S.S. Promotion Day featured mock wedding

The annual Sunday school promotion day was spiced with an added attraction at the Carlisle Christian Church this past Sunday, with a wedding of Mr. Home and Miss Sunday School, put on by the children of the Primary dept. A program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Mary Frances Fisher. The Church was beautifully decorated with white candles and greens, woven around a bower, with two white wedding bells in the center.

Master Eddie Fryman lighted the candles, after which Miss Becky Galyon sang "I love you Truly." The bride, Miss Savannah Kaye McGinley, escorted by Master D. W. Booth, wore a white gown and veil, and carried a bridal bouquet on a white Bible. The Maid of Honor, Miss Linda Clinkenbeard, and the bridesmaids, Miss Jane Lynn Giffin and Miss Virginia Gayle Hunt, wore blue dresses and lower head bands. The flower girl, Miss Mary Ann Wood, wore a pink dress and flower head band, and carried a pink basket with pink rose petals.

The groom, Master Horace F. Marshall Jr. and best man, Master Mike Boone, were white coats with dark trousers, and red carnations and the ushers, Master David Kineman and Dougie Fryman, were dark suits and white carnations. The ring bearer, Master Sammy Emerson wore a dark suit with a white carnation, and carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

The ceremony uniting Mr. Home and Miss Sunday School, was read by Master Steven Ockerman after which Miss Becky Galyon sang "Blest be the Tie that Binds."

Moorefield Teenage 4-H Club

The Moorefield Teenage Club met Monday night 7:30 at Moorefield school. Sue Irvin, president brought the meeting to order. Frances Bussell led the club in songs. Mrs. Chad Whitaker told us something about our County Fair to be held Sept. 29-Oct. 1. We planned some recreation, a hay ride and wiener roast. Dates Oct. 7 or Oct. 14. A food committee was appointed: Bobby Perry, Mary Bowling and Bonnie Whitaker. The club voted to invite our community boys leaving for service to be our guests. We elected officers for this year. Mary Bowling, president; Bobby Perry, vice president; Sue Irvin, secretary-treasurer; Bonnie Whitaker, reporter; Judy Whitaker and Philp Weaver recreation leaders; Paul Judge, Sgt-at-arms. Roll call was answered with 12 members and one leader present. Meeting closed.—Bonnie Whitaker, reporter.

Facts On Milk Prices

Stop Consumer Subsidies

Recent news stories and editorials in the Louisville newspapers have given a distorted and unfair picture on milk prices and on some of the issues involved in the price of milk sold to local school systems as a part of the federally-supported school milk program. These newspapers seem to express surprise that milk prices should increase—in spite of the fact that all other prices are increasing.

Let's look at the facts on milk prices. In 1949, the average price of a quart of milk delivered to the door of consumers in Louisville was 21 cents. The price is now an average of 25 cents. This is an increase in the 10-year period of 19 per-cent. During that same period of time, the overall cost of living (according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics) increased 26 percent. If milk had gone up in price in that 10-year period the same percentage as all other consumer prices, milk would now be priced at 26.5 cents a quart or three cents a half-gallon more than it is.

And, while we are at it, let's take a look at the farm price of milk. Farmers in Kentucky, and particularly in the Louisville area, have long suffered from milk prices generally below the national average. In 1949, the price to farmers was an average of $4.35 a hundredweight—or 8.7 cents a quart. In 1959, the price averaged $4.40 a hundredweight—or 8.8 cents a quart. Now, if the farm price of milk had gone of 26 percent like the things farmers have to buy as consumers, the price to farmers would now be $5.48 a hundredweight—or 11 .06 cents a quart.

All of the fuss about a very small increase in the price of milk to schools is certainly out of line. Actually, if farmers got a fair price for their milk, all consumers would be paying considerably more for milk than they are. This is one of those subsidies farmers are in effect paying to consumers that we don't read about in the newspapers. The 19 percent increase in the price of milk that has occurred in the last 10 years is almost all due to increases in labor costs. These are the facts that should be made available to the public.

Muskies downed by Lancaster 14-0

by Mike Morford

Friday night the Carlisle Muskies were defeated by the Lancaster Green Devils 14-0. The everyones surprise there was a very good attendance of Carlisle fans for such a far away game.

The kick off was made by Lancaster to Carlisle's 33 yd. line and was run back by Floyd Bussell 7 yds. The Muskies failed to gain a 1st down so punted with the Devils taking over on their own 40 yd. line. The Devils gained 3 first downs before Carlisle took over the ball again, the ball being on Carlisles own 15 yd. line. After 3 plays the Muskies gained a first down. Johnson then passed to Fuller who ran 7 yds. 3rd down and 2 yd. to go Bussell ran 11 yds. on a hand off from Johnson for a 1st down. Carlisle was penalized 5 yds. for holding and the quarter ended.

In the second quarter Carlisle fumbled the ball twice and Lancaster player Billy Williams scored the first T.D of the evening. The P.A.T was also made by Williams.

Lancaster then kicked off to the Carlisle 38 yd. line. Carlisle passed and Lancaster intercepted on the 42 yd. line and ran the ball back to Carlisle's 35 yd. line. and the 2nd quarter ended.

In the second half Carlisle kicked off to the Devils 10 yd. line with the Devils running the ball back 30 yards On the 4th down the Devils made a 30 yd. punt to Carlisles 15 yd. line and Johnson ran the ball back 5 yds. Due to failure to gain 10 yds. Carlisle punted from their own 23 yd. line to their own 40 yd. line and Lancaster took over. Lancaster failed again to gain a 1st down and so made a 40 yd. punt over Carlisles goal line for a touch back. Carlisle took the ball on the 20 yd. line and ran it for a 3 yd. gain. The Muskies were then penalized 10 yds. Failing to make a 1st down Carlisle punted to the Lancaster 35 yd. line After several exchanges of the ball Carlisle fumbled and the 3rd quarter ended.

In the last quarter Lancaster player Clifford Cocanougher went over the line for the Devils second touchdown of the game, and Billy Rigsby made the P.A.T. Near the end of the game Billy Barton intercepted a 7th yd. pass from Johnson but failed to gain yardage. The game ended with Lancaster standing Lancaster 14 Carlisle 0
