Little Rock woman wounded

Miss Nancy Bryant, 22, of Little Rock, was shot and critically wounded at 10:30 p.m. Monday by a masked man who robbed her male companion of $3.50 as the couple sat in a parked car near the Levy in Bourbon county.

J. W. Fair, 21, of Sharpsburg, escort of Miss Bryant, took the young woman to the Bourbon County hospital, Paris, and gave an account of the shooting to officers.

Fair said he and Miss Bryant were sitting in his car, parked just off the highway, when another car drove past. A short time later the car door on the right side next to Miss Bryant was jerked open by a masked man holding a bolt-action shotgun pointed at them. "This is a holdup," he quoted the gunman as saying.

Fair told officers he tossed his wallet into the seat of the car along with a few coins. The shotgun fired, striking Miss Bryant in the right side and almost severing her right arm at the elbow. The robber then picked up a fifty-cent piece and three one dollar bills, blurting out, "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to." He ran away and reached a parked car down the road as Fair backed out and turned his car lights on him. The car was an old model Chrysler, light green in color, with no license plates.

Fair described the holdup man as about six feet one-inch tall, about 40 years old, and weighing about 175 pounds. He was dressed in a gray or brown topcoat, felt hat and had a red and blue baby blanket wrapped around his head with big holes cut over the eyes and a red Halloween mask over this.

A statewide police broadcast alerted officers to be on the lookout for the gunman.

Road mileage totaling 13.4 miles not up to standard in Nicholas

Frankfort, March 10—Highways in the 10 counties of the Ninth Highway District have 739.4 miles of roads that do not measure up the standard to which they should be built, Henry Ward, commissioner of highways, has pointed out in a letter to members of Congress from Kentucky.

Ward told the legislators that unless more Federal money is made available, we cannot expedite the Federal aid highway program in Kentucky.

"Under the present financing plan, we will have an estimated $29,786,050 a year, which the Federal Government and State Government have put up in equal amounts, to accomplish the job," Ward said. "At this rate it would take 34 years to bring the deficient highways up to the standard."

Ward bases the figures on a report of the Automotive Safety Foundation and reviews of that report by the Department of Highways since its completion. They show there are 9,210.2 miles of road in the state that are deficient. There are 19,091 miles of highways on the Federal aid system in Kentucky.

"These deficiences cannot be corrected with funds available to the Department of Highways since its completion," he said.

Following is a breakdown of the counties in the Ninth Highway District, with the total

It has been estimated that a tourist spends $15 a day wherever he stops. Some of the tourist dollars might be spent in Nicholas County (it's a $180 million business statewide) if the Kentucky Travel and Tourist Commission know the points of interest in the County. We know a few, but hope that our readers will provide us with more information concerning spots they think would interest tourists, such as, a beautiful scenic view, a stream for fishing, old buildings or some spot of historic interest. We'll see that the Tourist Commission gets the information. Be sure to include the best route for reaching your choice spot. Drop a post card to The Mercury, today.

Local candidates for city offices must file by April 7, clerk says

Several questions arising out of the enactment of KRS 86.225 by the 1960 Legislature concerning filing for partisan offices in cities of the fourth class, resulted in the following opinion being rendered by the attorney general's office.

"Under the circumstances it is our opinion that the provisions of KRS 86.225 relating to fourth class cities require candidates for all elective city offices which, of course, includes the office of mayor and councilman to file either as independent or party candidates not less than forty-five (45) days before the primary election. You will note that KRS 86.225 refers to "any elective city office" and that of councilman are undoubtedly included within its terms."

KRS 86.225 reads as follows

MAURICE KING, announces candidacy for Carlisle city council, will engage in electrical contract work, air conditioning and refrigeration. His address is 506 East Main, phone 168. Mr. King recently returned to Carlisle from Plantation, where he was employed in electricql work. He operated an electrical business in Glendale, California for over ten years previous to his work in Dayton.

No person shall be a candidate for any elective city office in a city of the fourth class that is operating under the commission form of government, unless his nomination papers have been filed with the county court clerk not less than forty-five days before the day fixed by law for the holding of primary elections."

The attorney general's office further stated, "normally candidates for municipal offices are required to file their petitions not less than forty-five days before the day fixed by law for the holding of primary elections."

The attorney general's office further stated, "normally candidates for municipal offices are required to file their petitions not less than forty-five days before the day fixed by law for the holding of primary elections."

The attorney general's office further stated, "normally candidates for municipal offices are required to file their petitions not less than forty-five days before the day fixed by law for the holding of primary elections."

The attorney general's office further stated, "normally candidates for municipal offices desire to be party candidates they must run in the primary which would require them to file not less than forty-five days before the primary. The 1960 act, above quoted, makes an exception to the filing provision of KRS 118.130 (4) with respect to candidates for municipal offices in cities of the fourth class. This act prevails over the filing requirements of KRS 118.130 (4) even though it does not specifically refer to this statute, under the general rule of statutory construction which holds that a later act more specific in nature prevails over an earlier and more general statute insofar as the two conflict. Shannon v. Burke, 276 Ky. 723, 125 S. W. 2d 238.

Persons filing for city elective offices must do so by April 7, 1961. County Clerk J. Berry Burnaw states.
