Warner Lowe, top winner in tobacco contest

The Carlisle Mercury Christmas art contest is open to children in the Nicholas County elementary schools and the Carlisle City School from the first through the fourth grades. The contest will give the children an opportunity to show their hand at drawing and to give them an interest during the pre-Christmas period.

It is hoped that teachers and parents will encourage any child to enter the contest between now and December 1. There will be 8 prizes awarded to the children, with the eight best $5.00, second $3.00 and five one-dollar prizes.

Warner Lowe of Nicholas County won the best copy and best handled corner awards.

Division winners were: Pliny—Jimmy Judge, Carl Hughes, Jack Hostetter, Harold McClanahan and Lowe.

Lags—Danny Holtz, George House, Walter Shepherd, Hostetter and Judge.

Next week the Carlisle Mercury will come to you one day later due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

The staff of the Mercury wishes for each one a peaceful and happy holiday.

SCHOOL MEMBERS ELECTED
 Vernon Craig defeated R. M. Hildreth for membership on the Nicholas County Board of Education from District 2 in last Tuesday's general election. Craig received 147 votes and Hildreth, 117.

Russell S. Willis was unopposed in District 3, and Robert Cooney and Marion Sims were elected to the Carlisle Board of Education with most opposition.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME

 IN HOSPITAL

Police Judge, Ben J. Alexander of Eastern avenue, entered the Central Baptist hospital Lexington, Sunday and Monday submitted to surgery. Mrs. Alexander is with his sister, Mrs. Frank Buchanan, of Lexington, during his illness, and Mrs. Alexander's sister, Miss Lida Henry, who has been an invalid in her home for many years, has been moved to the Virginia Rest Home in Paris.

Nicholas debators win

Edward Taylor and Ralph Wesley, members of the Nicholas County high school debate team, won the championship debate trophy in the Mason-Dixon Speech Tournament held Saturday at Henry County high school. The Nicholas County team defeated the Henry Clay High, Lexington, 4-1.

Approximately 50 students from Indiana and Kentucky competed in this tournament sponsored by the Henry County Lions Club and the Henry County Speech Club.

The Nicholas team advanced to semi-finals by defeating Clarksville, Kentucky, in the first round of the tournament and Tennessee in the second round.

The Nicholas team won a unanimous decision from the three judges over Henry Clay, defeating them by 45 speakers' points. Each team elected John Sharp, enterer of the Hiram division of the tournament, losing to Bowling Green by one point winning over an opponent of Louisville and losing to the A-team of Bowling Green by one point.

Henry Clay defeated St. Xavier, in the opposite bracket of the semi-finals, clashed with Nicholas in the finals with Taylor and Wesley taking the affirmative in this debate. Ed Ockerman and Dan Wilker debated for Henry Clay and Wesley for the first place in the Ohio University Debate Tournament in July.

The Nicholas County Debate Team was quickly eliminated at 7 o'clock Friday night, Nov. 30 at the club house on the Hickory Ridge road. Rabbit supper will be served at 7 o'clock.

Mr. Taylor and Mr. Wesley tied for first place in the Ohio University Debate Tournament in July.
