Not a Democrat
It is not dismissed so easily from the minds of people in the publishing business. They observe it like a storm cloud in the immediate future, for though there is a wide gap of several years between the time it is published and the time it is received, it is also a great stimulant. For every periodical that depends upon public support obtains its revenue from the same sources—subscriptions and advertising.

Trade At Home Not a 1-way Street

Last week on pages four from the Mercury Trade At Home" was the message you should trade at home. This message was directed toward the merchants of this trading area and in particular those merchants who believe that trade favors the home market. The message was that trade is a two-way street and that town comes just as often as the city. The message was that trade is a two-way street and that town comes just as often as the city.
