FARM BUREAU in Action

Kentucky Farm Bureau Fed.

Who Would Get "Medicare"?

by J. E. STANFORD

Farm Bureau cares carefully and conscientiously for both sides of any question before deciding to support or oppose it. Such has been the case with the Kerr-Mills bill, including how it would affect the Social Security program. Farm Bureau has not supported the Kerr-Mills bill as it now stands. Farm Bureau's position is that the bill is not needed, that it is unsound, and that it would be unfair to the taxpayers.

Farm Bureau opposes the King-Anderson Bill follow:

1. It is unfair to people over 65 because it may not cover all who may need care. It covers only those under Social Security and covers all under Social Security regardless of whether or not they need it.

2. The Kerr-Mills Bill, passed by Congress only two years ago, should be given a fair chance to meet the needs of the aged before it is discarded. This measure provides for the care of all who really need medical or hospital care and none for those who do not need it.

3. Only those who pay Social Security will pay taxes for "medicare" under the King-Anderson Bill, while all taxpayers will pay for it under the Kerr-Mills Bill. The need for the pending bill is declared by its backers as a national emergency. Then, if it is, it should be paid for by all taxpayers.

4. There is a national obligation to make sure that no needy person shall lack medical and nursing care. All should be taxed alike to pay for this, and it should be administered at the local level as nearly as possible. If the Kerr-Mills law, already in effect, fails to meet this goal, then amend it as may be necessary, instead of destroying it.
