CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
Why spiritualization of thought is essential to the peace and progress of mankind will be explained at Christian Science services Sunday.
Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Mortals and Immortals" is the Golden Text from Romans (8:6) "To be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace."
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this will be read (266:1-6): "Progress takes off human shackles. The fetter must yield to the infinite. Advancing to a higher plane of action, thought rises from the material sense to the spiritual, from the scholastic to the inspirational, and from the mortal to the immortal."
One of the opening Bible passages to be read states (Ps. 37:37): "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace."

C.H.S. Seniors visit Mammouth Cave

by Lynda Snelling

Eight C.H.S. seniors left Thursday morning, April 28, at 8:15 for Mammouth Cave. Mr. and Mrs. Minton Whitt went with us. Jimmy Roundtree drove one car and Mr. Whitt took his. We ate lunch close to Bardstown and we arrived at Mammouth Cave about one o'clock.

We couldn't check into our rooms until three so we danced in the hotel and some of us played tennis until it was through the cave began. Since we were a school group, they gave us a free Historic Tour. We entered through the natural entrance and we were in the cave three hours. One of the first things we saw, was the place where they had mined nitrate from the cave during the War of 1812. The ceiling of the cave was so smooth that it looked as if it had been plastered. Time and water played a great part in the formation of the cave. Rocks along the trails looked like they might slip, but none have been known to move since 1790. The cave stays 54 degrees the year around, and the conditions never change. Water doesn't seep in except where the sand stone which has been eaten away. The cave resembles a tree. It has branches out and crosses and back tracks for about 150 miles. The guide pointed out the body of a man they'd found dried up after being caught under a rock about 2000 years ago. Farther into the cave we saw the Bottomless Pit and the Echo River. We carried lanterns on the river and took a short boat ride.

We ate supper in the hotel dining room on Thursday night. Afterwards we walked over the grounds, saw the visitor's center, played ping pong, and danced. Of course, no one got much sleep because we all realized this would be our last trip as a group.

At ten Friday morning, we took the Frozen Niagara tour which was three fourths of a mile. The rock formations were formed by the substances in the cave and the constant dripping of water. They formed a roof over a large room in the cave. Crystal Lake was also on this tour. Due to new lighting, the cave was very beautiful.

We ate lunch at the cave and started home about two Friday afternoon. In Bardstown, we drove through Federal Hill.

When we got back to Carlisle, we discovered that Mr. Whitt wasn't with us. They'd taken the wrong turn and had gone to Frankfort. We picked up our luggage about seven and went home. Everyone agreed that we had had a useful time and we hadn't missed anything by not going to Washington, D. C.

Statewide conference at Owensboro to provide guidance for care of cerebral palsied children

Parents who have the problem of the care of cerebral palsied children have a continuing need of professional help and guidance if they are to meet their problem adequately. At Owensboro, Ky., the Spastic Parents Club has become acutely aware of this fact as they have endeavored to meet their problems with their own cerebral palsy children.

Now, they wish to share this help that comes through knowledge with other Kentucky parents having the same problem. Under Fred Johnson, president of the Owensboro Parents Club, a program has been set up with this in mind.

As the first step in the program, a statewide conference is to be held at Owensboro May 21. Highlight of the conference will be the appearance on the afternoon program of Dr. R. E. Bruner, of the Cerebral Palsy Center, Kansas City, Mo.

Dr. Bruner, a specialist in cerebral palsy, has done outstanding work for a number of years and is regarded as one of the best informed men in his field. He will close his part of the program with a discussion and questions submitted by parents.

The conference is to begin at 9 a.m. (cst) and conclude at 8:30 p.m. The morning program will set up practical demonstrations on the care of the cerebral palsied under the guidance of Mrs. Harold Schupback, occupational therapist.

Attorney General of Kentucky John Breckinridge will make the principal address at the evening session. The subject of his remarks will be—What is available for cerebral palsy children in Kentucky." Attorney Breckinridge is vice-president of the United Cerebral Pasly national organization.

The conference is to take place in the Educational Building of the Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, 625 Allen St. in Owensboro. Mrs. Herman Baskett is serving as program chairman for the conference.

Parents of cerebral palsied and other interested parties from throughout Kentucky are urged by the Owensboro Parents Club to attend the conference and reap the benefits they might derive from it. A letter of reservation may be sent to Fred Johnson, 3007 Ridgewood, Owensboro.

Kay T. Fisher

The following verses by J. T. Potts were promised some weeks ago so I was happy to receive them in the mail last week To quote from his letter, "Several old friends of mine, living as far away as Kansas and Texas, and who think I am dead would be almost happy, I dare to feel, to learn thru the columns of your paper that I am still here Also it would delight me to get into print along side of my Cousin Edna's

Spring in Kentucky

Spring in Kentucky
Now is a-smiling,
Hens all a-cackle
Roosters bragging,
Bees and the birds
In ravishing song—
Ah, for the hills of Kentucky. I long

I give you Miami
and dark Okeechobee.
And all the isleads
That brighten that sea—
Soon rhododendron
Here will be blooming.
Springtime in Kentucky
Is heaven to me!

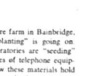
Telephone Talk

by CHARLES A. HARRIS
Your Telephone Manager



GARDEN SPOT" On an 11½-acre farm in Bainbridge, Georgia, some mighty peculiar "planting" is going on Engineers of Bell Telephone Laboratories are "seeding" the ground with 11,000 pairs of telephone equipment. They're trying to find out how these materials hold up underground, and the results may lead to telephone lines and cables being buried in the earth rather than running along pole tops. One more way telephone folks are working on new ideas to give you better service.

SPRING is a wonderful season of the year but it can sure keep you hopping! Things to do in the garden and the yard. House-cleaning from top to bottom. Maybe even a fresh coat of paint here and there. So here's a timely suggestion to help you find the things you need in order to fix up and dig up—look in the Yellow Pages of your telephone directory. You'll find pages after page of listings—of just about anything you might want for spring sprucing-up. Mighty handy to be able to call around to locate what you need. Use your Yellow Pages often—it's the easy way to shop!

SINCE we're on the subject of spring—with the weather getting nice, a lot of folks are planning trips. So often a Long Distance call can help with travel plans . . . make reservations . . . keep you in touch with home while you're gone. Yours for smoother traveling—Long Distance.

It's TROPICAL SUIT TIME

. . . And there's no reason why you can't be well dressed – and well pressed – in the summer.

Our wonderful tropicals resist wrinkles on even the stickiest days. They're cool, porous, featherweight . . . summer fabrics.
