Paul's charge to Timothy, "Watch thou in all things, endure affliction, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry" (II Tim. 4). will be included in the Bible readings.
A correlative citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures' by Mary Baker Eddy states: "To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done" (p. 4).

Kentucky's 1960 IFYE program gets underway

LEXINGTON, KY.—Four International Farm Youth Exchangees (IFYE'S) arrived in Kentucky and Kentucky's 1960 IFYE delegate left for France last week. IFYE's from Finland, India and Nepal will spend seven weeks in the state and Kentucky's IFYE this year, Janet Brewer of Nelson county, is in Washington for orientation before sailing for France.

All five young people will be staying with rural families as "grassroots ambassadors." They will be learning about life in another country by taking part in the everyday activities of the families they visit. Each of the four IFYE's who are visiting Kentucky will live with three different families, staying two or three weeks in each home. Janet will spend five months living with French families.

Miss Pirkko Sulsi from Finland is now living with the David Criswell family of Hitchins, in Carter county. Pirkko is 23 and her home is a 20-acre farm where oats, rye, barley, potatoes, dairy cattle, swine, and poultry are raised. She has two younger brothers at home.

Virendra K. Sharma, who is from India, is publicity officer for the Young Farmers' Association in his country and plans to make youth work his future occupation. He has lived on a farm where the major crops were sugar cane, wheat and rice. V. K. is staying with the Ray Hill family in Madison county.

Both Nil Kantha Adhikari, who is 21, and Madan Krishna Shrestha, who is 23, are from Nepal. Both have farm backgrounds and, when they return home, both plan to go into work similar to the U. S. Cooperative Extension Service. They are visiting the U. S. under the Ford Foundation grant to the IFYE program, which means they will live with families here as IFYE's but also will study Extension work during their stay. Nil is living with the Ersil Wood family of Wallingford and Madan is with the O. K. Blevins family in Wayne county.

IFYE is sponsored in the U. S. by the national 4-H Club Foundation and the Cooperative Extension Service. Some phases of this people-to-people program, which was started in 1948, are serving as a model for the proposed U. S. Peace Corps. IFYE is not a government program but is financed privately in the U. S. by 4-H Clubs, business and industrial firms, foundations, and individuals.

In Danville is the old public square where Kentucky's first Constitution was framed and adopted in 1792. It is known as Constitution Square Memorial and is part of Kentucky's State parks system.

Parks Expansion Program

Kentucky is in high gear on its massive State parks expansion program. In June, contracts are being let for three new lodges, with four to follow in July.

Contracts for construction of seven new lodges will be let at these parks: Kentucky Dam Village, June 21; Lake Cumberland, June 22; General Butler, June 29; Carter Caves, July 6; Pine Mountain, July 11; Hoods Horse, July 18 (tentative); and Jennie Wiley, July 27 (tentative). All are to be ready for the 1962 season, said Parks Commissioner Edward O. Wilhoit.

A contract for a new lodge at Southern State Park will be let in early September. A two-mile road to the park must be completed before this work can start. Ground was broken June 8 for a $168,610 lodge addition at Pennyrile Forest State Park. Natural Bridge State Park, Dale, will get a new lodge—possibly this fall. A site study is now being made.

Governor Combs announced in December that eight new lodges and dining rooms would be built, plus room additions at two parks, giving Kentucky 12 parks with hotel or lodge overnight facilities. The parks system will offer 488 modern hotel-type rooms to overnight visitors by the 1962 season.

In addition to the lodge construction, all the 222 vacation cottages in the State parks system have been completely remodeled and redecorated. Kentucky Hotel and lodges throughout the system have been redecorated. Seventy per cent of the cottages received new kitchen units; 80 per cent received new bathrooms.

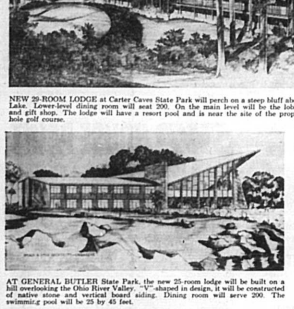
Five new tent camping and trailer areas—at Lake Cumberland, Kentucky Lake, Pine Mountain, Carter Caves and Natural Bridge—are ready. Each has a modern central service building. This makes a total of nine such facilities to meet the growing demand for camping and trailer sites.

Three new resort-type swimming pools are completed and ready for guests at Pine Mountain, Cumberland Falls and Kentucky Lake. Golf links are being completed at General Butler and Natural Bridge.

All existing beaches have been improved and most have been enlarged. Picnic areas have been expanded in many parks and additional picnic shelter buildings have been constructed.

New nature trails have been developed and old trails have been improved. A complete new supervised recreation program is under way with a full-time director at Kentucky Lake, Kentucky Dam Village, Audubon, Lake Cumberland, Cumberland Falls, Natural Bridge and Carter Caves. Babysitting services have been set up at these seven parks.

Day-use facilities are open at two new parks, Big Hone Lick in Boone County and Greenbo Lake in Greenup and Boyd counties.



NEW 20-ROOM LODGE at Carter Caves State Park will perch on a steep bluff above Smoky Lake. Lower-level dining room will seat 200. On the main level will be the lobby, lounge and gift shop. The lodge will have a resort pool and is near the site of the proposed nine-hole golf course.

AT GENERAL BUTLER State Park, the new 25-room lodge will be built on a hill overlooking the Ohio River Valley. "V"-shaped in design, it will be constructed of native stone and vertical board siding. Dining room will serve 200. The swimming pool will be 25 by 45 feet.

CONSTRUCTION was speeded this spring on three swimming pools for lodge and cottage guests at Kentucky Lake, Cumberland Falls and Pine Mountain State parks. With completion of the expansion program, every vacation park will have a modern swimming facility—pool, dock or beach area.

ONE OF SIX NEW LODGES going under contract currently is this one, for Kentucky Dam Village State Park. Viewing a picture of the lodge are newsmen John Gaines (left), Park City Daily News, Bowling Green, and W. Foster Adams, Berea Citizen, president of the Kentucky Press Association.

MAIN LODGE BUILDING at Jennie Wiley State Park will provide a scenic view of Dewey Lake from private balconies for each room. It will have 36 guest rooms, and three separate two-story buildings will have 12 rooms each. Covered passages will connect the buildings. Already under construction is a nine-hole golf course.

ALL 222 COTTAGES in Kentucky State Parks have been renovated and redecorated and are open this season. The $10 million parks-improvement bond issue approved by Kentucky voters last fall made the program possible.

CONSTRUCTION IS UNDER WAY on a 24-room addition (at right) to the lodge at Pennyrile Forest State Park. A new dining room will accommodate 200. The rooms will have terraces overlooking Pennyrile Lake. Native stone exterior will harmonize with the present lodge.
