Keep Needed Supplies at the Mixing Center

To save time and steps, arrange your kitchen in work centers for the different activities carried on there—preparing, cooking and serving, eating and cleanup.

At the mixing center you need at least 6 square feet of work surface, with at least 2 running feet across the front. The work surface should be adjustable height. For the extra will help you make the best use of available space.

Plan for convenience, arrange equipment close together in extra-work with 2 or 3 feet across as they can be taken out without moving help.

Try these "smart hints" for smart homemakers:

- When boiling hamburgers, give them a dollar flavor by brushing eggs with melted butter with a few drops of Worcestershire sauce added.
- To get every bit of honey or syrup out of your measuring cup or spoon, butter the cup or spoon before filling with syrup.
- No bread crumbs for breading fish or meat? Use crushed dry cereal! Dip fish or meat in undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk and use the crushed cereal.
- Here's a wonderful combination—when you need to make a soup that's out of the ordinary, mix 1 can concentrated tomato soup and 1 can concentrated apple pie soup with 1 cup of undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk and mix in crushed cereal.
- Did you cook something too salty? Use the process to reduce it. Just add diluted condensed potatoes and cook a bit longer. Remove the potatoes. They absorb the extra salt.

Farmers getting only 37 percent of market basket

Statistics say the average U.S. farmer gets only 37 percent of the market basket, a collection of U.S. farm-produced goods.

And of that total, the U.S. farmer gets only $281, or 27 percent—leaving the city dwellers a 63 percent market basket.

Actually, says Dave Phillips, U.S. Agriculture Department economist, the remaining 33 percent of the "market basket" is in the case, goods for marketing costs.

Phillips says that in the last 10 years cost of the average family food basket increased 274—but farmers got only 83 percent of this increased cost. The big reason, he says, is that through wage increases and government subsidies for more built-in services. Even the government got a 100 percent increase in the cost of the family food basket.
