clipped from 4 high school weekly paper, the new tax form reads:
A Put down what you make
B Put down what you spend
C Put down what's left
D Send C—"
Say you saw it in The Mercury
