Carlisle Route 1

Dear Santa,
I am a little girl five years old and I have tried to be a good girl.
I would like for you to bring me a "Kitten" doll that looks like a real live baby, some Sparkle paints, Casper, the talking Ghost, a Snow-Cone machine and anything else that you want to bring.
I will be looking for you on Christmas Eve night. I will leave something under the tree for you to eat.

Love,
Mary Ann Wood

sent out large foraging expeditions toward Dransenville to gather food for their men. Stuart, with 1,600 men, was assigned to protect the Confederate wagons being filled with food.

4,000 Federals

The federal foraging expedition, 4,000 men led by Gen. Edward O. Ord, moved on Dransenville, drove a few pickets from the town and occupied it. A short time later, Stuart discovered the federal advance and realized the Confederate wagon train he was to protect was in danger. His reaction was typical: he decided to attack. Stuart ordered his infantry forward, followed by artillery. They moved directly toward the town on both sides of a road. Ord's artillery, well handled and strategically located, blasted into the Southerners. One of
