CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How scientific prayer leads to a clearer understanding of Truth will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.
The Lesson-Sermon on "Truth" will include the following passages from the Bible (Luke 11: 11, 13): "If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent? . . If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?"
The importance of prayer is also emphasized in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (11: 27-31): "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth."

A LITTLE YAPPIN'
by Nellie Crump

Zoom! There He Goes.

Mrs. Myrtle Sparks is convalescing at her home on Morgan street from a badly infected mosquito bite on her wrist from which she has suffered the past three weeks.

Good News from Knoxville.

A card from Mrs. Fred Manley (Alma Metcalfe) of Knoxville, Tenn., brings the good news that her only daughter, Miss Ella Manley, is recovering nicely from major surgery a few weeks ago.

Visitors from Chicago

Had such a pleasant surprise one morning last week when Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Stewart (Ella Ruth Duncan) and two daughters, Marsha and Nancye, of Chicago, appeared in the doorway. They were on their way to Florida to spend a few days with Mrs. S's sister, Mrs. Harold McClure, Mr. McClure and two sons.

—Yap—

Oops! Something Slipped.

The small daughters (there are four of them) of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Price put their little heads together and decided it would be just the very thing to have a new blackberry pie so they took off to a small briar patch near their home to pick the berries. Braving clouds, ticks and chiggers they got the fruit. The big juicy cobbler was prepared and put away for the next meal's big treat. All of the children and most of the grownups could hardly wait. When the time came, a member of the family so carefully started to the table with it. All of a sudden—no one knows how it happened—the dish slipped—Crash! There the cobbler lay in all its glory, the bright red juice flowing in all directions, profusely garnished with hundreds of large and small pieces of the cherished bowl. All that could be done was sop up the gory mess any way they could and throw the whole shebang away.

When Excitement Ran Riot.

Darrell Lee Donathan, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Donathan of Jayne Ann Hollar of Fairborn, Ohio, created quite a bit of excitement up and down Dorsey avenue and at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Hollar, on Morgan street late Friday afternoon. The cookie jar was in its place atop the utility cabinet and had cookies in it the little boy knew quite well. He thought he would get himself a handful. Seeing a good chance, up the shelves—one-two-three—he climbed. Right then it happened! The child hit the floor first with cupboard and contents on top. Some of the dishes went West, some East and some over the cuckoo's nest which made little difference for most of them were pulverized by this time anyway and Darrell Lee was bleeding from scratches and a cut on the head. Neighbors who heard the crash and screams rushed to and fro like ants. They thought a terrible car wreck had taken place. Just about half of the Hollar's dishes were broken. Grandparents told me when I called up Sunday.

—Yap—

A Friend in Need.

There is little to add to what has already been said about this year's Blackberry Festival. Bessie and I went over to see the Float Parade, got caught in the storm and came home wet to the hide before the program started. We had stayed longish-er for nobody could find anybody in all that squirming mass of humanity. We got along very well splashing along. I'd say until we hit that awful lake of water between Turner Donahue's and the railroad. (Dams are built and the courses of rivers changed, but it takes lots of money). Anyway, a car was slowly coming down Dorsey avenue. The driver pulled over to the curb and sternly commanded, "Get in here, you two." We got! It was our good friend and neighbor, Sherman Hollar, who had seen us and returned to help us home. By the time we could hear the band, but as far as seeing anything—well, we didn't. It was good to unlock our own door and get into dry clothes. I could not make it to Main street any more, but Bessie had a wonderful time. Riding the Ferris wheel and eating that delicious popcorn. She would not have traded places with the President when she found half a dollar in the grass. Monday night we watched the fireworks from home and really though the display more beautiful than ever before. "Into each life some rain must fall, some days must be dark and dreary."

—Yap—

It Stinketh Brother.

Anybody lost a dog—a big brown dog? Well, I'm told there is one dead at the side of the little branch that flows through Dorseyville. Perhaps the owner will be glad to know.

Yaps—all . . .
