LEST WE FORGET
This being Teacher Appreciation Week set aside by the Governor of our state to pay homage to thousands of Kentucky teachers—we might be inclined to think it meant public school teachers only.

Let us not forget it includes also the ones not paid in coin of the earth. They also deserve recognition here and now. Motherhood, father, if you have forgotten to say, "Thank You" to the good teacher, 4-H Leader, D.V.B.S. teacher and especially to that Bible School teacher the work that calls for volunteers who work for not even a thank you, sometimes please show your appreciation before the week comes to a close. For this self sacrificing, as well as for their consecrated lives, they deserve a crown of glory. Some one has said, Give me all the flowers today. Whether pink or white or red. I'd rather have just one blossom now Than a truck load when I'm dead

Babe Ruth baseball to be played at NCHS ball field

The Babe Ruth baseball which was formerly played on the Mattox field will move to the Nicholas County High School grounds for the summer games. The Nicholas County Board of Education agreed Monday night to cooperate in making its facilities available and named a committee of four to conduct the program in accordance with Babe Ruth rules and regulations and in accordance with the policies of the Board. The committee named was Charles Wilson, President, Hughes Spoon, vice-president; Foster Pumphrey, treasurer; and Raymond Wesley, secretary.

In cooperating with the program, the Board is prevented by law from spending any school funds in the operation of the program which shall continue to be a community responsibility. At a meeting held in the evening of Thursday evening, March 23, 1961, it was jointly decided by those interested in Babe Ruth and Little League baseball that a committee for supervising the two leagues be elected to serve in making a combined solicitation of labor and funds or other help needed in maintaining the leagues. The four persons elected for the committee were Morris Whitley, Mrs. Paul Stone, Billy Parker, and Mrs. Marion Sims.

There is much to be done before play can start at the new location. While there is some equipment that is available from the former location, there must be a backstop erected, dug outs reconstructed and the field conditioned for playing. However, further consideration will be given to a more favorable location which would require more labor and would involve more problems at the present. However, it has many aspects of being a more suitable site for development of Babe Ruth baseball.

Nicholas County Memories of the Civil War by Scott

Nicholas County was well represented in the War between the States both in the armies of the North and in the armies of the South. Many veterans of the Blue and those who wore the Grey have long since passed by that memories of their tales become almost authentic histories of the great struggle.

One of the occasions on which veterans of the Civil War assembled their uniforms or at least their pants was Memorial or "Decoration" Day when a speakers stand was erected in the evangelical Mathers woods for a program of inspiring music. This followed a parade to the cemetery for the decoration of the graves of deceased veterans. Incidental to the patriotic speeches there were picnic basket dinners and a few concessions such as lemonade, pop, peanuts, and perhaps a wonderful Thos. A. Edison cylindrical record talking machine with ear phone attachments by which two or three persons could, for a nickle, listen to such patriotic recordings as "We Are Tenting Tonight On The Old Camp Ground". One of the regretable features of these early celebrations was that they were primarily G.A.R. affairs. However, in later years those that were the Grey were accorded the same honors and consideration as those who wore the Blue.

As the years go by names are often forgotten so no attempt is here made to list all those from Nicholas County who did their bit in that great conflict. However, in the memories of many now living are the names of H. M. Taylor, Zack Alexander, and Green R. Keller, all of whom had the distinction of having served with General John Hunt Morgan.

Morgan's Men, as that dashing band of Kentuckians was called, were here, there, and gone, before any organized opposition was possible. It has been claimed that Morgan's raids effectively curbed the depredations on property by instilling fear in those who were left behind to look on the property of others. Morgan's raids also had the beneficial effect of ridding with the result that Kentucky and Nicholas County were saved the cruel horrors of an army invasion. Finally Morgan and his men were trapped in Ohio when they ventured north of the Ohio river where they were captured and imprisoned in the state of Ohio. H. M. Taylor was one of those who escaped from the Ohio prison and returned home. His account of his escape is most interesting to those who had the good fortune to hear him early.

Memories of Nicholas County would not be complete without some reference to Old Parks Hill Camp Ground. It was there that for several years immediately following the Camp Meeting, Morgan's Men held their annual encampment by invitation of Mr. Taylor, manager of the Old Camp Ground, and secretary of the Morgan's Men Association. Present at these reunions were privates, captains, colonels, and one general. General Basil Duke Many still carried physical scars—evidence of their gallantry in the trying days of the Sixties, but here rank did not count. They were all brothers. Here in the shade of the great old beech trees on Parks Hill, the veterans told of their experiences, and partook, if they chose, of beverages for which Kentucky has long been famous. Colonel Morgan's men held that one of the boys to drink Nicholas County's own genuine Blue Lick water as a conditioner for even as a chaser for a more favored drink.

But met with little success.

Since Kentucky did not secede from the Union, it was called upon to furnish its quota of soldiers for the Union army. The draft became effective and the family of the county's finest young men. To escape this, those of Southern sympathies fled to the South and enlisted in the Southern Army. Too often one brother would go wearing the Blue and another wearing the Grey. It was to bring order out of these opposing loyalties that the Home-Guard was organized. This was composed of old or otherwise unfit for regular army service, the Home Guard assumed authority which, in some instances, bordered on the ridiculous. Many cases in countries behind the Iron Curtain Alert to prevent and to the enemy, too often private property was confiscated with no positive justification for the act.

While Nicholas County in its battle of Blue Licks earned a place in history as the site of the last battle of the American Revolution, it has no claim to the distinction of having had any Civil War battles within its borders. In that it was fortunate. Homes were not overrun, priceless heirlooms were not destroyed, and recovery after the war's end was not long delayed.

With peace declared, the surviving sons returned home to pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands. One Nation under God, indivisable, with liberty and justice for all.

United finally under this pledge, the boys of Blue and Grey became in the years to follow; the fathers of loyal sons who fought valiantly in two great world wars shoulder to shoulder, proud of the honor and privileges of serving our great nation—The United States of America. —Lewis P. Scott.

Little League and Babe Ruth League reveal plans for their 1961 season

The Little League and Babe Ruth League Organizations met in the Court House, Thursday March 23, to lay plans for the 1961 baseball season.

After each group had held separate meetings, a joint meeting was held and at it the groups decided to form the Carlisle-Nicholas County Recreation League. This group will do all the soliciting for the financing of both the Little League and Babe Ruth League. Morris Whitley, Billy Parker, Janice Stone, and Hazel Simms were elected by the group to serve as officers of the newly formed Recreation League, and it is anticipated that this group will formulate plans in the immediate future for the fund raising drive necessary to the continuation of this worthy program in the community.

The Babe Ruth League will operate the facilities at the Nicholas County High School building under the Babe Ruth League officers for the year 1961 will be Raymond Wesley, Foster Pumphrey, Charles Wilson, and Hudson Snapp. These men are undoubtedly going to call upon the citizens for their cooperation and assistance, as it will be necessary to make considerable changes in the High School baseball park before baseball can be played there this summer. The former officers urge everyone to cooperation with the new group of officers to assure a continuation of the successful program that was initiated last year.

Team managers of the Babe Ruth League, who served last year, were present at the meeting and they were to contact the boys who played to have them bring in their uniforms so they could be cleaned and put in condition for the present season.

Try out dates will be held Saturday, April 15, from 1:00-3:00 p.m. at the Little League Field and player selection will be Monday night, April 17, at the court house.

It was also decided that the

USDA Crop Insurance report

Joe A. Crouch, representative of Federal Crop Insurance for Nicholas County submits a report on this very important program of the United States Department of Agriculture. Land conserving programs certainly are very important but the crop insurance program guarantees our tobacco growers an income from their crops. Tobacco is our mainstay and when disaster strikes our main source of farm income, the whole economy is hurt. Farmers, of course, are the first to feel the effects but the effects are then passed on to other business because they cannot be paid by farmers with little or no income from tobacco. Costs of producing tobacco are high and bills pile up to be paid after sale of the crop.

Congress recognized its obligation to provide the farmers of the nation with a program to insure growing crops against the ravages of nature such as flood, drought, excessive rain, and disease, etc. Private insurance had tried "all risk" insurance programs for farmers but failed and the losses were so great they suffered. Congress came up with the answer in 1938 when it passed the Federal Crop Insurance Act. The program was first offered in a very few counties across the nation but has steadily expanded in succeeding years. It offers a guaranteed production and income, and covers all unavoi-

US Senate passes tv education bill

WASHINGTON—The Senate last Tuesday passed the educational TV bill, co-sponsored by Senator John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky). Speaking on the floor of the Senate today in support of the bill, Senator Cooper said:

"The great value of the bill is that it could very quickly bring a higher quality of educational instruction throughout the State. Kentucky still has a one-room school problem in many areas. Some of our finest teachers in the State on every subject, as well as from their classroom teachers. And the program would also reach adults."

Senator Cooper pointed out that Louisville has an educational television system. "If it is needed in a city like Louisville —in our best schools—certainly it would have great value in areas less adequately financed schools," Cooper said.

Senator Cooper recalled that he has supported and written bills to provide Federal assistance to education in each of his years in the Senate. "The ultimate purpose of bills to build needed school houses, and to raise teachers' salaries," he said, "is to raise the quality of education. Educational TV would take immediate and giant step toward raising the equality of opportunity and quality of education," Cooper said.

The bill passed by the Senate would make $1 million available to the Secretary of Health for construction of educational television transmission facilities.
