A LITTLE YAPPIN'

Called up and Called Down. Was even asked the name of the "brand". So, I know NOW—the first snow—enough to give the dandelions a boost. Really, I do not know "how come". Must have been dreaming of Spring here.

James C. Platt, retired farm hand. He has begun his second century of life. From Sept. 27, 1861, in Nicholas County, Ky., he celebrated his 100th birthday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Jesse Platt, 2830 Little River Run Rd., Newsum, Tenn. Platt was born in 1861 with him were 53 relatives, including most of his 23 grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren. His wife died 20 years ago.

This aged man has any relatives now living around Carlisle, Ky. James Platt of the Moorefield road believes the man to be his father's brother.

Tomorrow's Business Men. Late one afternoon last week a small pickup loaded with well-worn corn curved around this corner to go on up Morgan street. The job of the truck driver was to roll off onto the ground. A little boy sitting behind the driver must have heard the corn fall, for just then his head popped up over the top of the truck. The truck stopped and the youngster jumped to the ground, running a few yards back in the road to see what many others would have let rot in the gutter.

Perhaps no race in the Kentucky Derby entrants. Perhaps every surprised when he needed in at my front door. He did not ask for a hand-picked up speed and went on up street the morning after Thanksgiving. All he wanted was his favorite to place first in the old arm chair and to fill somewhat indolence.
