When you take the big step buying a real fur coat, select reputable furrier. They year of protection against poor quality fur, unsatisfactory construction, and "ready" business tactics. It pays to watch out for special "bargain" offers on unknown dealers. Such bargains usually mean the fur is no bargain.

Nicholas native blind seven years keeps busy repairing bicycles

A Carlisle native, Huston his left eye first. Two years later the doctor informed him that the optical nerves were going blind, now living in Laurel, told dead in his right eye and he was not blind since 1954 has turned soon would be blind.

According to the story appearing in the Palladium-Herald and written by Max Knight, "It was a blow at first," he said, "but I told my wife Norma it was not going to make any difference in the way we lived."

Hardin has been a mechanic most of his life. He now spends work on his days running his own bicycle repair shop in Laurel, not only repairing bicycles but building in helping me set up this shop, he said.

"I buy spare parts whenever they are available," he said. "I can build a bicycle for $800.00 on the ground up in a day," he added with pride.

"Had Auto Shop" he said. "I put up this building, $1,200.00. Then they stocked the bins with $800.00 in supplies and I was ready to go open."

The Laurel man had his own auto shop in Connersville for friend of Hardin made the several years. He also worked for a garage in Connersville and later as a mechanic for the Farm Bureau there.

He had trouble with his eyes for three years, losing sight in made and said 25 bicycled.
