and get rid of them. Proper clean-up, plus continued use of a good bait should go far toward ridding your place of rats.

From Agnes Miedel, Scottdale, Pa.: I can remember the winter evenings, the family and neighborhood children would gather around the player piano in the old fashioned parlor. The four walls of the parlor, top of the piano, lined with heavy gold edge brass frames encasing the pictures of ancestors. There was Grandma, with a sharp twinkle in her eye, piercing through your soul, wearing a high pompadour hairdo; Grandpa with a mischievous smile, lined with a bicycle handled mustache, making our modern "beatnike" look obsolete. Cousin Lillie's wedding picture resting inside of the piano bench would hastily be placed on the library table upon her visit.

The children would take turns tramping the pedal, sitting erect, stretching their vocal chords to the last soprano tune, dashes and dots of piano roll, rolled before our eyes, the words along the side for us to sing. This concert of "Happy Days Are Here Again" and "Among My Souvenirs" would last for hours.

Before the children returned to their homes, hot chocolate with homemade cinnamon buns and cookies would be served in Ma's old-fashioned kitchen, with the pitcher pump trimming the edge of the sink bringing fresh, unchemicalized spring water out the spout.

No rushing to motor cars to the town's newest "Pizza Shop" in those days. An extra shovel of coal was added to the coal stove that was neglected during the socializing. All departed after refreshments, promising to return soon. Those were the old days—when you furnished your own entertainment.

If gum were to get into your carburetor, it could lead to unexpected repairs like this. One of the nine ingredients in today's Super Shell fights gum to give you top performance.

ANCIENT HISTORY:

Gasoline gum used to cause unexpected repair bills. Today, one of Super Shell's 9 ingredients fights off gum —to save you money and give you top performance.

The gum preventive in today's Super Shell is so powerful that one thousandth of an ounce is enough to treat a gallon. Read how this "chemical policeman" works.

THE MECHANIC in our photograph is about to go to work on a gummed-up carburetor. A nice little repair job.

But to Shell scientists, gummed-up carburetors are ancient history.

And so are other gum troubles. Such as sticky intake valves. And fouled automatic chokes. Here's why:

1. Shell uses refining processes that hold certain gum-forming gasoline components to a minimum.

2. Shell guards all tanks, pipes, and trucks against dirt and other gum-forming contaminants.

3. Shell includes a powerful gum preventive in Super Shell's nine-ingredient formula.

"Chemical cop" at work

The gum preventive in Super Shell is so effective that a thousandth of an ounce is enough to treat a whole gallon of gasoline.

This remarkable ingredient has been described as a "chemical policeman." It helps to keep unstable elements in gasoline from sticking together—the way a skilled policeman prevents trouble by keeping a crowd from forming.

Hot Weather Blend

For a quick run-down on the other eight ingredients in today's Super Shell, see box at right.

And for top performance all summer, keep your tank filled with Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend. It's specially formulated to fight engine flooding and other hot weather troubles. At Shell stations now.

Here are the 9 ingredients in Super Shell—and what they do to give your car top performance

#1 is TCP*—for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
#2 is Pentane mix—for fast warm-ups.
#3 is anti-knock mix—for knock resistance.
#4 is Alkylate to control "high-speed knock."
#5 is Butane—for quick starts.
#6 is "cat-cracked" gasoline—for power.
#7 is an "anti-icer." Added when cold weather sets in.
#8 is gum preventive—for clean carburetors.
#9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U. S. Patent 2650212.
