ARTHUR CURTIS PRAISES DEPARTMENT OF FISH AND WILDLIFE RESOURCES

Frankfort, Ky.—No other Department of any state government has accomplished more on a declining budget than has the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, according to Arthur Curtis, president of the Lexington Sportsmen Association, on behalf of the Lexington sportsmen, in remarks delivered before Commissioner Curtis in session Monday at the Department's office here.

Curtis was also high in his praise for the Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission. He pointed out that selection of commissioners on a non-political basis is a method used in many other states. Additionally, Kentucky, by having the present five commissioners selected by the sportsmen of the area in order to be placed on the eligible list from which the Governor makes a selection, names only the more highly respected businessmen. Through this sportsmen selection the commissioners are not named because of any activities for any one political faction, Curtis added.

While the commissioners are selected on a regional basis, Curtis said members have almost invariably served the entire service from a statewide standpoint and have worked for the good of the state as a whole. They have not exploited the district reorganization in this system any more than would be possible under any other system of appointments.

In addressing the Commission Curtis pointed out again that although the sale of hunting and fishing licenses is far from which finances for the Department are obtained, has declined, progress has continued and through the lean years and new projects have been initiated and carried out to completion. This has been accomplished through streamlining of programs, better planning and management, even with re-ioned sportsmen clubs that direct personnel. Curtis point are equipped to rear them out and the overall handicance practices of the Department has been solidified during the past few years. Curtis declared that through frugal use of funds the Department has been able to pay off most of a million dollar committed indebtedness inherited in 1956, which included among others, the construction of four major lakes, maintenance of 26 state parks, covered bridges, and the Ballard County Waterfowl Management Area, construction of previously committed flood dams while at the same time carrying out old projects and initiating new ones. One of the new projects highly praised by Curtis was that of producing quail in the dead of winter. The quail are produced are apparent success, after planning, care and management.

Milady's Memos

BY HELEN HALE

Take it Easy in the House.

Going away from home housedress? Wrap lightly in waxed paper and slip into an empty butter carton so they won't crush or dry.

Place some waxed paper underneath lace trimmings and iron over it to make it crisp. This is better than starching.

When dish towels start to wear, sew two together in quilted fashion, and one towel will last longer than the two that were used.

On rainy days when children are in and out, place newspapers at the entrances of the house to save clean-up. A bag made from which you remove three or four thicknesses of paper will last a whole day and keep the house clean.

Helen's Favorite

Chewy Almond Squares
(Makes 16 2-inch)

¼ cup butter
2 cups miniature marshmallows
Dash of salt
2 cups crisp rice cereal
1 6-ounce package chocolate chips
½ cup slivered blanched almonds

Combine butter, marshmallows and salt in top of double boiler. Heat until marshmallows melt; stir mixture to smooth. Combine cereal, chocolate pieces, and almonds in large bowl; add marshmallow mixture and stir well. Press into greased 8-inch pan. Cool. Cut in squares to serve.

Paper cups from which bottoms have been cut make good disposable funnels for pouring paint from one container to another.

Keep a small rubber mat in a drawer for cutting cookies, pastry and waxy things.

Tie two pencils together, but use the ends to mend with.

PRESCRIPTION PRICES

How are prescription prices determined? We have a policy in this matter, the only one we can follow. We do not offer bargains in prescriptions — there is no cut-rate way to health. Nor do we pretend to under-sell. Prescription prices simply are determined by the cost of the ingredients and operating expense. The prices we charge are as low as satisfactory service and effective drugs will allow.
