gram of educational development. Dr. Moran's new 5,000 sq. ft. addition will serve as a successful laboratory as well as the physical requirements for lectures, concerts, meetings and other phases of the arts. There is the Doran Student House, a combination cafeteria, gym, book store, post office (to be moved here from the one downtown), bowling alley and lounge. For 1960 students are to utilize a new 400-man dorm plus a 100-unit married housing facility. These additional facilities will be housed in a 100,000 sq. ft. building in October a construction unit will be another major item in a year's maintenance and industrial arts building will be up.

By the time this newsletter printed, I shall be back home in my own district. I expect to visit around over the district, and where possible, shall try to give some notice of the time that I shall be in various communities so that anyone having any problems they care to discuss with me or desire just to visit and chat with me, they may have opportunity to contact me. However, it will be impossible to see everyone, and those of you who have any problems or affairs involving legislative questions and I want to express my deep...

BLAZE HANOVER, winner of more than $55,000 in the latest Handicapped Stakes for 1960 is shown with driver Joe O'Brien, leading money winner on the Grand Circuit for four of the last years. Owned by A. C. Camp, Jr., Shafter, California and trained by O'Brien, Blase Hanover was crowned as the 1960 Yearling-Oak Trotter of the Year and bankrolled $142,032 at the same time. Right at the start he is favored to meet in more competitors to repeat his winning performance in the $60,000 Kentucky Futurity to be running on Thursday, Oct. 20 at the historic Lexington Trotting Track. You can get plenty of argument from those who claim that the form is probably not offering the strongest argument... each of these won a heat from the Blazer in the Handicapped in record-breaking time. Who will be the winner? You can't tell from here and the only thing is certain is that the 10,000 or more fans will see a cliff-hanger of a race.

opportunity of selection and that this important freedom was to be maintained. Such emphasis cannot be more essential. Therefore, it is by overwhelming individual, so participation in the coming elections. As the vehicles of organization of both parties combine to turn, it would appear that there will be a substantial turnout, but it should be a "let George do it" proposition... work that is to be done, and I am hopeful that everyone who can possibly be of service will make their ability known to the headquarters of the party of their choice.

And Privileged Service... The Honorable... With the final adjournment of the 86th Congress, my friends and folks of the great Sixth Congressional District of Kentucky have believed upon me the distinct honor and privilege to represent them in the Congress of the United States since 1951. During this time, I have endeavored every possible effort to respond to their personal problems and to serve them well in the way of legislation affecting their interest and welfare as well as that of our Nation.

Recently, in several of my newsletters, I have stressed the importance of every eligible individual's active participation in the coming elections. Glancing back over the past statistics of four elections, it is always disappointing to realize that there are so many eligible and qualified voters who fail to participate. With the work situation as it is, the fact that we do have a choice in selecting those who are to represent us in our governmental operations should assume a roll of great importance and magnitude. Today, more than ever before, our people, united in our aims and purposes, should endeavor to make the most of our franchise in the whole world... 1959. It is a fact that our aim and purpose should be to elect those who will best represent our interests and our future. It is our duty to elect those who will best represent our interests and our future. It is our duty to elect those who will best represent our interests and our future.
