Would you like a unique, week-by-week history of the Civil War?

You can compile one yourself by clipping and pasting in a scrapbook the weekly articles of a Civil War centennial series which will begin in this newspaper during the second week of April.

Each article will tell, in a readable, interesting way, the Civil War events which occurred exactly 100 years before. Thus, by keeping a scrapbook of the articles, you will assemble a chronological history of the war unlike any other ever published.

Be sure and start your scrapbook with the first article. Watch for it!
