Both! That's why KU people—at all levels—have thinking heads and helping hands. Take KU managers, for instance. Whether they're in the field or at headquarters it's part of their job to know the electric business . . . to do personnel and public relations work . . . to oversee the bookkeeping . . . and to give good customer service.

BECAUSE IT'S PART OF KU'S WAY OF DOING BUSINESS.

Suggest improvements in KU's methods Practice all forms of good citizenship

KU IS ITS PEOPLE. KU people are good neighbors, staunch friends, devoted church and civic workers. That's the kind of company KU is. And that's why you get more than kilowatt hours from KU. Here is your local KU representative and some indication of the many parts he plays as a "one-man band".
