Seaside Homemakers
by Mrs. H. M. Vio

The Seaside Home Makers club held its regular monthly meeting with Mrs. Sam George at her home on the Myers road, on Jan. 14. The meeting was called to order by our president, Mrs. Charles Crawford. The devotion was also given by Mrs. C. F. W. D. Landgrave. A beautiful lunch was served at the noon hour.

Four visitors, one child, 10 members and Mrs. Margie Williams were present. Glad to have Mrs. Della Miller, our liaison was accompanied for you, and was given by Mrs. Noble Gillespie and Mrs. James Gray. They did a wonderful job.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Eugene Letcher with her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Letcher.

"My Dad says—"

...that someday this farm will be mine. And he says that it's a lot better farm now than it was when he was a boy. My Dad says one of the main reasons this is so is because of our Rural Electric system. But he says some folks have forgotten what it was like before we had electricity, and how hard it was to get it in the first place. And he says that now we've got it, we want to keep it like we planned, because we know we can count on our own electric system, which we are buying and paying for ourselves, to keep on bringing us electricity at prices we can afford to pay. My Dad says plenty of electricity will mean we can do more and more jobs with it, and this means buying more and more electric tools and equipment. My Dad says Rural Electrification is good for us, and good for business, too!"

Cawood Calls BASKETBALL
by Cawood Ledford

SID COHEN: WILDCAT BASKETBALL
Twenty-six to me at least, is a young man. For a college basketball player, however, Sid Cohen is that ripe old age, but for the Kentucky Wildcats he is a senior. Sid is not a no grabber when it comes time for him to perform. Coach Adolph Rupp gave Sid a starting job against Tulane, and he showed his appreciation by naming him and leading him to the Cats to an overwhelming victory.

"How did Sid manage to do it in his state for basketball material?" asked the WHIAS head coach recently. Sid told me he owed his tenure of military service to his Kentucky school, in 1931 the New York Knicks and Brooklyn's East River school had not basketball extra curricular activities. Sid, a young man, followed high school basketball in the Army. It was in Germany that he did his basketball reputation. Two years in a row he was selected to the All-European team, and once All Service Basketball of North Carolina took notice of him. Sid told me that he had been attending their university. But Coach Rupp did not think Sid fit to be a member of the team, in Germany to conduct a basketball clinic. Sid and Sid by his demonstration. He also found time to talk to the Brooklyn boy about playing for the Wildcats.

Even though the Kentucky offer was waiting when he was discharged from the military, Sid felt he couldn't make the team and decided to give it to Kilgore Texas Junior College. Sid still more coaches look at him as the best player in the state of the 6'1" speedster as he led his team to the state title. He also met a visiting coach, Judy Greene while at Kilgore, and when his two years were up, he returned to the Wildcats to listen to the crowd."

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Minion spent a few hours Monday with Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Everett, and Mrs. Marshall Walton. Mrs. Louise Crown and kids spent last Sunday with Mrs. Deen Bowen and Mrs. Judie Hill.
