Letter to County Attorney explains budget story error run last week

(Editor's Note: The following letter explains a story published last week in which it appeared the county had exceeded its budget).

Auditor of Public Accounts
Frankfort, Kentucky
October 27, 1961

Mr. Charles Cox,
Nicholas County Attorney
Carlisle, Kentucky
Dear Mr. Cox:

I wish that you would inform the fiscal court of the following facts. Normally this would not be necessary. However, in view of radio broadcasts and newspaper releases I believe an explanation is in order.

The Nicholas County current year receipts exceeded the expenditures by $6,812.72. The deficit is listed as $26,763.09 as of June 30, 1961. However, $6,000 of this is Road and Bridge Bonds and $24,445.11 is Hospital Refunding Bonds. Both of these bond issues will be completely retired in 1966 and unless a new indebtedness is taken on between now and 1966 the county will be debt free then. After three more annual payments are made on these bonds the county should be out of the deficit column and begining to build surplus. At the present time it is the Hospital Bonds outstanding which are creating the deficit for the county.

When it is told that the budget appropriation was $142,024 and the expenditures were $167, 827.92 thereby causing a $25,803.92 deficit balance in the budget it also should be noted that $20,000 in budget was to repay any money borrowed during the fiscal year to pay current operating expenses before tax money was due to come in. Therefore, the Budget Commission only anticipated $122,-024.00 as current year revenue. The actual current year revenue was $122,956.50; therefore the actual revenue was in excess of that anticipated by $932.50.

When taking into consideration that the county took on $139,000 in Hospital Bonds in 1951 and has thus far paid $92,000 of this off, and also at the present time has a balance of $19,722.72 deposited with the State Local Finance Officer to apply to future payments on the balance, they have done remarkably well.

In considering the future financial outlook for the county the picture appears good. If the present rate of receipts and expenditures are maintained and after three more annual payments which will retire the Hospital Bonds the county should then begin having an annual surplus increase of about $12,-000 per year.

Sincerely yours,
George T. Stewart,
Executive Assistant

During the half-time ceremonies the Morehead State College band, under the direction of Fred Marzan, joined the bands and majorette forming a base viol and played three marches, one featuring the majorettes.

The band show which began at 12:15 p.m. featured each band doing a show under the direction of their own director.

DEVELOPMENT MEETING TONIGHT (THURSDAY)

The Nicholas County Development Corporation will hold their regular meeting night at 7:30 at the court house. The last tract of land to be acquired will be purchased this week and the deed recorded. With this accomplished the Highway Department in Frankfort will be notified to proceed with the letting of the contract to build the dams, immediately.

Vote yes library plea

Frankfort, Nov.—An affirmative vote Nov. 7 on the proposed special library tax will be worth at least $21,400 to Nicholas County, according to information released by the Library Extension Division in Frankfort.

Further regional library expansion in the Nicholas County area could mean that the library tax would be worth as much as $48,000 to the county.

"This sum will not be a cash grant only," said Miss Margaret Willis, director of the Library Extension Division. "It also represents the value of the materials and equipment already provided by the Library Extension Division plus new material and expanded services which will be provided if the vote is favorable."

Miss Willis pointed out that increased County support resulting from passage of the library tax would qualify Nicholas County to become a regional library headquarters supported with State funds.

Therefore, if a new regional library district were established with Nicholas County as the headquarters, the County would receive an additional $25,000 annually plus an initial $1,600 investment in equipment such as typewriters, record players, film projectors etc.

The $25,000 would be broken down into $12,000 yearly for the salary of a regional library staff, $12,000 yearly for new regional library books and $1,00 a year for records, film programs, magazines, framed paintings etc.

Nicholas County now receives $800 in a State aid cash grant plus $1,100 worth of new Bookmobile books each year. County support now amounts to $1,585 per year.

Even if a new library region were not established, passage of the library tax would up the yearly State aid grant to $1,800 and insure continuance of the $1,100 worth of new Bookmobile books each year.

"Under the provisions of Kentucky's regional library program," Miss Willis said, "a

Tobacco Festival program is outlined

4-H Fund Drive progresses

The 4-H Camp Fund Drive is rapidly being extended to all areas of the county. A fund raising organization is being arranged in the several communities of the County, Harvey Wagoner, Chairman, of the fund drive said this week. East Union reports through Chairman, Glenn Clay, that their group is now ready for action.

The East Union workers with the area to be completed is as follows: Raymond House and James Barnes will work the East Union and Concord roads from Blair Stephenson's to Carlisle & the Concord road to Carlisle. Roland Boyd and Edward Hatton the Upper and Lower East Union-Sharpsburg road. Beryl Workman and Glenn Clay, the Somerset road and Burns road from Bourbon County to the Whetstone road.

The Moorefield community under the chairmanship of Mrs. Glenn Hardin was completed and luged last week. The Parks community, with Harold Letton heading the drive, held their community meeting this past week. Traffic Safety program at NCHS Nov. 8

Students at Nicholas County high school will have front row seats Nov. 8 at 1:30 p.m. when some of their classmates learn the facts of life-on-the-highways.

Charles Wilson, principal said the event will be in the nature of a test-demonstration, designed to disprove the old notion that a car can be "stopped on a dime."

Two students, a faculty member and a policeman will take turns at the wheel of a specially equipped car—and they'll bring it to an emergency stop while traveling at 20, 30, or 40 miles an hour. Other students will check the results.

The car is equipped so that distances can be measured accurately. An emergency signal light is mounted on the front of the car and three pistols are fastened to the front bumper. Aimed straight at the pavement, the pistols fire bullets of yellow paint which mark points at which the driver (1) sees the signal, (2) slams on the brakes, and (3) stops the car.

The automobile is supplied by Nationwide Insurance. A safety engineer for the firm will ride beside the driver and operate the equipment. Nationwide engineers have staged similar Traffic Safety Education programs before more than 5,000

G. C. Townsend robbed Sunday

A masked man Sunday morning slugged and robbed a retired Carlisle merchant as he entered his barn.

G. C. Townsend told officers his assailant struck him on the back of his head and took his billfold and change from his pocket. Townsend said the billfold contained approximately $40.

Sheriff John Anderson said the robber apparently hit Townsend with a tobacco stick. Although Townsend was knocked unconscious by the blow, he was not seriously injured.

Townsend's farm is located at the outskirts of Carlisle on the East Union Pike.
