keeps our electric freezer on duty for a whole week

"The money I earn in less than 30 minutes on my beat pays for a whole week's electricity to operate our freezer," says Eugene Wedding, Morganfield policeman. "When you stop to consider all of the electricity our family uses . . . I think electricity is a good buy anyway you look at it."

Mrs. Wedding heartily agrees. She says: "The family is really proud of the freezer and thankful for the savings it gives us on foods. We freeze strawberries, butter, corn, blackberries, beef, chickens and pork chops. I freeze bread for the many school lunches I have to fix during most of the year."
