Blake files for 7th term

Monday in Frankfort, the senior member in point of service in the Kentucky Senate, Sen. H Stanley Blake, Carlisle, filed declaration papers with the secretary of state as a democratic primary candidate for seventh four year term in the Senate.

Blake represents the Nicholas - Harrison - Bracken - Pendleton - Grant - Robertson district.

His platform includes opposition to any suggested raise in the retail sales tax from three to four per cent in order to finance additional bonded indebtedness for certain purposes Blake maintained this had been advocated by some persons. The senator voted against the three per cent levy in 1960

Blake twice was elected senator from a four-county area of Nicholas, Harrison, Robertson and Pendleton counties. When the 1942 redistricting act was passed two counties were added to his district. He was re-elected from the enlarged district in 1945, 1949, 1953 and 1957

Early sucker fishing overlooked by many

Frankfort, Ky. (Special) — Not too many fishermen are trying it but sucker fishing in March and March produces good results and much enterprising fishing the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources believes, at a time this time that the suckers make a surge upstream to lay their eggs in the loose gravel of the shallows and riffles. During these spawning forays suckers by the sackful can be taken.

Qualifying under the name sucker, the Department of Kentucky fish—the red horse, spotted, white, black, hog sucker, quillback and buffalo. Generally these fish are overlooked by many fishermen with fine tackle but increasingly are though a few sportsmen are beginning to know how necessary to catch them.

Suckers feed mainly on insects, larvae, aquatic plants worms and mollusks The feeding habits are near the bottom of the stream. Likely spots for these fish are in the still waters above or below a riffle, below a waterfall or dam in the river, during the spawning run, that large schools congregate.

Earth worms, fished on a small hook with the aid of a BB shoker are the bait. Suckers will spit out the bait at the least resistance therefore the set sunker Cane poles are ideal but casting, spin-casting, spinning or fly rods are also

The bite of a sucker is ever so slight as they mouth the bait A twitching of the line or a gradual movement is about the only regarding stop sign 1, warrants served 1. total nine

Suckers put up a good fight so far as a hard pull is concerned and a lot of skill is needed to land this fish due to his soft mouth. Some are landed by the use of a net while other fishermen choose to slide their catch on to the bank.

Many fishermen say that the flesh of suckers is too bony to not be equaled by any other fish but, due to the structure, many bones that are found in the meat and this disadvantage is one they remove bones cannot be removed from the meat yet if the flesh is creamed with a sharp knife, allowing the hot grease to get to the bones, they can be cooked and eaten without a great deal of bother.

Suckers may be found in almost all streams of the state

Red Cross time again

It is Red Cross Time Again. During the next few weeks you will be given an opportunity to give to help your neighbors here and abroad Each of us wants to help our friends who are made homeless, who are injured and who have their health taken from them by disasters. Not one of us can leave his home and business and go to the Caribbean, Hawaii, Japan or Chile when hurricanes tidal waves or earthquakes occur, to personally help But each of us can go to any and ever area of the world to help by joining the Red Cross with our gifts.

The Red Cross started with our desire to HELP OTHERS and continues because we still want to help. It will go on as long as you and I support the work with our concern and our material aid

When Hurricican Donna hit last year we rushed aid to the people there in the islands One of the islands was the British island of Barbados To show its appreciation the British Red Cross came to our aid by sending cash contributions for our own national relief work. If you are truly concerned for your fellowmen around the world, support the Red Cross so that it will be able to be there with trained nurses, doctors, relief workers, etc to help where it is needed and when it is needed.

Graduates From Water Safety Course

Here in Nicholas County and in Carlisle our own Red Cross chapter has been at work training our own people, too Besides taking part in the world wide activities, we have held a class in First Aid, training people to help us in time of disaster here One Nicholas County girl has graduated from the Water Safety course at Georgetown and is prepared to instruct others in this vital safety measure. We have provided clothing for about 75 persons, including many school children. Mrs. Bette Shrout, our local Red Cross Worker has also been able to help many of our servicemen when there were emergencies in their families Veterans have been aided in applying for their bonuses Eight families have been provided with necessities during February alone. Give so that this work may continue.

Business population in county up

J Louie Coker, district manager of the Cincinnati office of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. recently announced that statement requests were up 72 buse concerns in Nicholas County. He said figures obtained from a current count of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for January 1961 totaled 72 manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers in this area as compared to 67 in 1960—an increase of 14 per cent for the period.

According to Mr. Coker, each January business concerns in all parts of the United States are asked by Dun & Bradstreet for copies of their financial statements. This year requests are being sent to approximately three million business concerns in the country—most of them small businesses with assets worth a few thousand dollars as well as to businesses worth millions.

Using the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book listings as a guide, it is interesting to review what has happened in some of the principal Nicholas County communities during the past year.

Polio death double in state

Deaths from acute polio for Kentucky in 1960 doubled over the number of 1959 polio deaths, but the total number of cases in the State increased 31.5 percent over the 1959 figure of 762. According to B. F. Reynolds, M.D., Health Officer for the Nicholas County Health Department, "only through early immunizations with the Salk polio vaccine can we hope to reduce polio to a minimum in this community." Dr. Reynolds stressed the importance of beginning the three-shot series immediately to assure maximum protection against polio.

Kentucky has secured 250,000 shots of vaccine which have been distributed through the State Department of Health to all counties on the basis of county population. Private physicians and county health departments are ready to administer the vaccine immediately

The State Department of Health has recommended that because all age groups seemed subject to polio during last summer's polio season, no age limitation be placed on immunizations However, in a few unusual situations county medical authorities may consider it essential to designate special priority groups.

Parents of pre-school and school age children, the most vulnerable ages, are particularly advised to see that polio immunizations are begun by contacting their own physicians or the county health department at once.

"If all citizens of Nicholas County will start the polio series by March 31," Reynolds said, "they can be assured of receiving the first two shots well in advance of next polio season."

FIRST CASH DONATIONS recorded in the North Central Kentucky district to build a new 4-H Club camp was received by 4-H Camp Director Jim Donaldson of the district's finance committee. The check, for $42.63 was tendered by Frank Durrett, right, president of the Boyle County 4-H Club Council. A county-wide pie supper was held to raise the money. The 27 counties in the district hope to raise some $250,000 in the next three years to build and equip the camp. There are 18,000 4-H Club youngsters in the 27-county area.

New 4-H club camp plans show building, land types

LEXINGTON, KY. — Present locators hope for a place that has an area at least two-thirds in woods.

Total cost of the camp is estimated at $295,000. This sum is to be raised in three years. At least two additional bonded funds become available, most from Boone on the north, down needed facilities likely will be started or built.

Organization of the project is detailed. There is a district 4-H camp organization, composed of two adults from each county 4-H Club Council. This group is incorporated and tax-exempt. There are district executive, finance and publicity committees. In the counties, organization parallels the district set-up. Counties involved are Boone, Kenton, Campbell, Gallatin, Carroll, Trimble, Henry, Franklin, Woodford, Anderson, Mercer, Boyle, Lincoln, Garrard, Madison, Jessamine, Fayette, Clark, Montgomery, Bourbon, Harrison, Scott, Bracken, Nicholas, Pendleton, Grant and Owen.

District committee members from Nicholas County are Hazel Swartz and Glenn Greer.

Nicholas County teachers meet

The Nicholas County Classroom Teacher's Association held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon, March 2, with president Foster Pumphrey presiding. Mr. Pumphrey read a letter concerning a KEA educational dinner meeting to be held in Winchester on March 21. The following dele gates are planning to attend: Foster Pumphrey, Raymond Wetley, Charles Wilson, Elmer Bellamy, Lucile Irvin and Elizabeth Clay.

It was decided that the April meeting will not be held since all the teachers will be attending KEA in Louisville April 5-7.

Ballard Moore, English teacher at Nicholas County high, showed slides on the European countries, France, Italy, Switzerland, Netherlands, Germany, England and Ireland. The program was very interesting and educational.

Charles Wilson gave a report of the meeting which he, Mr. Wesley, Mr. Otis Pryman, Mr. Elmer Bellamy and Mrs. Lucile Irvin had with the County Judge and Fiscal Court about compulsory school attendance.

The meeting was adjourned until the next regular meeting date in May at which time officers will be elected for next year.

Feed grain acreages recorded

Farmers in Nicholas County who may be interested in a possible feed grain production adjustment program in 1961 are urged to call at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, according to H. S. Chairman of the ASC County Committee. The request is made to farmers at this time because farm feed grain and other crop acreage information will be needed for any feed grain program that may be authorized for the coming crop season.

Farmers who supply feed grain and other acreage figures at this time will not be obligated to participate in a feed grain program if one becomes available, but will be eligible to participate. However, Mr. Vice points out that a program can be quickly put into operation if the necessary farm acreage information is on file at the county office. He asks farmers' cooperation in providing information that will be needed before a program can be put in effect.

Interested farmers are asked to bring to the County ASC office their records of the acreage of cropland used for field corn, grain sorghums, oats, barley, and tame hay crops base d on the acreage planted and the use made of the crop produced. Acreage information must be obtained immediately for possible inclusion in the 1961 feed grain base acreages.

Since Nicholas County is classed as a minor feed grain producing area, only interested farmers are being asked to make reports. In counties classed as major feed grain producing areas, acreage reports are being obtained for all farms.
