UP-TO-THE-MINUTE MEN... That's a pretty good description of our National Guard, and I'd like to salute the 475,000 men who stand ready to defend our country like the Minute Men of 1776. Yes, the Army and Air National Guard are prepared and equipped for any test, not only in National Defense but on the local scene as well. In times of emergency—and you never know when one may strike—over 1,000 National Guard units are prepared to defend a hand. All support our National Guard who lends us against aggression and disaster.
