Heart Sunday

Heart Association's assault on the nation's leading cause of death." Mr. Shearer pointed out yesterday in a statement urging residents of Carlisle to welcome their Heart Sunday volunteers and to contribute generously to the campaign.

"The Heart Association program is guided by the leading physicians and scientists in the heart field with the support of distinguished laymen from all sections of the country," the Heart Sunday chairman continued. "They use your Heart Fund dollars to carry on an effective program of research, professional and public education, and community service activities.

"More than 40 million Heart Fund dollars have been channeled into research since 1948. This investment in scientific study has already saved and prolonged the lives of thousands of cardiacs," he continued. "In addition, medical scientists have provided important new knowledge covering the prevention of rheumatic fever; the control of most cases of high blood pressure; the surgical repair of heart valves damaged by rheumatic heart disease and the correction of inborn defects; the development of heart-lung machines, permitting operations on the heart itself, and the improvement of drugs to retard blood clotting and reduce recurrences of heart attack."

Nicholas County home burns

The home of Stoll Collins, Headquarters Pike, was destroyed by fire last Thursday morning.

The two-story, six-room building, was known as the Anderson-Barlow House. It was made of logs and was said to be one of the oldest in the area.

An oil stove used for heating exploded in the kitchen, engulfing the room in flames.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins escaped injury but the house furnishings and their clothing were destroyed.

Collins said the loss was partly covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins and two grandchildren, who were spending the night with them, escaped from the burning house with only their night clothing, a member of the family reported. All the contents of the house were lost in the blaze.

The grandchildren were Jerry Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Spears Collins, and Roxanne Bow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bow, all of Carlisle.

March 5-12 National 4-H week

National 4-H Club Week is scheduled this year for March 5-12. The theme, "Learn. Live. Serve Through 4-H."

4-H is the largest youth organization in the U.S.A., with more than two and one-fourth million members in 90,000 local clubs.

Last year Kentucky's 4-H Club boys and girls completed 87,705 projects. The clothing project is most popular in Kentucky—23,325 girls completed a clothing project during the year. Meal preparation was second with 12,832 girls finishing a project. Almost 8,500 boys and girls completed an electricity project and vegetable growing was next with over 4,270 enrolled. There are many other projects.

Project work means more to the 4-H Club member than merely learning how to care for an animal or how to make a dress, according to George D. Corder, Chairman of UK's 4-H Extension programs. It gives the member responsibility for a job to be done and recognition for his accomplishment when the project is finished.

Besides project work, the all-around development of the boy or girl is emphasized. They receive citizenship training, learn poise in speaking before groups, money management, health training, soil and water conservation, farm and home safety, music appreciation and recreation.

In Nicholas County, 4-H members have been doing an outstanding job. Look for exhibits and announcements of programs by your local club members, during National 4-H Club Week, March 5-12.

Wheat grower without allotment should notify ASC

Any farmer who has seeded wheat for harvest as grain next summer but who does not have a wheat allotment or a feed wheat exemption should notify the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office of his estimated acreage, H. S. Vice, Chairman of the Nicholas County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today. In this way, county records can be established and steps can be taken to make such a farmer eligible for a wheat marketing card if he decides to sell any of his grain.

Under the wheat marketing quota program, any grower who produces more than 15 acres of wheat is subject to a penalty on any "excess" wheat harvested. The penalty must be paid before the wheat is eligible for marketing.

FREAK LAMB

Johnny Tapp brought to The Mercury office a freak lamb last week. The animal had two pairs of hind legs. Although the lamb was photographed, its taste deemed it unwise to publish it.

Ethel Dwelly is honored

In recognition of 43 years service as a Southern Bell Telephone operator Miss Ethel Dwelly of Carlisle was given a dinner at Rock Haven last Wednesday night, Feb. 24. Miss Dwelly, who had been on leave for the past year, officially retired January 15. She automatically became a life member of Telephone Pioneers of America and was presented a diamond pin and a corsage of pink rosebuds by A. L. Edsell of Frankfort, district traffic manager.

The table held a large bouquet of carnations

Besides the guest of honor and Mr. Edsell, others attending were Charles Harris of Paris, commercial manager, and Billy A. Jones of Frankfort, district traffic supervisor. Local guests included Mrs. Stanley Kenney, Miss Elberta Henson and Herndon Wilson and three sisters of Miss Dwelly—Mrs. Jesse Wasson, Mrs. Everett DeAtley and Mrs. Floyd Clark, who are also employees of the Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company at Carlisle.

Scholarships in health professions offered by National Foundation

Mrs. Paul Stone, Chairman of the Nicholas County Chapter of The National Foundation said today that The National Foundation is currently offering a minimum of 15 scholarships in Kentucky to qualified high school and college students aiming for careers in the health professions. The deadline for submitting applications is April 1. The scholarship is worth $500 a year, or a total of $2,000 for four years of college training. And recipients may accept other scholarships. They urge all high school students interested in nursing, physical therapy and occupational therapy to check with their principal or whoever handles scholarship information at their school," Mrs. Stone said. "College students interested in medicine and medical social work should talk with their deans." "Interested students may also contact me personally for additional information," the National Foundation leader said.

Classifieds Pay

Cleary Fightmaster, local real estate agent, relates that a classified farm for sale advertisement in a recent issue of The Mercury, netted him 19 inquires—and one of them as far away as Ohio. Needless to say, the farm was easily sold.

Licensing date extended March 7

Monday Gov. Bert Combs extended until midnight March 7 the deadline for licensing motor vehicles.

There are about 450 licenses yet to be sold in Nicholas County.

The deadline would have been midnight Feb. 29.

Combs granted the extension by executive order because of "inclement weather having prevailed in certain areas of the commonwealth during the last days of February."

The other car involved was driven by Woodrow Gaunce. Damage to both vehicles was slight.

JAYCEES TO ELECT OFFICERS

The Carlisle Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that nominations for the offices of president, two vice presidents, secretary, treasurer and the Carlisle Elementary School this year is a Science laboratory.

One of the most used pieces of instructional equipment is the portable lab is a manual for science experiments and demonstrations which can be used by all grades from the first through the eighth.

Mobility is the beauty of this equipment as it can easily be moved from one class room to another. It has wheels with sink with water pump and drainage pans—electric cords with plug put into position the wheels can be locked to hold the table steady.

The picture shows part of Miss Marie Flora's third grade working around the lab table.

Red Cross workers, quota are set for drive

Red Cross workers were named by Mrs. Lovell Hollar and Mrs. Earl Seamonds, Co-chairmen.

Good things happen when you give, so let us be as generous as possible when the following non-paid workers knock at your door. Concern for the welfare of others is one of the most admirable of human attributes.

At a meeting of the Red Cross workers, held last week at the court house, Miss Ann Nutt, of Cynthiana, area worker of this district, was guest speaker. The quota for Carlisle County is $1,921.

Two boys observe rare birthdays

Two Carlisle Grade School boys celebrated their second and third "birthdays" Monday, Leap Year Day, and each was given an informal party by his teacher in the respective class rooms.

The boys were Mike Straw, son of County Agent and Mrs. William T. Straw, who had his second birthday, although he also became eight years old, and Robert (Teddy) Leslie Talbert, who observed his third birthday as he reached the age of 12. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Talbert. The two boys are in the second and sixth grades, respectively.
