by Sheila Carl

When Nicholas County has its first game of the season at Tollesboro, Friday, the crowd will be seeing Nicholas County's new cheerleading outfits. They are royal blue sweaters with Nicholas County's emblem, white bars on the sleeves and navy pleated skirts with white kick pleats.

The new cheerleaders at Nicholas County high school are Judy Whitaker, Jeanne Vaughn, Betty Wood and Sandra Cooper. Bonnie Whitaker and Sherill Craig have returned as senior cheerleaders.

Mrs Glenn Clay is the sponsor of the cheerleaders.

"The faculty and student body should be proud of the new uniforms," said Charles Wilson, principal.

Last year's cheerleaders who were Sue Irvin, Nancy Mattox, Bonnie Whitaker, Sherill Craig, Carol Faye Tincher, and June Smith wore white sweaters with navy skirts which had white lining.

tive vote would mean withdrawal of all regional library facilities now operating in Nicholas County on a demonstration basis."

Therefore, passage of the library tax would allow the County to keep its $7,500 Bookmobile and the $6,000 worth of books it contains. The County would also retain all of the regional library books worth $5,000.

Added to this would be approximately $7,000 a year in revenue from the tax itself This money would be used exclusively in Nicholas County for a better Bookmobile and library program with more books, longer library hours and more deposit stations.

With the passage of the library tax the Nicholas County Library would become the Nicholas County Regional Library with headquarters in Carlisle. Probable participating counties would be: Harrison, Bath, Fleming, Clark and Robertson.

A Statement To City Voters

In filing on the City Council Ticket alone, I did so in order to avoid any feeling that I was opposing or supporting either Candidate in the Mayors race, or candidates on the Council Tickets, as I consider they are all my friends. In fairness to both tickets I felt that I should make known this fact.

I appreciate very much that the voters of the City of Carlisle have honored me by selecting me as a Councilman for about a quarter of a century and may I express my thanks to all for this continued support, given me all these years.

Sincerely,
W. G. HARPER
