Three reasons for a good home garden

by Mrs. Chad Whitaker

LEWISTON, Ky. — Now is the time to start planning your home garden. Why grow food when you can buy it at the grocery? There's three good reasons, according to Elizabeth Helton, UK Extension specialist in food and nutrition. Home gardens save you money; they provide a more nutritious diet; and they give this family a chance to work together.

A home garden study was made in five south-central Kentucky counties in 1958-59. Results showed that food produced at home added about $825 yearly to the value of food consumed by farm families. Miss Helton says. Who wouldn't like to have $825 worth more food each year?
